WHAT PEOPLE THINK

of Beecham's Pills is well expressed in the ever popular phrase—coined by one who had derived great benefit from this medicine—"Worth a Guinea a Box." It represents really what people in thousands think about Beecham's Pills. Public opinion has great weight with most people. Those who appreciate the fact that Beecham's Pills have secured universal approval will be disposed to give them a trial. There will be no disappointment—Beecham's Pills will justify the confidence placed in them.

Few medicines can boast

such a record few can claim to have given such unqualified satisfaction, as Beecham's Pills. Prepared from the purest and most carefully selected ingredients, this remedy will be found of the greatest service in cases of dyspeptic trouble. Beecham's Pills relieve and remove biliousness, constipation, acidity, sick headache, flatulence and other ailments of a like nature. They also will be found of service to those who value a clear complexion, for they exercise a very purifying influence upon the blood. Those who have used them recommend them. What people think about them is evident enough from the enormous sale of

BEECHAM'S PILLS.

Sold everywhere in boxes, Price 1/1½ (56 pills) and 2/9 (168 pills).

MISCELLANEOUS.

GIBSOL HEROIC SERIES.

No. 1—CUCHULAIN

(Pronounced Coo-hoo-lan)

The Hound of the North.

When Cuchulain took his name the Druid Cathba foretold that the name would be remembered for ever. As a child he came to the Court of King Cuchabar. As a boy he took arms and performed many feats. As a young man, alone, he held the passes of Ulster against the invading hosts. For nearly 2,000 years his name has been remembered as the great hero fighter of the North. Without doubt his name will be remembered in Ireland for ever.

GIBSOL

was discovered by Mr. Gibson in Limerick. It combines the ancient herbal treatment used long ago with modern medical tests of healing. When it was little known it performed wonderful feats of healing. Alone it has often defied the attacking hosts of skin disease. After 30 years that name is known throughout the length and breadth of Ireland. Remember that name Gibsol. It will be remembered for ever.

To be used for:—
Eczema, Ringworm, Piles, Itching, Bad Legs, Cuts, Sores, Burns, etc., and as a general antiseptic and healing dressing.

Of all Chemists, 1/3, or post free from the Manufacturers, J. Gibson & Co., Clare Lane, Dublin.

THE MEDIAEVAL MIND IN MUSIC.

"The Mediæval Mind in Music" was the subject of an interesting lecture delivered yesterday afternoon by Dr. Terry, organist of Westminster Cathedral, in the Lecture Theatre, Royal Dublin Society, in the presence of a large audience.

The lecturer pointed out the change which had taken place in the minds of literary men in regard to mediæval times. The idea of the man in the street was confined to the opinion that about that period the rulers were oppressors and the people were slaves, and the expression "mediævalism" was used to express contempt and contumely. It was true that the conditions were not conducive to learning in comfort as they were to-day, but the people were always looking for something noble in life. It had been a custom to sneer at mediæval music, and what critics termed "the stupid monkish adherence to proportions." He had been called on to study the music of one of the most modern of the Russian composers who was praised for his revolutionary originality and complexity, but judge his surprise to find that this composer adhered to the monkish proportions. History repeated itself, and they were harking back to the mediæval principles. The mediæval mind did not shrink from conclusions when it was satisfied with the premises. After describing some of the features of Gregorian music, the lecturer referred to the different types of the music of the troubadours, and wondered how many people would distinguish between some of the troubadours' songs and a Gregorian chant, not knowing the words. As the ages went on, manners and customs altered, but the emotions never changed. They owed a debt of gratitude to those masters who had given them the music in mediæval times, from which their modern music was evolved. They were men who conceived original ideas, and had a sublime confidence in the future.

The lecturer illustrated his remarks by playing selections on the piano. A small choir, under the direction of Miss Culwick sang an early Benedictus and some madrigals of the sixteenth century.

ROYAL DUBLIN SOCIETY.

COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

A meeting of the Committee of Agriculture of the Royal Dublin Society was held in the Boardroom at the Showyard, Ballsbridge, on Thursday, Captain J. H. Greer, D.L., in the chair. Also present:—E. J. Beaumont-Nesbitt, H.M.L. (Vice-President); Harry Franks, J.P.; Major R. W. Doyne, D.L.; N. F. Archdale, D. R. Pack-Beresford, C.B.E., D.L.; Sir Algernon Coote, Bart., H.M.L.; Lieutenant-Colonel R. St. Leger Moore, C.B., D.L.; R. W. Hall-Dare, D.L.; H. Bruen, D.L.; James S. Gordon, B.Sc.; J. R. Campbell, B.Sc.

It was resolved that in future the Society's annual show and sale of pure-bred bulls should be held on the first Tuesday and Wednesday in the month of March. According to this arrangement the show and sale for 1921 will be held on the 1st and 2nd of March of that year.

The question of holding an autumn sale of female cattle this year was under consideration, and the Agricultural Superintendent was instructed to communicate with breeders, with a view of ascertaining the amount of support that would be forthcoming in the event of the Society deciding to hold a sale on the day after Cookstown (September 16th).

LECTURES IN HORTICULTURE AND POULTRY-KEEPING.

The Royal College of Science for Ireland announces to-day that special courses of lectures on horticulture and poultry-keeping will be delivered in the College during March and April. The lectures on horticulture will deal fully with the cultivation of the soil, manures and manuring; the special cultural requirements of the commoner vegetables and treatment when attacked by fungoid or insect pests; the cultivation of fruit, flowers, and shrubs; the planting, pruning, and spraying of tree and bush fruits, their insect and fungoid enemies. The lectures on poultry-keeping will deal with all the phases of the industry, among others the hatching and rearing of chickens, the breeding and management of stock, housing and feeding for egg production. Full particulars will be found in our advertising columns.

HIBERNIAN BAND OF HOPE UNION.

The usual monthly meeting of the Executive Committee was held in 33 Molesworth street on Tuesday. The chair was occupied by Mr. F. T. Eason, and there were also present:—Miss L. M. Burns, Professor G. H. Carpenter, D.Sc.; Messrs. W. R. Wigham, G. Grandy, G. Elliott, J.P.; W. Chiddick, E. S. Mason, Rev. H. G. Forde, and the Secretary. Apologies were received from Miss Pemberton, Rev. H. G. Waddell, Messrs. A. E. Brunton, J. Marshall Butler, J.P.; and J. A. Davis.

A circular letter was prepared to be sent out to the clergy and Band of Hope secretaries, with a view to interest in the work of the Union and obtaining increased financial support.

Messrs. F. T. Eason, G. W. Dench, J.P., and W. Maitland, B.A., were appointed representatives of the Union on the Council of the United Kingdom Band of Hope Union.

After a full discussion, and careful consideration, it was decided not to hold a May Day Festival this year, as there was no hall available.

ALLEGED LARCENY OF LEAD.

Before Mr. Swifte, K.C., in the Southern Police Court, Dublin, yesterday, Edward Bryan, a carter, was charged, on remand, with stealing two kegs of white lead, valued at £10, the property of the British and Irish Steampacket Company, and John Whelan, contractor, Clanbrassil street, was charged with having received the lead.

Mr. E. H. Burne, solicitor, appeared for the prosecution; Mr. James Brady, solicitor, for John Whelan, and Mr. Corrigan, solicitor, for Edward Bryan.

The evidence was that on the 26th February Bryan and an employé of the company, who accompanied him, left with a load, part of which contained two kegs of white lead, at 11 o'clock. Bryan sent the other man for his dinner, the kegs being then on the lorry, and when this man met Bryan at the stables the kegs were not on the van. The kegs were subsequently found in the premises of John Whelan. Bryan, it was stated by a police witness, said that he left the stuff in Mr. Whelan's store. Mr. Whelan said that he knew nothing about it.

Mr. Whelan's son stated that he opened the back gate of the store for a man who asked him to open it, and that the man rolled in the kegs, and left them there, covered with a sack.

Mr. Brady said that it was a scandal that his client, who was a respectable contractor in the city, should be charged there upon such flimsy evidence.

The defendants were returned for trial to the City Sessions, and were allowed out on bail.

J.B.
Side Spring
Corsets

Before you consider the purchase of Corsets as the all important foundation for the New Spring Dresses, it will interest you to see the SPECIAL DISPLAY we are making just now of the celebrated J.B. Side Spring Corsets.

J.B. Corsets maintain pre-war quality, are available in many styles and sizes for varying figures, an the range of prices is so great that you can hardly fail to find the model to suit you at the price you want to pay.

Model 322.
For average figures, low bust, long hips, cut-away front.
Price ... 12/11

See the initials "J.B." inside every pair.

Appearance

Appearances are by no means deceptive to those who know how to read them, and it is of real importance to you, no matter who you are, to create the right impression. It is not merely the clothes you wear, it is the way you wear them, your bearing and carriage . .

And it is just here that corsetry comes in. A good corset knits together a loose figure, or gently confines an over-plump one, affording the best possible foundation for an harmonious dress plan. And of all good corsets, J.B.s are the best.

Model 1115.
Front laced Corset gives complete front control in adjustment
Cosy comfortable back line, obviating the unsightly broad appearance across the lower back.
25/11

Model 306.
For average figures, low bust, long hips, cut-away front.
Price ... 15/11

SYMMETRY

Beauty and grace are universally admired and desired. The first essentials of beauty and grace are proportion and symmetry, but there are very few figures which can claim perfection in these respects. Some are rather over-plump, some unduly angular, some inclined to looseness. Whatever the fault, there is a J.B. Corset which will correct it, and in a manner wholly in accord with our modern insistence on comfort and hygiene.

The Irish Times.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1920.

Yesterday afternoon the Supreme Council considered the future of Bessarabia, Hungarian observations on the Treaty, and questions of high prices and exchange. The Peace Conference proper stands adjourned, but the Foreign Ministers will continue to meet in an endeavour to settle the Turkish Treaty and the outstanding points of the Hungarian Treaty.

Mr. Bonar Law, in the House of Commons yesterday, stated that the Government intended to introduce a bill for the completion of land purchase in Ireland, which would be passed concurrently with the Government of Ireland Bill. They hoped to take the second reading of the Government of Ireland Bill before Easter.

In connection with the recent issue of 5¾ per cent. Exchequer Bonds, Mr. Chamberlain, in the House of Commons yesterday, announced that £99,000,000 had been converted, and the cash subscriptions amounted to £60,000,000. There would, therefore, be a total of not less than £160,000,000 available, out of £198,200,000 Exchequer Bonds accruing due in the current financial year.

A Post Office mail van was held up in Dublin yesterday morning by armed and masked men, who ripped open the mail bags and escaped with the contents, which included, it is stated, correspondence intended for delivery to various departments in Dublin Castle.

An inquest was held yesterday on the man who was found shot at Glasnevin on Tuesday evening. A porter at the Granville Hotel identified him as a man named Jameson, who was staying at the hotel for the third time since Christmas. Nothing was known about him. The body bore numerous tattooed designs. The jury returned a verdict of murder against some person or persons unknown.

Mr. Frank Shawe-Taylor, a well-known landlord in the County Galway, was yesterday morning shot dead near his residence, Moorfield, Athenry, while driving to Galway Fair. His chauffeur was wounded at the same time. Mr. Taylor was a brother of the late Captain Shawe-Taylor.

On Tuesday evening fifteen armed men made prisoners of the Station Master and porter at Kincasslagh Railway Station, County Donegal, after which they smashed the telegraph instruments and cut the wires. On the arrival of a train from Derry two men held up the driver with revolvers, while the remainder of the party ransacked the goods and the passengers' luggage, evidently in search of a consignment of munitions. Nothing was found.

The London Stock Markets had a very irregular session yesterday, but the close had a firmer appearance, and the tone was harder. Some leading prices improved. Money was in good supply, and loans did not range over 4½ per cent., with balances at 2½ per cent. Discount rates were hardly so firm. In Dublin the market was very weak, but there were signs of a change in the tone. Dublin and Kingstown Stock fell to par.

The Executive and Crime.

The murder of Mrs. Morris at Enniscorthy seemed for the moment to have stayed the wave of crime in Ireland. Its character and circumstances provoked a real expression of national horror. Men dared to hope that the country was roused at last, that the pleadings of the Church had begun to be effective, and that murder and outrage would cease because they could be committed no longer with impunity. That hope, we fear, was vain. The assassin's hand is still active. Politics is now an excuse for so many sins against God and man that the true motives of some of the crimes which we report from day to day are obscure. During the present week a soldier has been murdered at Cork, and a daylight assassination has occurred in a quiet suburb of Dublin. We report to-day the brutal murder of Mr. Frank Shawe-Taylor, a well-known landlord in the West of Ireland. His only offence seems to have been either that he had refused to give land to men who wanted it or that he had given it to others who had served their King in the great war. A fresh chapter will have been opened in the story of Ireland's progress towards perdition if the foulest passions of the Land League days are to be imported into the campaign against British authority in this country. Yesterday also the Executive suffered a new defeat at the hands of the clever and daring leaders of sedition who have set their wits against its own. The mail-van which carries official correspondence from the Rotunda Post Office to Dublin Castle was "held up" by armed men and all the bags were stolen. They are said to have contained letters for the Lord Lieutenant's, Chief Secretary's, and Under-Secretary's offices, for police headquarters, and for other departments of the Government. It seems to have been a truly inclusive haul, and it has dealt a most untimely blow at the Executive's prestige.

Some weeks ago a motor car containing two British officers was "held up" in the streets of Dublin, and now we have this still more serious incident of the Castle mail-bags. A great soldier said that the business of generalship was to find out "what the other fellow was thinking." Has the Irish Government tried to apply this maxim to its conflict with Republicanism? The designers of the recent coups have given ample proof of their intelligence, audacity, and resource. They are well aware that the best way to discredit an enemy in this country is to make him appear stupid or ridiculous. They realise that, while the Government usually has a reasonable defence for its failure to detect and punish murder, it cannot easily defend its failure to take the ordinary precautions of guerilla warfare. The two officers were "held up" on the day when Mr. Barton was being taken to prison—probably in mistake for him—yet they were unarmed. Mr. Winston Churchill, speaking in the House of Commons, did not conceal his surprise at this fact. Recently an official mail-bag was taken from a policeman in Cork. The Executive had fair warning, therefore, that its adversaries were "out for" mail-bags. They would have two obvious motives for capturing the most sacrosanct of all mail-bags—the prospect of getting important information about the enemy's plans and the fame of the achievement. Yet the Castle correspondence was despatched yesterday—and, no doubt, on many previous days—in a one-horse van, which was occupied only by an unarmed driver and an unarmed postal servant. Of course, it ought to have been guarded by some of the soldiers who afterwards made fruitless searches for the missing letters. When will the Executive realise that not merely the probable, but even the unlikely, ought to be foreseen, and that brains must be opposed by brains? So long as it is deficient in this department, not all the physical resources of the British Crown will be able to save it from discomfiture.

To-day two Irish Governments are in the public eye—that which exists and that which lies within the four corners of the Home Rule Bill. While the Cabinet enjoys its happy and futile dreams about the one, what is becoming of the other? The Irish Post Office is a "reserved service" under the Home Rule Bill. What is its actual state, and, if matters continue to go from bad to worse, will any Irish Post Office remain to be "reserved" if and when the Bill comes into force? On the day when the "Curfew" Order was applied in Dublin the Post Office ceased to deliver telegrams between the hours of midnight and five o'clock a.m. In other words, it abdicated an important part of its functions. The Secretary in Dublin merely shrugged his shoulders and confessed himself helpless. The same humiliating confession was made by the Postmaster-General in the House of Commons. The telegraph messengers had refused to deliver the telegrams "in view of the risk involved." "In the circumstances" Mr. Illingworth "did not think it reasonable to ask them to do so," and "there was, therefore, no alternative but to suspend the ordinary service." Now it appears that a risk is involved not merely in the delivery of midnight messages to newspapers, but even in the daylight delivery of official correspondence to the seat of Irish administration. In other words, while the Home Rule Bill talks solemnly of services "reserved till the date of Irish union," the date of a serious collapse of the Irish Post Office seems to be approaching with uncomfortable speed. The Republican movement, sublimely indifferent to the Cabinet's visions, pursues its task of making Ireland ungovernable by British power. In such circumstances surely it is the business of British statesmen to face the facts? It is fatal folly to waste time over a measure which Ireland rejects and which, if enforced, will serve only to turn confusion into chaos. The Cabinet's plain and urgent duty to Ireland to-day is the maintenance of the normal functions of civilised government.

The New Bonds.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in answer to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, described the result of the recent issue of Exchequer Bonds as "most satisfactory." It was much better, he declared, than he had hoped or his qualified advisers thought possible. The object of this issue—the lists of which closed on Saturday—was to fund three series of existing bonds, and holders of these which mature during the present year were given the right to convert their scrip. Altogether £198,200,000 of Exchequer Bonds mature this year. The result of the new issue shows that £99,000,000 have been converted, and, although Mr. Chamberlain was unable to give the exact amount of cash subscriptions, he assured the House that it would be found to exceed £60,000,000. Thus a total sum of about £160,000,000, at 5¾ per cent., has been subscribed towards the funding of £198,200,000 worth of bonds. £138,500,000 are being allotted towards the £156,400,000 which were due to mature in February and March, and £21,500,000 towards the £46,800,000 which will mature on December 1st. Consequently the Government will be forced to find over £38,000,000 to meet the deficiency. This will involve further additions to Ways and Means advances. Although Mr. Chamberlain is pleased with the result of the loan, it could have been much better. It would have been much better but for the fact that the Treasury has not the absolute confidence of the people. Investors will not subscribe their money to Government loans, even at 5¾ per cent., unless and until they are convinced that their money is being spent to the best advantage. At present no such conviction exists. In spite of the furious agitation of last autumn, in spite of Mr. Lloyd George's instructions to his Ministers, the public's money is still being squandered. Fortunately, revenue is coming in at an excellent rate, but a temporary embarras de richesses does not justify continued extravagance. On the contrary, it should encourage the Government to save. Every day brings evidence of some fresh extravagance. On Tuesday the House of Commons was informed that the housing of the British delegation at the Peace Conference had cost the taxpayers £220,000. If this sum be any criterion, the nation may expect a staggering bill from the Food Ministry which fed our delegates. Various excuses were advanced to explain the immensity of the expense. Sir Alfred Mond protested that "it would not have done for the British Government to have hidden itself in Montmartre." Unfortunately for the world, the Government was not so jealous of its prestige in other, and more important, respects. The Peace Treaty is a melancholy monument to inefficiency. Had the delegation been lodged in attics in the Quartier, it could hardly have set its seal to a worse instrument than the Treaty of Versailles. Be that as it may, if the Government is to avoid further borrowing—which it must avoid to avert ruin—it must put an end to extravagance and begin to save. The House of Commons will no longer sanction promiscuous profligacy. The nation will compel its steward to pay its way.

Hospital Finance.

All the big hospitals of the United Kingdom are in financial difficulties. Though there never were so many people clamouring at their doors for admission, there is a grave danger that several of the best-equipped institutions must close. The managements have reached the end of their resources, and a change in the system under which the hospitals are financed has become imperative. Only two courses are open. The hospitals must either fall back on State aid, and thus abandon the voluntary principle which has accomplished so much in the past, or meet the emergency by finding new sources of revenue. A Government grant would involve bureaucratic supervision of some kind, and, as experience in other directions has shown, that is an evil that should be avoided if possible. It would mean also a serious increase in the Government's demand upon the taxpayers, particularly the hard-pressed middle classes. To meet the most urgent needs of the London hospitals Lord Knutsford has devised what seems to be an eminently fair plan. He proposes that every in-patient, except those who are absolutely without means, shall be required to pay a weekly contribution of 1s. 6d. towards the cost of his food. The average working man is quite able to pay such a moderate charge for any member of his family who may need hospital treatment. It is proposed also that out-patients, who already pay for medicine and bandages, shall be asked in future to pay a small fee for the doctor's services. If Lord Knutsford's plan is adopted and works successfully, it is bound to have an important influence on the policy of hospitals outside London.

Coal Supplies.

Although ten days have elapsed since the Government promised to increase Ireland's supply of coal by 40,000 tons, there is no sign yet that steps have been taken to that end. The Shipping Controller blocks the way. Urgent messages have been addressed to him from various quarters, but the necessary tonnage has not been furnished. Meanwhile the country's plight is serious. Industrial concerns are living on their reserve stocks of fuel, and, unless these can be replenished quickly, many important establishments must close their doors. The situation is particularly grave in the North, where, owing to an unfortunate dispute at the Belfast docks, delivery of the limited supplies which can be shipped has been virtually suspended during the last fortnight. The coal-porters claimed that they should not be expected to begin work at 12 o'clock on Sunday nights, and went on strike when the employers refused to grant their demand. As a result residents in some of the small towns around Belfast are not merely short of coal, but are threatened with the loss of gas for lighting and heating purposes. All efforts to settle the strike have failed. The employers offered to attend a conference within a week if the men would return to work, but this offer was rejected. The men insist that the conference shall be held before they take up their tools again. The only hopeful feature is that both sides seem to be anxious for a conference.

COURT CIRCULAR.

VICEREGAL LODGE, DUBLIN.

WEDNESDAY.

The Lady Eva Wyndham Quin and Miss Wyndham Quin had the honour of being invited to dine with His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant at the Viceregal Lodge this evening.

THE BANKS' ARBITRATION.

The hearing of the Irish banks' arbitration was concluded at the old House of Lords, Bank of Ireland, Dublin, yesterday, when Mr. Swayne, K.C., addressed the arbitrators and umpire on behalf of the banks, and Mr. Whitaker, K.C., replied on behalf of the Bank Officials' Association.

On the opening of the proceedings it was announced by the directors that the banks would defray all the costs of the officials connected with the arbitration, for which Mr. Denroche expressed the appreciation of all those whom he represented.

The Royal Bank is not included in those concerned in the proceedings.

The Imperial Minister for Reconstruction (says a Berlin telegram) has completed the expropriation of German merchantmen of over 1,600 gross register tons, which are to be surrendered under the Peace Treaty. Herr Wilhelm Deiker, of Hamburg, has been charged with the carrying out of all the measures.

A Paris telegram, dated Wednesday, states:—Through the intermediary of the newspaper, Auto, the American boxer, Jeff Smith, at present in Paris, has challenged Carpentier to a boxing match of twenty or twenty-five rounds. He undertakes to hand over the whole of the purse which he receives to some war charity. Smith was beaten on points by Carpentier in 1913.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The general public has taken the announcement of a probable strike in the transport service with its usual calm. After the experiences of the railway strike last year it is felt that no attempt to hold up the community by a section of the workers, however important, is likely to succeed, and confidence is felt that, should the worst come to the worst, the Government will be found prepared with means to keep open the essential channels of communication.

It is easy to estimate the merits of the dispute. The demands made on behalf of the men do not, on the face of them, appear to be unreasonable as times go. Considering the responsible nature of the work and the sums paid nowadays to skilled artisans in other trades, the demand that the driver of a steam wagon in London should receive four guineas a week is not, for example, in any way outrageous.

The real difficulty is that, until the production of the country greatly increases, these successive rises in wages are not justified by the economic position as a whole, and only increase the cost of living to the rest of the community. No one would object to giving a carman the addition that he asks if it did not entail an increase in the severity of the struggle for life for every other soul in the community, and in no long time for himself also.

Many of the trade union leaders are trained economists, and know as well as anybody the working of "the vicious circle." Mr. Clynes, Mr. Thomas, and others have made excellent speeches on the subject. I wish that the leaders of some great trade union—say, the railwaymen or the coal-miners—could induce their members to try a self-sacrificing experiment, and ask for a reduction instead of a rise in their rate of pay. Of course, they would have to be given an absolute guarantee that the savings effected in the wage bill should be devoted entirely to reducing the cost to the consumers, themselves included. But, if it could be done—I hope I am not absolutely idealistic—I believe that the effect would be magical, and that in a few months' time their real wages, as measured in goods and services, would have risen in much greater proportion than their nominal wages had declined.

The House of Commons, though well filled, was very quiet all through the question hour to-day. Points of general interest were few and far between, and members began to get more than a little bored. Several members made representation to the Minister of Health concerning the housing question and the outrageous rents now being charged for entry into flats and houses. Dr. Addison recognised the necessity of haste, and promised the utmost expedition in getting a report on this matter.

In reply to Major O'Neill it was stated by Mr. Bonar Law that it was the intention of the Government to introduce a Bill for the completion of land purchase in Ireland. With regard to the point whether the office of Chief Secretary would be retained under the Home Rule Bill, and what would be done in the case of constituencies returning two members, Mr. Bonar Law stated that these were matters that must be dealt with in debate. Captain Redmond asked whether the Government had, or had not, made up its mind whether there was to be a Chief Secretary or not, only to be reminded of what happened during the debate on the preceding Bill with regard to the same point.

Mr. Bonar Law stated this afternoon that it was hoped that the second reading of the Home Rule Bill might be taken before Easter. It is said in the Lobby that the possible date is Monday, March 22nd, and that the Bill will be inaugurated with a speech by the Prime Minister.

Sir E. Carson and his followers of the Ulster Unionist representation have gone to Ireland in order to counsel their followers on the attitude to be adopted in Parliament towards the Home Rule Bill. The conferences begin with a meeting to-morrow of the Standing Committee of the Ulster Unionist Council. This will be followed by meetings of the Council itself, and subsequently conferences in different parts of the province outside Belfast. Assertions, such as have been heard of late, that the decision will be in favour of acceptance, are based purely on assumption. The outlook on this subject is at best uncertain, and such events as are reported from Ireland to-day do not tend to support the assumption. Nor, if the report be true that the second reading of the Bill is to be taken so early as the 22nd inst., will it work for the conciliation of Ulster's feeling, since it is believed that decision there can scarcely be reached in less than a fortnight.

Activities at Westminster in regard to the Bill continue to develop. A movement is now on foot among Unionists—who oppose Home Rule on the ground of danger to Imperial interests—for the holding of a meeting of Unionists generally to consider the Bill. To-morrow a meeting of representatives of the Irish Unionist Alliance (which is opposed to the Bill on any terms) will be held at the House of Commons. The Executive of the Irish Anti-Partition League, of which the Earl of Midleton is president, is also shortly to be called together to discuss the Bill. Lord Midleton was in the Lobby this evening, and was asked for his views on the measure, but preferred to say nothing, pending some decision by this gathering. It is pretty certain, however, that the League will stick to its leading principles that, if there is to be Home Rule, it must not be given to a divided Ireland.

At the close of the question hour Mr. Lambert asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer whether he could tell the House anything regarding the Exchequer Bond issue. Mr. Chamberlain proceeded to tell the House that the loan had been a great success, exceeding anything that he or his financial advisers anticipated. The House was much pleased to hear this assurance, and warmly cheered Mr. Chamberlain when he resumed his seat.

The Ministry of Transport has decided that there can be no cheap excursion facilities this Easter or Whitsun, a decision that will be a great disappointment to many thousands of London workers. The shortage of engines and rolling stock generally is the cause of the decision, though there is also a considerable lack of trained engine-drivers. As a matter of fact, the eight-hour day worked on the railway is taking its revenge for the time being. In time things may come right again, and holiday trips be resumed, but it will be many months before the shortage of skilled labour and engines can be made good.

Dr. Macnamara, who is "tipped" for the Ministry of Pensions, is certainly ripe for promotion, for he has been continuously in office since January, 1907, and for the last twelve years has filled the onerous post of Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty. He is very popular in the House. But he would, of course, have to face the ordeal of re-election. He had a majority of three thousand in North-West Camberwell in 1918, but it was on a very small poll, only eleven thousand of the twenty-nine thousand electors taking the trouble to vote, and it is by no means a certainty that he would survive a contest in present conditions.

POTATO PRICES IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. McCurdy writes, in reply to a question by Mr. Royce, that, in view of the recent serious advance in the price of potatoes, it has been decided to fix a maximum growers' price for potatoes grown in Great Britain, and to limit the profits made by wholesale and retail dealers in Great Britain on all potatoes, whether home-grown or imported.

SPRING ASSIZES.

COUNTY LOUTH.

WAR'S AFTERMATH OF CRIME.

Louth Spring Assizes were opened yesterday. Mr. Justice Pim presided in the Crown Court and Lord Chief Justice Molony in the Record Court.

Addressing the Grand Jury, Mr. Justice Pim said:—There are only five cases for you to deal with at these Assizes, and only four bills—four bills which I will send up to you. Now the reports from the county are on the whole quite satisfactory. So far as I can judge—at all events, in the police reports—there are no political offences in this county since the last Assizes. It is one of these things well known in the history of the world that after great wars crime always exists. There are various reasons for it—the upsetting of men's minds, the nervous person, the discharging of a great many men who have gone to the Army and have come home, men who before the war were criminals, and who were sent back to the old manner of life, and, generally speaking, the effect of men having been at the front is not good for their moral nature. That kind of crime is considerably less in Ireland than in many countries. We cannot but be horrified at reading the accounts of what is going on in some of the industrial parts of England. I get every day a small French paper, and it is equally horrifying—the accounts you see of what is going on in parts of France. It all comes from the upsetting of men's minds and the nervous condition of the mind, which affects the whole of Europe.

The Crown entered a nolle prosequi in the charges against Robert and Richard Nugent, of Drogheda, charged with attempting to defraud the Ministry of Labour.

Patrick du Kevitt, Drogheda, charged with attempting to defraud the Ministry of Labour, pleaded guilty, and was allowed out on his own bail.

A young lad named Thomas Dowdall, Castlebellingham, was charged with breaking into a gate lodge at Milestown, and stealing a gun, ammunition, and a sum of money.

Accused was found not guilty, and discharged.

Patrick Bards, Drogheda, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to defraud the Ministry of Labour, and was allowed out on his own recognisances.

COUNTY LONGFORD.

UNDETECTED CRIME.

The County Longford Assizes were opened in the Crown Court, Longford, on Tuesday by Mr. Justice Dodd. There being no criminal business, His Lordship was presented with a pair of white gloves.

His Lordship returned thanks, and said that there were three reasons why a judge receives white gloves, and they were: (1) when there is no crime, (2) when the cases are sent to another venue, and (3) when crime is undetected. He must be frank, and say that these gloves were not coming to him because the county was absolutely free from crime. On the other hand, he was sorry to say that there were things which gave him some uneasiness. He found that the number of reported cases was 24, and not a single bill had been sent up in respect of them. They were cases of malicious wounding, one an attempt to make a man decline to join the Royal Irish Constabulary; a case of burglary, four of robbery and assault with intent to rob, larceny, arson and malicious injury, threatening letters and demanding arms. Going into the statistics, he found the common reason why no bill was sent in was that the police could not get evidence. The crime did not seem to be widespread, and seemed to be in a great measure foolishness and nonsense.

COUNTY WEXFORD.

A GOREY RAID FOR ARMS.

At Wexford Assizes yesterday, before Mr. Justice Kenny, a young man named John Breen, of Gorey, was charged with stealing arms, the property of Miss N. Gibbon, Kiltennel, value for £50. The prisoner had been tried at the Leinster Assizes, when the jury disagreed.

Evidence was given by Miss Gibbon that on the night of 16th November a number of disguised men rushed into the house shouting "Hands up." She noticed that one of the men, who had a bag over his head, had bandy legs and a peculiar voice. She identified the prisoner in Gorey Police Barracks by his legs and voice.

The defence was an alibi, and prisoner's brother, who also is bow-legged, also gave evidence.

A verdict of not guilty was returned.

CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION OF IRELAND.

"THE PHARSALIA OF LUCAN."

At a meeting of the Classical Association of Ireland, held last evening in the Royal College of Science, Dublin, the President, Professor R. M. Henry, M.A., Queen's University, Belfast, delivered a lecture on "The Pharsalia of Lucan." Professor Macalister occupied the chair.

The lecturer at the outset mentioned that till the beginning of the nineteenth century Lucan and Statius were read and admired. It was admitted that they were inferior to Virgil, but they were, for all that, held to have positive merits of their own of a high order. Dante regarded Lucan as second only to Virgil. Montaigne held him in high esteem, and English critics were not slow to confess a similar admiration. The Pharsalia, or, as Lucan himself seemed to have preferred to call it, the De Bello Civili, was, so far as choice of subject went, not in the Virgilian, but in the pre-Virgilian, tradition. Lucan chose, as did Ennius and Hostius and Varro, an episode from Roman history as the theme for an epic poem. So natural and proper did that seem to his contemporaries, even with the example of Virgil before their eyes, that, though he did not lack for critics, their criticism was directed not to that, but to the details of his treatment. If Virgil, or, still more, Homer, were taken as the standard of poetical construction, the very choice of Lucan's subject must be pronounced to be a radical fault. In his (Professor Henry's) judgment, at any rate, they were hardly entitled to set up these absolute standards. A poem, like any other work of art, must be a unity; it must produce some definite impression or series of harmonious, even though diverse, impressions. But they were not justified in laying it down as a law that that artistic unity could not be produced in any way but the one, or that the Greek method was the only method of achieving it. A poet may justly be blamed for not producing it, but not because he chose to produce it in his own way. Taking the Pharsalia as a Roman work of art in the first place, it was imperfect, and conjecture as to how Lucan intended to finish it was precarious. Many of the conjectures were vitiated by false assumptions derived from principles which Lucan would not have acknowledged. For instance, the idea that he must have intended to carry it down to the death of Cæsar rested upon the assumption that Cæsar must have been in some way intended to be the hero of the poem. To what copious streams of ingenious reasoning had not this fruitless controversy as to the hero of the Pharsalia given rise! Was it Cæsar, was it Pompey, was it Cato who was the real hero? The critics who decided for one or other of these, or of the other suggested "heroes," made out Lucan to have been in the matter of execution a sorry bungler, and pointed, in mitigation of sentence, to his age and inexperience and the bad example of his times. Lucan was not thinking of a hero, but of an idea, a principle, an abstraction. He wrote for a Roman audience to whom persons were less than ideals, less than abstractions. The city and the republic, the imperium Romanum, were something more to the true Roman, to all citizens imbued with the true Roman spirit, than any Scipio or Pompey or Cæsar of them all. It seemed, perhaps, as though such an abstraction was too tenuous and bloodless to bind into a unity a work of the imagination. Something fuller and richer was asked for to engage their whole interest and attention, but men had even down to yesterday died for an idea—even for a dream. Lucan would never, perhaps, be a universal favourite. It might be that the limitation of his audience meant that he was not one of the great poets of the world. But upon some people in all ages, and in some ages upon many people, Lucan had exercised a strange influence and shed a great charm. Certainly to a Roman of the true breed a poem, a work of art, which appealed to the Roman instincts of patriotism and relied upon them for its effect, would not have seemed to be devoid of either interest or unity. There could be little doubt that that unity of interest did to some extent bind the Pharsalia together. From the first line to the last the immense infidelity of the Civil War, the loss of liberty, the mangled body of Rome, the quivering convulsions of expiring freedom, were before them, perhaps too much before them. The effect might have been greater if Lucan had not been so intent upon making it great. The unity was strained into monotony, and the æsthetic pleasure was marred for want of relief. Pity and terror were not purged, but gorged. There was no lightening of the gloom, no relaxation of the tension. The fati ruina, the tumbling walls of destiny, were always crashing in the ears. And while the action was played upon a stage from which the gods had withdrawn—Lucan disdaining to avail himself of the traditional machinery of Olympus—the ghosts and witch which haunted the Thessalian plains flitted gibbering through the darkness. Lucan, in spite of the episodes in which he attempted to lend variety to the main action of his story, had not understood the virtues of relief. He moved from place to place, but cœlum, non animum, mutant, qui trans mare currunt. The charging of the expression with emotion, the raising of the level of feeling above the normal everywhere in the poem might be due partly to the desire to give a uniformity of atmosphere and feeling, partly to a contemporary fashion of style, partly to mere literary incapacity or lack of judgment. When Lucan was at his best in his speeches he could be very good, indeed. If he did not attain to simplicity and clarity he achieved dignity and a certain weight. At times he reached grandeur, but he failed to sustain it. No Latin author, with the one exception of Tacitus, had contributed so many striking phrases to literature. After his speeches his style was seen to its next best effect in his formal descriptions of character or states of mind. Though he was incapable of putting character into action he could put it into words. "His poem," said Professor Henry, in conclusion, "is not so much a majestic ruin as the majestic fragments of a building which was never raised. We see that he meant to raise a mighty pile, of which the general effect would have been stark and terrible, but the idea of its design is still shadowy and obscure. But if it was a failure it was, at least, great in intention, even though it should be that the execution was beyond both his power and his means."

Professor Macalister conveyed the cordial thanks of the members to the President for his illuminating address.

The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh yesterday resolved to admit women to the fellowship of the College after examination on the same conditions and with the same privileges as men.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

VIEWS OF IRISH UNIONIST ALLIANCE.

NO ELEMENTS OF PERMANENT SETTLEMENT.

At a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Irish Unionist Alliance, held yesterday—Colonel Sir Frederick Shaw, Bart., D.S.O., presiding—the following statement was issued:—

As Irish Unionists our objection to Home Rule is fundamental and one of principle. Under the Union we stand on a footing of equality with all other citizens of the United Kingdom. If any partnership is to exist between the two islands, no fairer terms can be suggested for all.

Home Rule, on the contrary, in any form, places Irishmen in a subordinate and inferior position. Nationalist Ireland now realises this, and has, therefore, deserted Home Rule for Republicanism. The real issue is, therefore, between the Union and an independent Republic.

The present bill contains no elements of permanent, or even of temporary, settlement. If it be passed into law, either the Sinn Feiners will boycott the Parliament altogether, and will attempt to carry on their own Government alongside of it, or they will be elected and use it for establishing a Republic.

Even if the Act be ultimately imposed by the Imperial Parliament, the constantly recurring difficulties of maintaining any Imperial control, even for the purpose of defence or taxation, against the will of a hostile Legislature and Executive, must inevitably produce a situation in which Great Britain will no longer be able to resist the demand for complete separation. The Irish question, so far from being settled, will then assume a new and far more formidable aspect.

Meanwhile, the liberties and property of all Southern loyalists would be placed under the unrestricted control of a single chamber government, elected by a Sinn Fein majority, and their betrayal would then be complete.

ULSTER AND HOME RULE.

MEETING OF COUNCIL COMMITTEE.

SIR EDWARD CARSON'S ENGAGEMENTS.

Sir Edward Carson will arrive in Belfast to-day for the important meetings of the Ulster Unionist Council that are to consider the Government's new Home Rule Bill. There is expected to be a large attendance of delegates from all parts of the province, and much interest is being taken in the proceedings. The Marquis of Londonderry will also arrive in Belfast to-morrow from London. His lordship has cancelled several important engagements, including one to speak at Birmingham, in order to be present at the meetings. Sir James Craig, Bart., arrived in Belfast yesterday morning, and is making the Ulster Club his headquarters. Sir James Craig was accompanied by the Duke of Abercorn and Captain C. C. Craig, M.P. Most of the Ulster Unionist members of Parliament have already arrived in Ulster.

To-day Sir Edward Carson and his colleagues will attend a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Ulster Unionist Council in the Old Town Hall; while to-morrow a meeting of the whole Unionist Council will be held in the large Hall of the Y.M.C.A. Following the meeting, the delegates will be entertained to luncheon in the Ulster Hall by the Marquis of Londonderry. On Saturday evening there will be a meeting of the Ulster Unionist Labour Association, which will be attended by Sir Edward Carson and almost the whole Ulster Unionist Parliamentary Party.

DALKEY COUNCIL AND THE BILL.

At the meeting of the Dalkey Urban Council last night, Mr. Somers moved, and Mr. Kavanagh seconded, a motion in reference to the new Home Rule Bill, to the effect that recognition would only be given "to such form of government as the overwhelming majority of the Irish people selected."

Mr. Warren supported the motion on the ground that Irishmen had a right to self-determination.

The Chairman expressed concurrence, and said that, as there was no opposition, he declared the motion carried.

PRAYER FOR IRELAND.

LETTER FROM THE ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Will you allow me to call the attention of the members of the Church of Ireland to the need of special prayer for our country at this time, and to the opportunity afforded by Sunday, the 14th of this month? It is the Sunday nearest St. Patrick's Day, and is, therefore, specially suitable. It also comes at a time when the future government of this land is once more in debate.

At the beginning of the year I issued a form of prayer to all the clergy of this diocese dealing with the public needs of the time, and more particularly with the condition of our own country. This form has, I trust, been in use in all our churches. I hope that its use will be continued; but it is not quite sufficient for Sunday, the 14th I suggest that on that Sunday the Litany be said after the sermon as a special supplication, and with special reference to present needs. I append a petition to be inserted after the petition for the Royal Family. Also I authorise the use of the following prayers, instead of the latter portion of the Litany—the Collect for Fourth Sunday in Advent, the Prayer for Unity, the Prayer for the Time, already authorised, and the prayer given below, concluding in the usual manner.

Sunday, the 14th, will also be Education Sunday. In the circumstances of the present time, this is a happy coincidence. It will enable preachers on that Sunday to bring together two great questions, which are, indeed, closely related.—Yours, etc.,

CHARLES F. DUBLIN.

The Palace, Dublin, March 3rd, 1920.

(1) IN THE LITANY.

"That it may please Thee to guide the deliberations of the High Court of Parliament, now taking counsel for this our land, and to over-rule their decisions for the good of all who dwell therein, and for the establishment of righteousness and peace."

(2) A PRAYER.

"Grant, O Lord, we pray Thee, a special gift of wisdom and strength to all those who are endued with authority or influence in the government of our country, and those who, at this time, are taking counsel for the future. In Thy mercy deliver us from every occasion of strife and bitterness; save us from disorder and violence; establish on sure foundations everything that makes for the well-being of all dwellers in this land; and let truth, peace, and charity grow and flourish amongst us. We ask these blessings in the name of Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen."

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

THE HOME RULE BILL.

According to present arrangements, says The Times to-day, the Prime Minister will move the second reading of the Home Rule Bill on Monday, March 22. Another amendment has appeared on the paper in the name of Lord Hugh Cecil, who proposes to move:—"That this House will not proceed further with a bill for establishing autonomous institutions in Ireland until this House is satisfied that that bill is approved by at least a majority of the people for whose autonomy those institutions are designed."

A number of Unionist members met yesterday at luncheon at the Constitutional Club as the guests of Colonel Walter Faber, and discussed the terms of the Home Rule Bill, particularly with reference to the area assigned to the Northern Legislature and to finance. A leading member of the Government was present, and he expounded the principles which had guided the Cabinet Committee, and the arguments by which the Ministry supported their present proposals. There was ample evidence that the rank and file of Unionist members were by no means convinced that the Government choice of six counties is justified either in principle or by the universal desire of Irish interests. The opinion was also definitely expressed that the restrictions imposed on the taxing powers of the Irish Parliaments were unnecessarily severe, and it was argued that the Joint Council might have a wider authority in this respect. It was generally felt that proof of the existence of a considerable body of opinion in Parliament in favour of conferring upon the Joint Council specific responsibility in the matters of Customs and Excise might incline the Government towards reconsideration of their present proposals.

THE SUPREME COUNCIL.

The Times, in a leading article to-day, says:—At the present rate of progress the Supreme Council seems likely to sit as long as did the Council of Trent, and to be adjourned to as many cities. We have recorded its proceedings from day to day, so far as these have been officially disclosed to an anxious world—and sometimes a little further. This has disturbed the Council, who like to do good in secret for all their devotion to open diplomacy, and Mr. Bonar Law has expressed their shocked indignation. Nevertheless, we propose to repeat our indiscretions whenever we believe that they will serve the public welfare. At no time have we been able to report the dispatch of much business, for the sufficient reason that not much has been despatched. The Times continues:—For the first time the British public have now seen the European Areopagus at work under their eyes. They have beheld its cowardice, its vacillation, its meanness. They have watched it as it jettisoned one doctrine after another, as the fears and the hopes of each triumvir for his own electorate seemed to demand. They have observed it fumbling and groping from one subject to another, without knowledge to illuminate it, or principle to guide its steps. It has been a very wholesome object lesson to them. It has explained to them the character of much that was done in Paris. They understand now how the whole Treaty was made, and they know why it was made so ill. Why do not the Prime Ministers, adds The Times, not all of whom are endowed with wide knowledge of economics, of geography, or of history, entrust the preliminary settlement of outstanding problems to the bodies the Supreme Council has set up for that very object, instead of attempting to discuss and determine everything themselves?

DISCOURAGING WHEAT-GROWING.

Commenting editorially upon the resolution of the Council of the Royal Agricultural Society passed yesterday, expressing "astonishment" at the decision of the Government "purporting to encourage the growing of wheat," and a conviction "that a continuance of present conditions will lead to a great diminution in the food supply of the nation," The Times to-day says:—These are not idle words uttered in haste at a market, though they, undoubtedly, reflect the conviction of practically every wheat-growing farmer in the land. The promise in the King's Speech of legislation for the encouragement of British wheat-growing, adds The Times, bids fair to be stultified if the policy announced last week holds good. Many readers will have noted with surprise that so well-informed an agricultural leader as Lord Bledisloe has declared at a meeting of the Chambers of Agriculture on Tuesday that it is "the official view" that the price for this year's wheat should be "about 90s. per quarter." The nation can only judge of the official view by the public statements of officials, and in Lord Lee's categorical pronouncement last week there is no hint of any such intention. In any event, such a partial concession of justice for a single season would be ineffective to induce most farmers to maintain their existing arable land. Failing either an adequate minimum price for a series of years, or, at least, a free market, the only hope of preventing many hundreds of thousands of acres from being laid down to grass is in paying for the present year's harvest the full price which is promised in certain conditions for that of 1921.

FOOD CONTROL TO CONTINUE.

The Cabinet Committee, which is considering the future of food control, decided yesterday, states The Times, to recommend that the Ministry of Food be continued for a term of years, with extended powers. If the Cabinet accept this recommendation, a separate bill will be needed. The Cabinet Committee on the bread subsidy has not yet finished its task. A decision is expected next week.

TRANSPORT STRIKE THREAT.

The Labour Correspondent of The Times, writing to-day, says:—There was a flood of alarmist talk yesterday about the imminence of a national strike of road transport workers. Such a strike may be attempted, but it is by no means inevitable. In spite of what appear to be active preparations for a strike, not only on the part of some of the trade unions involved, but also in the Ministry of Food and other Government departments concerned, it is premature to assume that there will be a stoppage of road transport.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The figures published in our City Notes yesterday, says The Times, as to the amount of cash subscriptions to the 5½% Exchequer Bonds created a favourable impression, and had the effect of imparting a firmer tone to the market in Gilt-edged Securities, and this, in turn, was reflected in other markets. Generally speaking, there was a better feeling, and this notwithstanding the fact that, if anything, business was on a smaller basis. The impression that the Bank rate would not be altered to-day was also a factor, and Paris advices indicated an improved tendency there. Oil Shares made a good recovery, but dulness again prevailed in the Rubber and Shipping sections.

COFFIN IN A BOG.

BODY OF A SUPPOSED RAIDER.

An Ennis telegram says—A great sensation has been caused by the finding by the police on Tuesday night, in a bog near Ennistymon, of a coffined body, which is alleged to be that of a man shot in a collision between a police patrol and raiders in Inagh district last week. There is a bullet hole in the head.

The Coroner has been communicated with.

TAXATION OF WAR WEALTH.

When the Select Committee of the House of Commons on War Wealth met last evening, Mr. Hopkins, Joint Secretary of the Inland Revenue Board, resumed his evidence. He said that it was not proposed to tax an inheritance which contained no evidence of war-time increase, but in the case of estates of deceased persons which had increased in value during the war it was proposed to tax on the present value, and not on the value at the time of death.

The Chairman read a letter from the Chancellor of the Exchequer containing a copy of a communication from "C. N.," enclosing for cancellation £13,500 of War Bonds, but asking first whether such gift would be allowed to be set off. "C. N." said that he made the cancellation in memory of brothers and friends who lost their lives in the war, and he did not wish to run the risk of being taxed twice over. Mr. Hopkins said that account would be taken of these voluntary gifts.

SUPREME COUNCIL.

ECONOMIC QUESTIONS.

DISCUSSIONS ENDED FOR THE PRESENT.

Yesterday afternoon's official communiqué says:—

The Supreme Council of the Allied Powers met to-day, and was attended by Mr. Lloyd George, Lord Curzon, Mr. Winston Churchill, Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, M. Paul Cambon, M. Berthelot, General de la Panouse, Signor Nitti, Signor Scialoja, Marquis Imperiali, and General Cavallero, Viscount Chinda, and military and other experts. The session was devoted to the consideration of the report by the Commission under Marshal Foch on the military and air conditions of the peace with Turkey, and connected questions.

The Press Association understands that the Peace Conference proper has ended for the present. The discussions connected with the Peace Treaties will be continued with the Foreign Office by the foreign Ministers and experts and by the British representatives, under the chairmanship of Earl Curzon. Signor Nitti, the Italian Premier, will leave London early this morning.

The official communiqué of yesterday afternoon's session of the Supreme Council announced that the Council first considered the future of Bessarabia, after which certain aspects of the remarks of the Hungarian Delegation on the Treaty of Peace were discussed.

Subsequently the Council was joined by the economic and financial experts, and resumed the examination of the draft resolutions in regard to high prices and exchanges.

The Press Association adds:—It is hoped that the Turkish Treaty will be presented in complete form to the Turkish representatives in Paris on or about 22nd inst. The report on high prices and exchanges has not yet been completed. It may be ready for publication by the end of the week.

PEACE TREATY AND MONROE DOCTRINE.

A Reuter's Washington telegram of Tuesday says:—The Senate has re-adopted the reservation to the Peace Treaty relating to the Munroe Doctrine without any change.

BIG STRIKE IN FRANCE.

125,000 MINERS CEASE WORK.

An Exchange Paris telegram states that in the mining region of Marles 125,000 miners are on strike out of a total number of 135,000 employed in the district. The local railway workers and electrical workers have ceased work. It is feared that the trouble will spread to Bruay and other mining centres.

M. CAILLAUX'S TRIAL.

A Reuter's Paris telegram of Wednesday says—There was a sensational disclosure during the Caillaux trial this afternoon, when Maitre Descouve, Chief Prosecutor, roundly charged the accused with having in February, 1915, received a secret visit from a German spy, who was the bearer of peace proposals. One day an unknown stranger, speaking, it was asserted, with a strong foreign accent, rang up Caillaux from the Hotel Ritz, and asked for an interview. This Caillaux granted, and the prosecution alleged that he received this complete stranger secretly in his private house, no other persons being at the meeting.

The accused admitted having received this individual, who, he understood, was interested in certain economic proposals between France and Switzerland. As soon as he realised the real object of his visit he declared he had him turned out.

In that case, sharply remarked Descouve, if you realised the real character of your visitor was it not very strange you took no steps to have him arrested?

In reply, Caillaux launched forth into a long explanation.

IRISH QUESTIONS IN PARLIAMENT.

THE COAL SHORTAGE.

Captain Charles Craig, having asked the President of the Board of Trade whether he was aware that the shortage of coal in the manufacturing districts in the North of Ireland was very great and was having a very serious effect on industry, and that many mills and factories are so near the end of their stocks that, unless coal is imported into the country in large quantities within a few days, many factories must close down; and whether he would take immediate steps to provide the necessary transport for the carriage of coal to the North of Ireland, and thereby avert a very serious dislocation of trade,

Mr. Bridgeman writes in reply—Arrangements have been made to supply additional quantities of coal to Ireland as soon as the necessary shipping is available. The hon. member will, of course, be aware of the strike which at present prevails at Belfast. This considerably increases the difficulty of supplying the North of Ireland—a difficulty accentuated by the refusal of dockers at the Clyde to load coal boats for Ireland.

SALE OF GOVERNMENT STORES.

Mr. Hanna asked the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Munitions if it is intended to remove about fifty horse vehicles, suitable for agricultural purposes, from Carrickfergus Government and Military Stores, where they are now lying, to Dublin, for sale by auction, and, if so, why the extra cost of removal is being incurred in view of the demand for these vehicles by the agricultural community around Carrickfergus.

Mr. Kellaway, in reply, said—It is intended to remove thirty-two horse vehicles from Carrickfergus to Dublin for sale there by auction. From previous experience, it is anticipated that the cost of removal will be small in comparison with the greatly increased prices which are likely to be realised by the sale of these vehicles in Dublin.

IMPERIAL COMMUNICATION COMMITTEE.

In reply to a letter to the Prime Minister, Mr. Godfrey Isaacs, of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., has been informed that Sir Henry Norman will not consent to resign his Chairmanship of the Wireless Committee. The Marconi Company, in a letter to the Secretary of the Imperial Communications Committee, state that they have prepared a scheme of which they enclose details, but regret that they cannot depute a representative to appear before the Committee so long as Sir Henry Norman is the Chairman.

REV. DR. HALLINAN AND THE EDUCATION BILL.

Most Rev. Dr. Hallinan, Roman Catholic Bishop of Limerick, in a letter to the Press, refers to the Education Bill, which, he states, has been condemned unanimously by the Irish Hierarchy. In such circumstances, it is, he says, painful to observe the un-Catholic and disedifying attitude of some people who are setting themselves up as a counter-authority to the bishops, and by specious, but hollow, arguments are trying to justify their indefensible position. Their action is calculated to weaken, if not undermine, the feelings of dutiful allegiance which the flock of Christ owe to their spiritual rulers in such matters.

THE SIEVIER CASE.

PLAINTIFF'S CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The Sievier-Wootton libel case was continued in the King's Bench, London, yesterday, when Mr. Robert Sievier concluded his evidence.

In reply to Sir Edward Carson, he said that he had only spoken the truth of the defendant in the Winning Post. At Brighton in 1893 he had won £6,000 from a Captain Taylor at baccarat, and had accepted £2,500 because of an appeal by Taylor's wife to let them off lightly. Taylor alleged that he was confused and induced to play on, but he (plaintiff) swore an affidavit that the accusations were untrue. Plaintiff was questioned regarding a £800 bet which he won against a Mr. Horn. The last-named, he said, had to leave Monte Carlo. He was summoned for throwing a blancmange at the manager of the Freemasons' Tavern, and had paid £5 to a charity. He was convicted of having sent indecent prints through the post.

The hearing was adjourned.

The Londonderry Corporation Bill was read a second time in the House of Commons yesterday.

MAIL VAN ROBBED IN DUBLIN.

DARING CRIME BY ARMED MEN.

GOVERNMENT CORRESPONDENCE STOLEN.

SEARCHES AND ARRESTS IN THE CITY.

In daylight, in the City of Dublin yesterday, a General Post Office van, which was on its way from the Rotunda Rink Postal Department to Dublin Castle, was stopped by armed and masked men, and the mail bags, which contained, it is stated, correspondence for Dublin Castle Departments, were stolen. The affair appears to have been carefully planned, and it was carried out with daring and success.

No official account of the robbery was forthcoming last night, and no information was given at the General Post Office regarding the matter, but inquiries show that shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning a one-horse Post Office mail van left the Rotunda Rink, in charge of a driver and an official, was driven through the back exit into Rutland Square, and thence to Parnell street. Near the corner of Dominick street the van was stopped by armed men, the door was opened, the bags ripped, and the contents were carried away. The number of the men engaged in the affair has not been ascertained, but one account places the number at twelve.

Another account states that two men rushed out from the footpath at the corner of Dominick street, and while one of them grasped the reins the other mounted the seat of the van, and, with a revolver pointing at the driver, commanded him to hand him the reins. This the driver did, and a third man, who was cycling behind, pointed a revolver at the other occupant. The van was then taken charge of by the assailants, who drove it into Dominick lane, a laneway little frequented, situated about a hundred yards from Lower Dominick street, and ending in a cul-de-sac. Here they carried out their work expeditiously and disappeared.

Still another account states that the driver was ordered by one of two men to bring the van to Dominick lane, and that there a body of men, who were waiting for it, robbed the contents and left, passing out and into a side street. It is also said that the driver and his companion were commanded to leave their places, and were removed by armed men to the roadway, while other men drove the van to Dominick lane. The driver and his fellow-prisoner were set at liberty after the mail bags had been rifled, and they found the van midway in Dominick lane. They afterwards drove to Dublin Castle and reported the matter. About ten men, it is said, placed themselves before the van, holding revolvers in their hands, and ordered the driver to stop. He was directed to go around the corner of Dominick street, and compelled to hand over the key. The van was then unlocked and the letters removed.

It is believed, although official information has been refused, that the letters included documents for the Lord Lieutenant, the Chief Secretary, the Under Secretary, the Prisons Board, the military, the Royal Irish Constabulary, and the Registrar of Petty Sessions.

The streets in the immediate locality were quiet at the hour, and this facilitated the men in their bold venture.

The police are making exhaustive inquiries, but no arrests had been made last night, nor had any of the letters been discovered.

SEARCHES BY THE MILITARY.

An hour or two after the "hold up" of the van parties of military and police in motor lorries visited numerous places in the city and made thorough searches. They took Thomas Hunter and Peter Clancy into custody at the shop, 94 Talbot street, and detained Samuel Ellis, 70 Eccles street, national school teacher, and another man said to be a teacher, whose name is not known. The district of Rutland square and some tenement houses in Dominick street received particular attention.

Searches were also carried out in the Leinster College of Irish, Rutland square; the rooms in the house No. 25 in the square, Banba Hall, Rutland square; Cavendish House, Cavendish row; Messrs. Dowling and McGuinness's shop, North Frederick street; Mr. Maurice Collins' shop, 63 Parnell street; Mr. J. J. Walsh's shop, Berkeley street; Miss O'Hanrahan's shop, 384 North Circular road; the premises of Mr. J. Brennan, 392 North Circular road, and of Mr. T. Gogan, 371 North Circular road; a dwelling-house in North Great George's street, Mr. Mark Wilson's premises, North Frederick street; the Club, 68 Capel street; the shop 94 Talbot street, houses in Eccles street, the offices of the New Ireland Assurance Co., Bachelor's Walk; houses in Drumcondra district, and in Avondale road, and Clontarf; the dairy shop of Mr. MacDunphy, Bolton street, and the premises of Mrs. Burke, 174 James's street.

Alderman W. O'Brien was taken into custody by the military, who visited his residence, in Botanic road, at one o'clock yesterday morning.

Alderman MacDonagh's house, Moyne road, was visited and searched by the military early yesterday morning. Alderman MacDonagh was not in the house at the time.

Liberty Hall was also visited and searched.

Crowds watched the military as they moved about on their investigations, and there was some excitement at Gardiner's row, where a Sinn Fein flag was taken possession of by a soldier, but, although there was evidence of civilian hostility, no trouble resulted.

RAILWAY TRAIN HELD UP.

EXTRAORDINARY AFFAIR IN COUNTY DONEGAL.

Telegraphing last night, our Derry Correspondent says:—An extraordinary affair took place late last night on the Burtonport section of the Derry and Lough Swilly Railway. The outgoing passenger train from Derry was held up in a most daring manner at Kincaslagh, a lonely station, five miles from Dunloe, the scene of the recent shooting outrage, in which four policemen were wounded.

Shortly after ten o'clock, just before the train from Derry was due to reach the station, a gang of armed and masked men, numbering fifteen, marched on to the platform. The station-master and porter were caught and bound with ropes, and then locked in the waiting-room.

As the train steamed in two armed raiders boarded the engine, and, presenting revolvers at the engine-driver and fireman, placed them under arrest. Meantime other raiders subjected the goods van and passenger carriages to an exhaustive search, during which articles were strewn about the place.

The search occupied half an hour, boxes being opened and their contents examined, evidently in a search for ammunition which it was believed was being conveyed to the police. The search was futile, and the marauders decamped. The only thing missing was a cash box from the guard's van, but it was empty.

The raiders had evidently planned the attack carefully. After they had seized the station-master the telegraph instrument was smashed. They went about the work of ransacking the luggage in a leisurely fashion. The passengers were greatly alarmed, but no violence was offered to them.

The police in the nearest barracks, which is five miles away, were communicated with, but no arrests have been made. This is the third attack on trains in the same district.

THE ATTEMPT TO MURDER MR. MARSH.

LATEST DETAILS.

On inquiry at the North Infirmary, Cork, yesterday morning it was ascertained that Mr. Robert Marsh, the well-known South of Ireland auctioneer and valuer, who was shot by unknown men on Tuesday night while leaving his premises in Cork City, was progressing as satisfactorily as could be expected, although he is extremely weak and suffering from shock. The police are engaged in investigating the outrage, but they have been unable to make any person amenable. Before he collapsed from the effect of his wounds Mr. Marsh stated that there were seven or eight persons in the party that attacked him, and a number of men were seen hurrying from the scene about the time that the shooting occurred, but beyond that nothing is known of them. Mr. Marsh was locking the outer door of his garage leading into Morgan street when he was attacked. One bullet mark is visible on the door, the woodwork of which is splintered in a manner that would suggest that the bullet was fired at some distance.

Mr. Marsh is most popular with all classes and creeds in Cork, and the attack upon him is universally condemned. He takes no part in politics, and opinion now inclines to the view that the outrage was not unconnected with an attempt to commit a burglary in his mart, which is generally stocked with plate and other articles of value.

ANOTHER MURDER IN COUNTY GALWAY.

WELL-KNOWN GENTLEMAN SHOT DEAD.

SHOCKING CRIME ON A LONELY ROAD.

Our Athenry Correspondent telegraphed last night:—

Mr. Frank Shawe-Taylor, J.P., was shot dead this morning while on his way to the fair of Galway.

From the particulars to hand Mr. Shawe-Taylor left by motor car with his chauffeur, and when about two miles from his residence on the road to Galway he was surrounded by armed men and received two gun shots, which almost blew his head off.

Close to the place where the outrage occurred there is a farmer's house, and from the yard a cart had been taken and placed across the road. On arriving here, the motor car pulled up, and when Barrett, the chauffeur, got out to remove the obstruction, Mr. Shawe-Taylor, who remained in the motor car, was fired at from close range.

The injuries inflicted were terrible, and death must have been instantaneous.

The cause of the trouble is said to be due to his refusal to sell some land, as only a few days ago a deputation waited on him, asking him to sell some of his land, and he refused.

A report had been current that he had sold a considerable portion of land within the past week to be given to demobilised soldiers.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Our Galway Correspondent telegraphs:—

Mr. Frank M. Shawe-Taylor, D.L., J.P., of Moor Park, Athenry, was shot dead at Coshla this morning as he was motoring to Galway fair. John Barrett, his chauffeur, was wounded, apparently by stray pellets, while removing the barricade that had been placed across the roadway. Mr. Shawe-Taylor is, perhaps, best known as the brother of Captain John Shawe-Taylor, who was responsible for bringing about the Land Conference in 1903. He also acted as secretary of that body, which made agreed land legislation possible in Ireland. In private life Mr. Frank Shawe-Taylor was an extremely courteous and agreeable gentleman, and was generally respected and esteemed throughout the county.

A Unionist in politics, he did not share the advanced views of his brother. Recently he refused the request of a deputation of tenants, who asked for the distribution of a portion of his lands. He is stated to have declared that, if he had to give up his land, he would prefer to give it to the military, apparently meaning the discharged soldiers. Some years before the war, whilst he and his wife were driving home in a trap he was shot at, and it was generally believed locally that he would then have been killed had it not been for the presence of his wife. A police hut had been erected about a mile from his residence, close to the scene of yesterday's shooting, but it was removed a short time ago. It is said that Mr. Shawe-Taylor had received threatening letters recently, but he was a man of indomitable spirit, and refused to be influenced by them.

THE MURDER DESCRIBED.

The story of the crime which ended his life before he had reached the age of fifty is a gruesome one. He left home in a Ford car, accompanied only by his chauffeur, Barrett, at six o'clock this morning. Both occupied the front seat, and the hood was not up. Coshla is a bleak part of the country, where the road is flanked only by stone walls. Some thirty yards from Egan's public-house a barricade, consisting of a donkey's cart, from which the wheels had been removed, and a wooden gate spanned the roadway. It was quite bright at the time, and the barricade came under the observation of the occupants of the car. When they had approached to within forty yards of it, the car was brought to a standstill, and the chauffeur dismounted to remove the obstruction.

Immediately a volley of gunshots rang out from the left-hand side of the road, the assailants being apparently concealed behind a wall scarcely four yards from where Mr. Shawe-Taylor was seated. Mr. Taylor collapsed in his seat. His face and head were lacerated with pellets, and one of his teeth, which was blown out, was found in the motor car, which was saturated with blood. Death must have been instantaneous. About half a dozen shots were fired, and it is thought that eight or nine men took part in the affair. The chauffeur, who was himself hit in the left cheek at the same moment when his master was shot, is still suffering from shock, and is confined to bed.

Barrett went to the house of the herd, a couple of hundred yards away, and the herd's daughter informed Mrs. Shawe-Taylor of the shooting. It is stated that she appealed to some employés to go to the place, and bring back the body. The reply that she received was, "Where is the use when he is dead?" She thereupon went on foot herself, and she and the chauffeur, who had meanwhile washed his wounds, drove back to Moor Park with their burden of woe. The dead man was not removed from the seat in which he had been shot until the car had been driven back to the house, from which it had taken him alive less than an hour before. The wads of the shot were found embedded in his head by Dr. Quinlan, Athenry.

Marks of pellets are on the side of the car, but there was one pellet mark on the wind-screen, showing that the aim was deadly, and that Mr. Shawe-Taylor received the full force of the first volley. The chauffeur is guarded by a policeman, and no one is permitted to interview him pending the inquest, which will be held to-morrow.

Mr. Frank Shawe-Taylor leaves two sons, aged eight and thirteen. His widow is a sister of Mr. Harry Ussher, the well-known racehorse owner and trainer.

THREE ARRESTS.

The Press Association, in a telegram last night, stated—The police this evening arrested three young men. Other arrests are expected after the inquest.

POLICE PATROL ATTACKED.

SHOTS ON A WEST CLARE ROAD.

Our Kilrush Correspondent telegraphs:—A report has been received at Kilrush of an attack by a party of armed men on a police patrol between Knock and Labasheeda, at a place named Clonross. The attackers fired on the police, who returned the fire. Constable Nagle fell off his bicycle, and his gun was seized, while Sergeant Daly received some pellet wounds in the face.

Later Colonel Murray White, in charge of a force of soldiers and policemen, arrived on the scene, and a man named O'Connor was arrested. Last night the Labasheeda district was patrolled by soldiers and policemen with armoured cars. The police were withdrawn from Labasheeda some time ago, and the patrolling in the parish has since then been carried out by the Knock police. The attack on the patrol took place in the evening.

COMPENSATION CLAIMS IN CLARE.

THE CARRON SHOOTING AFFAIR.

At the Clare Assizes in Ennis yesterday, before Lord Justice O'Connor, appeals in claims for compensation were heard.

Mr. W. Manning appealed on the grounds of the insufficiency of the amount of the award of £1,400, given by the County Court Judge, in a claim for £3,000 for personal injuries, when Mr. McNamara's shooting party were attacked in Carron. Dr. Kennedy, of Limerick, and Dr. Haughton, of Dublin, gave evidence for the applicant, and his lordship increased the amount to £3,000.

The Hon. Edward O'Brien appealed against an award of £200, in a claim for £2,500, for injuries received on the same occasion.

The amount was increased to £250, with 20 guineas costs and expenses.

Colonel Tottenham appealed against an award of £200, in a claim for £2,000, for injuries when his residence, Mount Callan, was raided in November.

His lordship increased the amount to £1,000.

The applicant said that amount was too much.

His lordship—Would you be satisfied with £500?

The applicant said that he would, and a decree was then pronounced for £500, and costs and expenses.

Constable Henshaw appealed against an award of £300, in a claim for £5,000, for gunshot wounds received while on patrol duty at Cahercamore, Ennistymon, in July last.

The amount was increased to £1,000.

The representatives of Constable Johns appealed against an award of £500, in a claim for £5,000, for injuries received while on duty at Ennistymon Railway Station. It was stated that the constable had since died of tuberculosis.

His lordship affirmed the decree.

A Reuter's telegram from Constantinople yesterday states:—A Bolshevik wireless message received here this morning announces the capture of Stavropol and Kavkazkaia, near Romanovski, Northern Caucasia, about eighty miles from Ekaterinodar.

THE GLASNEVIN MURDER.

A SHOCKING CRIME.

THE VICTIM IDENTIFIED.

Dr. Louis A. Byrne, Dublin City Coroner, held an inquest yesterday in the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital on the body of the young man who was found on the previous evening in the vicinity of the Model Farm, Glasnevin, with fatal bullet wounds in the head and chest.

District-Inspector Lowndes, R.I.C., Howth, represented the police.

The Coroner, in opening the inquiry, informed the jury that the case was that of a young man who was found shot in an avenue leading to the Model Farm, Glasnevin, on the previous evening between 5 and 6 o'clock. The body, shortly after discovery, was brought to that hospital, and on its arrival there life was found to be extinct.

Timothy O'Mahony, hall porter in the Granville Hotel, Sackville street, Dublin, identified the body as that of a man named Jameson, who had been temporarily staying at that hotel. The deceased man left the hotel about 4 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

To the Coroner—The witness did not know his Christian name. Only the surname was entered in the hotel register. He had stayed at the hotel three or four times.

District-Inspector Lowndes—How often had he stayed at the hotel? This was about his third visit to my knowledge.

Previous to this, the last occasion was about Christmas? Yes, he was there at Christmas, and afterwards.

Did you know whether he had served in the Army? He told me that he had served in it.

James Scott McNaughten, of Carlingford Lodge, Glasnevin, testified to having found the body. He was returning from work about 5.30 p.m. on the 2nd inst., and when about 50 yards or so from Hampstead gate, on the Ballymun road side, he observed the body of a man lying across the footpath near the hedge. He went over to the body, which lay on its right side, the feet being on the roadway. He did not touch the body, but went back to where workers belonging to the Model Farm were, a few hundred yards away, and told two of them named Byrne and Daly of his discovery. As they were coming back they met two students from the Model Farm, who came along with them. The witness afterwards went to Glasnevin, and telephoned for the ambulance and for the police.

THREE SHOTS FIRED.

In reply to District-Inspector Lowndes, the witness said that he heard three shots fired about ten minutes previous to his finding the body. They seemed to be from about the place where he afterwards found the body. He went towards the place after hearing the shots.

Dr. M. J. O'Flaherty, house physician in the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, deposed that at 6.25 p.m. on the 2nd inst. the body of a man was brought in the ambulance to that institution. Life was then extinct. His height was about 5ft. 7ins. The body was that of a very muscular man. The face and head were heavily bloodstained. On the front of the right arm was a tattoo mark of a lady in Japanese costume. On the front right forearm were tattoo marks of the head and shoulders of a lady, and lower down a tattoo mark of a bird. On the back of the forearm was a tattoo mark of a large bird, a cobra, and a Japanese lady. Between the bird and cobra the word "Phyllis" was tattooed; and on the fourth finger of the right hand a snake ring was tattooed. On the outer aspect of the left arm a dragon was tattooed, and on the outer aspect of the left forearm animals and flowers; and on front of the left forearm a mermaid, and lower down a butterfly was tattooed. Rings were also tattooed on the left middle and little fingers. One and a half inches below, and 2½ inches inside, the left nipple was a bullet wound, three-quarters of an inch long and a quarter-inch wide, the skin around being stained a leaden hue. Four-and-a-half inches below the scapula there was a circular wound of about a quarter of an inch, having a leaden hue. A half-inch in front of the right ear there was a circular aperture a quarter of an inch in diameter. The skin over the parotid region, the skin of the ear, and the adjacent portions of the skin of the neck had a black-pitted hemorrhage appearance. About an inch below the external occipital protuberance and a half-inch to the right of the middle line was a rugged wound a half-inch long. The sixth costal cartilage was fractured at its junction with the sternum, a portion of the cartilage lying in the pectoral muscle. There was no blood in the left pleural cavity. The right pleural cavity was filled with blood, and the pericardium also contained a large amount of blood. In the lower lobe of the right lung, about an inch from its base, there was a circular aperture about a half-inch in diameter, and a blood-stained track led to the surface of the lung, where there was another opening about three-quarters of an inch in diameter. The left lung was congested at the base. A bullet appeared to have entered obliquely in front of the right ear. It grazed the base of the temporal bone, which was somewhat fragmented, and went through the soft tissues at the back of the neck. The other bullet entered between the ninth and tenth ribs. It perforated the base of the right lung and cut through the right ventricle and penetrated the chest wall. Death, in his opinion, resulted from syncope, due to hemorrhage. He found a bullet mark in the trench coat at the back corresponding to the bullet mark between the ninth and tenth ribs. There were similar marks on the vest, coat, shirt, and inside vest. There were also two marks of inlet and two of exit bullets.

District Inspector Lowndes—How many bullets appeared to have entered the body? There were four marks—two inlet marks and two exit marks.

Answering further questions, the witness said that he found one bullet (produced) between the vest and the inside coat, in front. There were no other bullets found.

Did you form any opinion as to whether the shots were from behind or in front? The bullet that entered the base of the right lung was, undoubtedly, fired from behind. The other bullet, which entered in front of the right ear, must have been fired from the right front. Death must have been practically instantaneous.

CORONER'S REMARKS.

Summing up the evidence, the Coroner said that apparently nobody saw the actual occurrence. Either of the bullets which entered the deceased man's body would have been sufficient to kill, and as one had entered one of the chambers of the heart, death must have been instantaneous. So far as he (the Coroner) could judge, it was a case of murder, and in face of the evidence they must find that the man met his death by gunshot wounds caused by some person or persons unknown.

The jury found as directed.

The manageress of the Granville Hotel, where the deceased man, Jameson, stayed, stated to a Press representative yesterday that nothing was known about him in the hotel, except that he had travelled in Australia, and apparently all over the world. He seemed, she said, to be a nice, decent, respectable, young gentleman.

THE "CURFEW" ORDER.

Parties of armed soldiers again patrolled the streets of Dublin last night, and enforced the "Curfew" Order between midnight and 5 a.m. There were eight arrests, four persons being taken to the College Station and four to Store street Station.

THE CORPORATION'S FAULT.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons, in regard to the Curfew Order in Dublin, and the alleged danger of railwaymen and others being shot by the military while going to their work, the Chief Secretary for Ireland said that he had received no complaints on the subject. Railwaymen and others holding permits suffered no inconvenience beyond that occasioned by the darkness of the streets, due to the action of the Dublin Corporation in extinguishing all street lights from 11.30 p.m.

AN EX-SOLDIER AND HIS SUGAR ALLOWANCE.

At Cabinteely Petty Sessions yesterday, before Captain Darby-Dowman (in the chair) and Mr. A. H. Ormsby Hamilton, D.L.; Dr. Merrin, Mr. S. S. M'Cormick, Mr. D. Henry Bailey, and Mr. Edgar Anderson, James Dalton, ex-soldier, Cornel's Court, was fined 2s. 6d. and 1s. 6d. costs and £1 compensation for breaking glass in the door of William Connolly's grocery shop at Cornel's Court. Mr. Connolly said that the defendant kicked up a row inside his shop because he was under the impression that he had not got his proper allowance of sugar. Connolly put Dalton outside and bolted the door. Dalton then broke the glass. The magistrates, in imposing the penalty, took into consideration the fact that the defendant was an ex-Service man.

The Registrar-General reports that the annual rate of mortality in the ninety-six great towns of England and Wales last week averaged 17.7. The highest rate was Barnsley, 28.3, and the lowest West Bromwich, 7.8.

PARLIAMENT.

EXCHEQUER BONDS.

A SATISFACTORY RESULT.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

CONTROL OF POTATOES TO BE REIMPOSED.

In the House of Commons yesterday, the Speaker took the chair at 2.45 p.m.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION.

Mr. Walter Long informed Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy that the ships and vessels at present under construction for the Royal Navy were one battle cruiser, nine light cruisers, two flotilla leaders, eight torpedo boat destroyers, thirteen submarine boats, two air-craft carriers, and five auxiliary vessels. The majority of these ships were under construction by private firms, and had been transferred to the Royal Dockyards for completion. Definite figures as to their cost were not yet available. Much of the work was done on the time-and-line system, and the amount so payable was not yet fully ascertainable.

PRICES OF COTTON AND WOOLLEN GOODS.

Mr. Bonar Law, replying to Sir Montague Barlow, said that he hoped to arrange for a discussion on the causes of the rise in prices of cotton, woollen, and other goods in this country on Monday next.

THE ISSUE OF EXCHEQUER BONDS.

£60,000,000 CASH SUBSCRIBED.

Mr. George Lambert asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer whether he could make any statement with regard to the issue of 5½ per cent. Exchequer Bonds, which list closed on Saturday last.

Mr. Chamberlain—I gave the House the approximate figures on February 24th, showing that a total of about £99,000,000 of Bonds were converted. It is not yet possible to give the exact figures for the cash subscriptions, but I can say that the cash subscribed exceeds £60,000,000—(cheers)—making a total issue of not less than £160,000,000—(cheers)—out of a total of £198,200,000 of Exchequer Bonds maturing during the current year, 1920. We have, therefore been able to provide £138,500,000 towards the £156,400,000 maturing in February and March, and £21,500,000 towards the total of £46,800,000 maturing on December 1st. This will be recognised by the House as a most satisfactory result. It is, indeed, much better than I had hoped, or my qualified advisers thought possible. (Cheers.)

COMMITTEE OF SUPPLY.

The House went into Committee of Supply on the Civil Service Supplementary Estimates.

On a token vote of £25 for Inland Revenue buildings,

Mr. Baldwin defended a proposal to erect new Inland Revenue offices in Manchester, on the ground that they were needed to facilitate the collection of income tax.

Mr. Marshall Stevens protested that houses were more needed in Manchester than were Government buildings.

Sir Alfred Warren, Mr. Trevelyan Thomson, Mr. France, Mr. Spenser, Mr. Colin Coote, and other members protested against the proposed expenditure, and demanded the withdrawal of the estimate.

Sir Alfred Mond stated that the Minister of Health had been consulted on this subject, and he raised no objection to the scheme's going through. It would save £2,000 a year now being paid in rent, and would lead to the collection of more revenue. This was only a token vote to enable them to obtain a site. He undertook not to go on with any buildings until the Minister of Health consented.

Mr. Charles Edwards opposed the vote.

Colonel Gretton moved the omission of the item relating to the Manchester building.

Major Molson said that he was only following the advice of the Chancellor of the Exchequer in opposing this expenditure.

Colonel John Ward favoured the proposed expenditure, because, he said, it was of public utility.

Major Hills denounced the proposal as luxury expenditure.

Major E. Wood appealed to the Leader of the House to intervene and satisfy the Committee.

Mr. Bonar Law said that it was quite obvious, even to the Government, that there were considerations, not only financial, but psychological, which made this kind of building very undesirable if it could be avoided; but this had to be treated as a business proposition. Balancing one consideration against another, he was satisfied that, having regard to all the considerations, it was in the interest of the nation to have this building, in order to get revenue properly collected. He did not want to give the impression that the Government were trying to bully the House, but the House must realise that the Government had given this matter the closest attention, and they must be prepared to trust the Government. He stated emphatically that the Government would not consent to this vote's being withdrawn, but he would repeat the undertaking already given, that no buildings would be proceeded with until the House had been consulted.

Colonel Gretton asked leave to withdraw his amendment, and it was, by leave, withdrawn, amid Labour jeers.

Commander Kenworthy taunted the Coalition members with running away at the crack of the whip, which they feared more than heaven or hell. (Laughter.)

The vote was agreed to.

EMPLOYMENT EXCHANGES AND INSURANCE BUILDINGS.

On the vote of £235,000 for employment exchanges and insurance buildings,

Sir Robert Horne explained that £70,000 were required for the purchase of premises in Leeds, and £32,000 for the purchase of a site at Manchester, on which it was proposed to erect temporary buildings for the accommodation of the staff. The number of token items in this vote undoubtedly disclosed a very considerable building programme. That had been gone into with considerable care—many items by the Ministry of Labour, the Treasury and the Office of Works. It represented the absolute minimum of what must be ultimately contemplated for the purpose of carrying on the expanding business of the Ministry. He had no idea of carrying out the programme at present, but would wait until favourable opportunities occurred. He wanted the Committee to sanction now only the acquisition of sites, the adaptation of premises already acquired, and the construction of temporary huts; £235,000 had been spent in acquiring Queen Anne's Chambers, Westminster, a block of buildings held on lease by the Ministry.

Major Lloyd Greame and Mr. Neville Chamberlain expressed satisfaction that the Minister was not proceeding with the erection of buildings.

Sir Robert Horne, replying to criticisms, said that where trade was moving forward in the great centres of industry the competition for sites was very keen, and for that reason he put before the Committee the necessity of being clothed with powers to deal with the site question, always keeping it clear that it was not committing them to the policy of necessarily building upon them. The people who were concerned with the finding of employment at the exchanges numbered altogether, in the localities and districts, something like 10,000. The number of places found during the last twelve months was well over 1,000,000. He agreed that they ought not to build expensive places, and make them more expensive in order to accommodate various organisations.

After further discussion the vote was agreed to.

Progress was reported and the debate was adjourned.

CONTROL IN AGRICULTURE.

Mr. Cautley called attention to the continuance of control in connection with the agricultural industry, and moved:—

> "That, except in the case of hops, all regulations affecting the control of agricultural produce, fertilisers and feeding-stuffs, should forthwith be abolished."

He said that the resolution was backed by the British Chamber of Agriculture and the National Farmers' Union. The Government had fixed 76s. for home-produced wheat. The farmers were being taxed to help the bread subsidy. The result was, that from one end of the country to the other there was a diminution in the quantity of wheat that was being grown.

Captain Spender Clay seconded.

Mr. Royce supported the principle of the resolution.

Mr. McCurdy said that the position with regard to potatoes was somewhat serious. The present crop was considerably below the average for ten years before the war. It had always been the policy of the Food Department to fix prices at a level that would be not lower than would encourage home production. It was intended in a few days' time to re-impose control over potatoes. It was the policy of the State to maintain a level of prices which would give confidence and security to what, after all, was one of the most important industries in the country. The terms upon which control would be re-imposed were the maximum growers' price for ware potatoes by £12 15s. per ton free on rail from March 15th, rising by fortnightly increments of 5s. per ton to £14 per ton for potatoes delivered in June.

Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen said that the object of the Government was to stimulate agriculture and to protect the consumer against undue "profiteering." Pigs were to be decontrolled as from 31st March, and home-grown meat from July 4th.

Mr. Tyson Wilson talked out the motion, amidst cries of "Divide!"

FARMERS AND MINIMUM WHEAT PRICES.

Mr. Lane Fox asked the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture whether the new scale of wheat prices recently issued fixed a maximum price only, but gave no guarantee of any minimum price to the farmer above 45s. per qr. given by the Corn Production Act.

Sir A. Griffith-Boscawen replied that the announcement as to wheat prices indicated that in the event of control being removed farmers still had the benefit of a free market, but if it was found necessary in the national interest to retain control they would receive the average c.i.f price of imported wheat, provided that price did not exceed 100 shillings per qr. of 504lbs. It was proposed to introduce a bill very shortly, under which guaranteed minimum prices based upon, and varying with, the cost of production, would be guaranteed on a higher scale than that provided in the Corn Production Act, 1917. He was aware that this was the moment when farmers were having to decide whether to sow wheat for a spring crop, or fallow their land for a wheat crop for 1921 harvest, or to sow it down to grass. It was hoped that the announcement recently made would have the effect desired, of stimulating the growth of wheat.

The House rose at 11.30 p.m.

In the House of Lords yesterday the Lord Chancellor took his seat on the Woolsack at 3.45 p.m.

CRIMINAL LAW (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Criminal Law (Amendment) Bill was presented by the Bishop of London and read a first time.

USE OF MUSEUMS AND GALLERIES.

Lord Sudeley called attention to the considerable waste of money now incurred on museums, galleries, and similar institutions, owing to the neglect to utilise them to their fullest extent. He moved the appointment of a committee to consider how they could be further adapted to public needs and be made of greater use for public benefit and instruction. He wished to see the extension of free popular lectures.

The Archbishop of Canterbury strongly supported the system of guides and popular lectures in museums and galleries.

Viscount Bryce, Lord Gainford, and Lord Shandon supported the resolution.

The Earl of Crawford, replying for the Government, said that, broadly speaking, the organisation, management, and equipment of our public galleries and museums excelled that to be found in any country in the world. It was hoped that the British Museum would be entirely vacated by Government staffs within a few months. He thought that the respective authorities were fully alive to their responsibilities, and were most anxious to promote the educational aspect of their work. The present would be an unfortunate moment to appoint a committee of inquiry with a reference so wide as was proposed.

The motion was withdrawn.

LAW OF PROPERTY BILL.

The Lord Chancellor moved the second reading of the Law of Property Bill, which seeks to effect a greater simplification in the practice of conveyancing, without, however, destroying the power to settle land. The main object of the bill is to assimilate the law of real and personal estate. The general principle is enacted in Clause 1, which puts freehold and customary land on the same footing as leasehold, and repeals the Statute of Uses. It is sought by the bill to make the sale of a piece of land as simple as that of any chattel. It was time now, the Lord Chancellor said, to take another step forward on the road of reform. If their lordships gave the bill a second reading, he proposed that it should be referred to a Joint Committee of both Houses.

Viscount Haldane supported the bill.

Viscount Cave said that the bill would produce something like a revolution in the law of real property. He suspended judgment on the big changes it proposed.

A second reading was given to the bill, and it was referred to a Committee of both Houses.

The House rose at 7.50 p.m.

A Warsaw telegram, dated Tuesday, states:—A Vilna telegram reports that Captain Harris, of the American Army, succumbed to injuries sustained during the disturbances at Kovno. It is officially stated that fifteen soldiers were killed and eighty-four wounded during the disturbances. A commission has been appointed to discover the ringleaders.

LAND PURCHASE AND HOME RULE.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY'S POSITION.

In the House of Commons yesterday,

Mr. Bonar Law informed Major O'Neill that it was the intention of the Government to introduce a bill for the completion of land purchase in Ireland, to be passed concurrently with the Government of Ireland Bill.

Sir W Mitchell-Thomson asked the Leader of the House whether it was the intention of the Government to take the second reading of the Government of Ireland Bill before Easter.

Mr. Bonar Law—I hope so.

Major O'Neill asked the Prime Minister whether it was intended to retain in the British Government the office of Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland after the passing into law of the Government of Ireland Bill.

Major O'Neill also asked the Prime Minister whether, in the case of constituencies returning more than one member to the Parliament of the United Kingdom under the provisions of the Government of Ireland Bill, it was intended that such constituencies should be divided.

Mr. Bonar Law—The points which my hon. friend raises are matters which can only be dealt with adequately in debate during the passage of the bill.

Major O'Neill—Is it not a fact that the bill contains schedules with regard to the number of members to be returned to this House, and can the right hon. gentleman not give some indication as to the manner in which, where two members are returned for the same constituency, they are to be elected? There is nothing in the bill to show that.

Mr. Bonar Law—I think it would be really impossible if members were to go through the bill bit by bit and ask for an interpretation of each. There is really no dealing with it except by discussion.

Captain Redmond—Have the Government not yet made up their minds whether there is to be a Chief Secretary for Ireland in this House if this bill ever passes?

Mr. Bonar Law—That is another question which can easily be raised in debate.

Captain Redmond—Does the right hon. gentleman not think that it is a vital question affecting the future Government of Ireland?

Mr. Bonar Law—I think there are other questions more vital. My hon. friend has not the same recollection of the debates on the Home Rule Act as I have, or he would know that the same points were raised over and over again in the discussion on that bill.

Captain Redmond—Will the right hon. gentleman kindly inform the House whether the words "Mr. Attorney-General" on the back of the bill refer to the Attorney-General for England, or the Attorney-General for Ireland?

Mr Bonar Law—They mean the Attorney-General for England.

THE MURDER OF PRIVATE NEWMAN.

MILITARY RAID ON QUEENSTOWN DOCKS.

About 300 soldiers of the Essex Regiment yesterday surrounded the Rushbrooke Docks at Queenstown. The workmen were then brought together, and a party of soldiers belonging to the Notts and Derby Regiment, who were attacked and disarmed last Saturday near the docks, scrutinised the assembled men, with a view to identification of those concerned in the attack. None of the wanted men was identified. Subsequently houses in the vicinity of the docks were searched, but without any satisfactory result. The military then returned to barracks.

FUNERAL OF PRIVATE NEWMAN.

The remains of the late Private William Newman, of the Notts and Derby Regiment, were removed yesterday evening from the Military Hospital for interment in Nottingham. The deceased was accorded full military honours, and as the funeral procession wended its way through the town to the Great Southern and Western Railway Station there were many evidences of sympathy by the townspeople.

SPECIAL EXTRA.

INTERVIEW WITH SIGNOR NITTI.

The Manchester Guardian to-day publishes an interview with the Italian Premier, which Signor Nitti granted before leaving London.

Alluding to the Adriatic question, Signor Nitti said:—"We shall find a way out, and we and the Jugo-Slavs will be friends; yes, and loyal friends. Do not magnify this frontier controversy by talking of Imperialism. As a matter of fact the futility of this allegation of Italian Imperialism is also proved by our persistent demand for the neutralisation of the Eastern Adriatic coast. What, after all, is Italy demanding on the Adriatic stripe of territory, the population of which is less than the number of Italian casualties during the war; and do not confuse the issue by talking of secret treaties? The London Treaty of 1915 was kept secret as a military precaution, but the necessities of the war, as well as its spirit, are foreign to the present situation. "At any rate, I will observe," added Signor Nitti, with a smile, "that those who might complain of the secret, are, indeed, after all the Italian people."

Regarding the general situation in Europe, he said—I was delighted to find my colleagues on the Supreme Council in agreement with me in their anxiety to deal with the problem of exchange. Credit means confidence, and if Europe is to obtain on credit the means of restoring her production, and thereby of saving her life, she has to convince the rest of the world that she means to use the commodities that they lend her for productive ends. She must make it clear that the next half-dozen years in Europe are not going to be like the last—that Europe is not going to make war again. But this conviction outside Europe cannot be created without a real change in the European situation. The fighting ceased sixteen months ago, but Europe has still been dominated by the war spirit. The Conference has lasted too long.

In pleading for reconciliation, Signor Nitti mentioned the Moslem question as an anxiety to the world. It is a great thing, he said, that we are not going to suffocate the Turk, but to help him on to his feet, like the other ruined peoples.

THE MEANING OF STRIKES.

The Morning Post, in a leading article, says: If the various Transport Unions respond to the call of the National Transport Workers' Federation, the Government and the country will very shortly be confronted with another organised attempt to blackmail the community. The threat to strike has been described as sudden—"dramatic suddenness" is the favourite expression—but in truth it is nothing of the kind. It has been long preparing in accordance with a schedule arranged by those revolutionary Labour leaders, whose occupation (and livelihood) it is to arrange these things. The aim of the revolutionary Labour leaders is gradually to make all industry carried on under existing conditions impossible. To that end the most effectual and the quickest means is to foment a perpetual agitation, creating an instability which checks enterprise and harasses the capitalist and the employer, so that ultimately they will be compelled to abandon the control of industry, which will then be assumed by workmen. The scheme is known as Syndicalism.

The Daily Telegraph points out the need for immediate national realisation of the peril to industry and reconstruction which these continuous strikes involve. The action of the transport workers is only a symptom of a deep-seated and wide-spread movement. If the tragic race between prices and wages is to continue, it can only end in national bankruptcy.

POWERS OF FOOD MINISTRY.

The Daily Mail Lobby Correspondent says—The powers of the Food Ministry, the continuance of which for five years is suggested, will be extended to other articles in common use besides food—clothing being a case in point.

NAVY ESTIMATES.

The London Daily Express understands that the Navy Estimates, shortly to be presented to Parliament, will be found to be less than half the amount voted for 1919-1920. The Admiralty will not present a new programme of big shipbuilding.

THE UNITED STATES AND THE WEST INDIES.

The Daily Mail New York Correspondent, telegraphing on Wednesday, says—The Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says that the prosecution of a plan for the purchase "of some part of Great Britain's territorial possessions in this Continent, including the islands of the West Indies, will be the first task to which the new Secretary, Mr. Bainbridge Colby, will address himself when he enters upon his duties." The correspondent observes that there is a growing apprehension in Administration circles lest there may develop through the summer and during the Presidential campaign a strong anti-British sentiment. The condition in which the debt of Great Britain to this country stands is the chief element of danger in an anti-British campaign, and the Administration is represented as taking the view that "the proposed plan would go far to make the American people more reconciled to that debt."

DEMPSEY'S WARRANT LOST.

The New York Correspondent of the Daily Mail, telegraphing on Wednesday, says:—"Where are the warrants against us?" is a question vainly addressed for two days to the Public Prosecutor at Los Angeles, California, by Dempsey, the boxer, and his manager, Jack Kearns. The warrants were posted from San Francisco on Saturday, and have not yet arrived at Los Angeles. The delay produces much humorous comment on the efficiency of the post office. Whether it is due to other causes than inefficiency is also the subject of speculation. In any case, the champion and his manager have informed the Public Prosecutor of their willingness to surrender, and to furnish bail for their appearance at San Francisco as soon as the warrants are forthcoming.

THE O'MARA OPERA COMPANY.

"The Lily of Killarney" is a work of perennial interest to Irish theatre-goers, and the Gaiety Theatre was crammed last night to the limit of its capacity. The cast was not so strong as it was on Mr. O'Mara's last visit to Dublin, Mr. Pegg being replaced in the part of Hardress Cregan by Mr. Albert Hallett. Nevertheless, the performance was very creditable, and was greeted with thunderous applause. A feature was the delightful singing of Miss Dorothy Phillips as Eily. She sang "I'm Alone" with exquisite delicacy, and proved herself to be an artist to the finger-tips. The chorus work was weak, especially at the end of Act 2, where it was badly out of tune. Mr. O'Mara as Myles was excellent. His rich brogue atoned for the amateurish Irishisms of some of the cast, and he and Mr. John Browner as Father Tom gave the opera an abundance of local colour. As Danny Mann, Mr. Olivere was in his usual good form, and sang his part with real dramatic effect.

To-night—"Tannhäuser."

"Whirl with the Whirling World!"

"With adults, as with children, some enter cordially into the game, and whirl with the whirling world; others have cold hands and remain bystanders."
—EMERSON.

Low vitality—that is the trouble with these non-whirlers.

They haven't enough nerve-force—only enough to keep them languidly existing—no surplus for the fun of life.

Yet, if only they knew it, nothing is easier than to increase your nerve-force: Sanatogen does it—by 63 per cent. in six weeks!

That isn't a mere advertising statement. It was proved at the International Medical Congress, which awarded Sanatogen its Grand Prix—the highest medical honour on record.

Think what it means—this huge increase in the driving-power of the human machine—the ultimate source of all activity, mental or physical!

But don't imagine you can get that result from the occasional, half-hearted use of Sanatogen—a dose now and then, when you happen to think of it.

You must take it regularly, persistently—make an everyday habit of it—for forty-two days in succession—and no more think of missing it than you would an ordinary meal.

Be sceptical if you like. Sanatogen is no faith-cure. It brings its results, whether you expect them or not—if you will but give it the chance. Determine to do so—and begin now. Buy a 10/9 tin at your chemist's, which works out at less than 2½d. per dose; and look for the name Genatosan, Ltd. (Makers of Formamint, Genasprin, etc.), 12, Chenies St., London, W.C.1. THE ST. VINCENT DE PAUL ORPHANAGE, GLASNEVIN.

The Committee of the St. Vincent de Paul Orphanage announce in our advertising columns that the annual charity sermon on behalf of the institution will be preached on Sunday next in the Church of St. Francis Xavier, Upper Gardiner street. Since the establishment of the St. Vincent de Paul Orphanage sixty-five years ago 1,578 boys have been admitted. The Christian Brothers, who are in charge of the institution, bestow upon the boys an excellent moral and intellectual training, and many now hold places of trust in the city and elsewhere. In attaining this result there is involved the annual expenditure of over £4,690, whilst the payment of pensions from the funds of the Society and from patrons of boys produces £3,265, leaving to the Committee the task of providing the large balance, and they rely on their charitable friends to help them.

In the course of a debate in the Prussian Assembly on the bill relating to a financial settlement with the Hohenzollerns, Herr Graef (Social Democrat) vehemently attacked the ex-Kaiser, amid applause from the Left and loud protests from the Right.

RATHMINES URBAN COUNCIL.

LIGHTS TO BE EXTINGUISHED FROM MIDNIGHT.

The monthly meeting of Rathmines Urban District Council was held yesterday, Mr. R. Benson, J.P., Chairman, presiding. A letter was read from Mr. J. J. McKenzie regarding the extinguishing of the lights of the township on the night of February 23rd last, and pointing out that some of the roads were left in a very dangerous state, as lights had been extinguished at 11 o'clock on that night.

The Chairman said that he had asked for a statement on the matter from the Electrical Engineer, who reported that all the lamps were now kept burning all night.

Miss ffrench-Mullen—I understand that the Curfew Order is costing £78 per month.

The Clerk said that that was so.

Mrs. Kent asked why the ratepayers should be paying this amount for lights which were not of use, as there was no one out.

Mr. McKenzie said that the lights were necessary to enable the forces of law and order to see if there were any other people against law and order on the public highway at night.

Mrs. Mulcahy said that the lights were not required by anyone, as the forces of law and order were provided with searchlights.

Mrs. Kent proposed that the lights of the township be extinguished at the scheduled time.

The Clerk said that this meant that they would not be kept burning from 12 to 5 a.m.

The motion was carried by eight votes to five.

Dr. Goulding proposed an amendment that the matter be referred back to the Lighting Committee, and Mr. Carruthers seconded.

The Chairman said that amendments were out of order, as the motion was carried.

Some of the members stated that they were under a misapprehension as to the meaning of "scheduled time."

BLACKROCK URBAN COUNCIL.

UPROARIOUS SCENES.

Extraordinary scenes of disorder took place last night at the meeting of the Blackrock Urban Council, at which Mr. Frank Stokes, J.P., Chairman, presided.

The scenes arose out of a proposal by Mr. Bolger to suspend the standing orders so that the following notice of motion on the agenda, in the name of Mr. O'Keeffe, could be taken out of its order:—"That, particularly because the national and local development of our Irish industries will tend to reduce the pressing burden of municipal rates, this Council welcomes the efforts of the D.I.D.A. and the Gaelic League to develop these industries by organising the Irish week display of Irish goods."

The Chairman (Mr. F. Stokes, J.P.) ruled the motion out of order.

Several councillors demanded his reasons.

The Chairman replied—My reasons are that I am ruling it out of order. Next business, Mr. Town Clerk.

An angry scene followed, and a motion that Mr. Stokes should vacate the chair was also ruled out. This was succeeded by another scene, during which Councillor McCracken was moved to the chair.

Mr. O'Connor said that the day of the bull dog bluff was over in Ireland.

Mr. McCracken said that the Chairman looked upon himself as the Lord Salisbury of the Unionist Party, but you are not going to do the Lord Salisbury here, he said.

The Chairman—Go on with the business.

Mr. Field said that he thought that the Chairman should give his ruling.

The Chairman said that he had already given his ruling. They were only wasting time. He asked the Town Clerk to proceed.

Mr. O'Keeffe—He will not until you put the motion.

Other demands of a similar kind were made, and, the Chairman still refusing to put the motion, Mr. O'Keeffe, Mr. O'Connor, and other members rose and sang "The Soldier's Song." The song was repeated when an attempt was made to proceed with items on the agenda, but after further disturbance the business was continued.

RATHDOWN DISPENSARY DOCTORS' PROTEST.

At the meeting of the Rathdown Guardians yesterday, a letter was received from Dr. C. F. M. Judd, Hon. Secretary, Rathdown Medical Officers' Association, in which he stated that, with the consent of his fellow-medical officers, he assured the Guardians that the resolution of last week was in no wise intended as a threat to the Guardians. They were far too sensible of the unvarying kindness, justice, and sympathy of the Guardians, and realised that it would be most ungrateful and most unbecoming of them to issue any threat to the Guardians. The members of his Association protested most strongly against the attempted ramming down their throats of a settlement based on the mere ipse dixit of a bureaucratic Jack-in-office of the Custom House, with no knowledge of, and apparently no interest in, the expenses and conditions of a dispensary doctor's life. The maximum of their demand was that the unanimous considered resolution of the Board of Guardians be put into effect, and that the whole matter be referred to impartial arbitration, the result of which they were prepared to abide by legally. They looked with confidence to the Rathdown Board of Guardians to help them to stand "against this obscure bureaucracy, and to vindicate the validity, justice, and popularity of their own recommendation. We are very grateful to them for their uniform kindness to us in the past, and we can assure them that should the unfortunate necessity arise for the adoption of the extreme measures foreshadowed in our resolution, the sick poor, whose guardians they are, will suffer nothing because of our struggle for a living wage."

Captain McCombie said that the matter was one in which the Guardians might stand aside. It was between the Local Government Board and the doctors. The doctors' resolution conveyed the impression that they contemplated resigning next Wednesday; that was why they looked on it as a threat.

The Chairman said that he had remarked that, no doubt, the Local Government Board would send down pensioners who had been employed in the Army to take the doctors' places. The Guardians had unanimously approved of the doctors being put on a certain scale of salaries. Let the doctors fight the Local Government Board, and they would have the Guardians' help as far as lay in their power. They would send this letter on to the Local Government Board.

The Clerk—Yes; it will be very useful to them. (Laughter.)

Mr. Field asked if Dr. Pim, the workhouse doctor, was a signatory to that resolution.

Mr. Cunniam said that he was.

CLERGY SONS' EDUCATION SOCIETY.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The annual meeting of the Clergy Sons' Education Society was held yesterday at their offices, No. 11 Molesworth street, Dublin. The Archbishop of Dublin presided, and there were present—Rev. Canon Hayes, Rev. F. Greer, R. D. Ormsby, C. Leeper, E. Edwards, Rev. Canon Pim, Rev. P. Phair, Rev. J. H. Alcock.

Apologies for non-attendance were received from Lady Everard and the Rev. Canon Day.

The report and balance sheet were submitted by the hon. secretary and passed. The report stated that the annual subscriptions and donations, offertories, part payment of pupils, and diocesan collections for 1919 amounted to £737 13s. 7d. The Committee feel that much more might be done in Church and diocesan collections. Two elections were held in 1919, at which there were four candidates for free scholarships and six for part-paying scholarships; of these ten, two free and three part-paying scholars were elected by the votes of subscribers, and one free and two part-paying scholars were elected on the Special Fund—eight elected from ten candidates. There are now on the books 30 boys—11 free scholars and 19 part-paying. The Committee deeply regret the loss through death of the following friends and subscribers:—Sir Wm. Q. Ewart, S. Constable, Rev. Canon Homan, Mrs. George Longfield, John Parkes, Dr. R. Dancer Purefoy, the Bishop of Meath, Edgar White, Lord Langford, Miss J. Bunbury. The Committee earnestly hope that the urgent need of assistance in the cost of education for the sons of our poorer clergy will be more widely recognised, and that, with God's blessing, the work will go on and prosper.

The Committee, hon. secretaries, and hon. treasurer were re-elected. The meeting was closed with the Benediction.

IRISH PUBLIC BODIES AND DAIL EIREANN.

At a meeting of the Waterford Corporation yesterday, the Mayor, Dr. V. White (Sinn Fein), proposed the following resolution:—"The Corporation acknowledges the authority of Dail Eireann (Irish Parliament) as the duly authorised Government of the Irish people, and formally undertake to give effect to all decrees promulgated thereby."

Copies were ordered to be sent to the Irish Republican Minister for Foreign Affairs for transmission to the Governments of Europe and the American Senate. The only dissentient was Mrs. Sarah White (Unionist).

A similar resolution was passed by the Wicklow Urban Council, two members dissenting.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY CLUB.

OPENING OF NEW PREMISES.

The new premises of the Girls' Friendly Society at 50 Dawson street, Dublin, were opened by the Archbishop of Dublin on Monday last. The President of the Society, Mrs. Lefroy, briefly explained that the object of the Club was to provide a comfortable meeting place for the girls of Dublin and neighbourhood, where they could get meals at a reasonable charge, and rooms in which to spend their leisure time, and where pleasant social evenings could also be arranged. She felt the Club would also be of great benefit to country girls living in Dublin, who had, perhaps, few friends to go to. The subscription was 1s. per quarter to all belonging to the Society, and 1s. 6d. to others. Voluntary helpers were much needed, and would be welcomed at the Club at any time between 12.30 and 9.30. Over thirty girls had been served that morning with hot luncheons. Gifts of chairs, tables, curtains, or any useful article would be gladly received.

Mrs. Lefroy then called on the Archbishop, who opened the Club with prayer.

His Grace said that he heartily welcomed the undertaking, and wished it every blessing and success. He felt that there was great need for clubs of the kind; that one of the most urgent calls of the day was for fellowship, and he felt sure the Club would be a means of fostering this in the highest way.

Miss Carson (vice-president) thanked the Archbishop for his kindness in opening the Club, and said that his presence with them had given much encouragement to the workers.

After tea the guests inspected the rooms. Among those present were:—The Lady Ardilaun, Lady Thompson, Mrs. D'Arcy, the Hon. Sybil Hamilton, the Rev. Canon Day, the Rev. Canon and Mrs. Hayes, the Rev. T. W. E. Drury and Mrs. Drury, Mrs. Olphert, Miss H. Colvill, Mrs. George Stokes, Mrs. Darley, Miss Darley, Mrs. George May, Miss Dickson, etc., etc.; and members of the Club Committee:—Mrs. Colles, Mrs. Ffrench, Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Thacker, Mrs. Hewson, Miss Eames, Miss Thacker (hon. secretary), Miss Ross Todd (hon. treasurer).

Lady HolmPatrick, President, was unavoidably prevented from being present; also Miss S. Walker, an active member of the Committee.

DUBLIN BOARD OF GUARDIANS.

At the meeting yesterday of the Dublin Board of Guardians (Mr. J. Scully, J.P., presiding), a deputation on behalf of the Stationary Engineers' Society applied that double-time pay for Sunday work be given to the man in charge of the boiler in the workhouse. The man in question was stated to be working 47 hours a week.

The Chairman said that the matter should be placed on the agenda and 14 days' notice given, and this was agreed to, and the deputation withdrew.

A letter was read from the Grocers' Assistants' Association, acknowledging the receipt of a resolution passed at the last meeting of the Guardians, favouring arbitration in the grocery trade dispute. The letter stated that the assistants' committee were glad to know that the Board recognised that the grocers had a bad case when they refused to submit their case to arbitration.

Mr. Richardson complained that the report which had appeared in the Press represented that the resolution was passed unanimously, whereas he and the Chairman had dissented.

The Chairman said that the report in question conveyed that he and Mr. Richardson were parties to supporting a resolution which practically condemned their own trade. That was very unfair to both of them. They were in favour of submitting the question of the bonus to arbitration, but not the question of wages. No division on the resolution was challenged.

Mrs. Evans said that she understood at the time that the Chairman joined in the resolution, and she was rather surprised and pleased that he did so.

The matter afterwards dropped.

Miss Louie Bennett, on behalf of Nurse E. Moonan, dismissed from the service of the Board, and on behalf of the nurses' organisation, asked that the nurse be reinstated, and a careful investigation made of the charge made against her.

The Master of the Workhouse said that the dismissal of the nurse was in consequence of the nurse's failure to keep a list of the clothing of the inmates and properly docket them.

Miss Bennett said that the nurse had been overworked, and not able to deal with the clothing. On the night in question the nurse had 60 cases to deal with, and had no time to put by and docket their clothing.

The matter was referred to a committee.

PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

PROVISIONAL SETTLEMENT OF THE BELFAST COAL DISPUTE.—A provisional settlement has been arrived at in connection with the Belfast coal strike. Arbitration has been accepted by both sides. The men resume work to-day.

HOUSING SCHEME SHELVED.—The Enniskillen Rural Council on Tuesday agreed unanimously to postpone the present labourers' cottage scheme, on account of the heavy charge that would fall upon the rates.

BOY'S SINGULAR DEATH.—James Kearney (11), of Leixlip, succumbed on Sunday to burns received as the result of a celluloid collar which he was wearing becoming ignited by a candle which he was carrying.

WARRENPOINT SINN FEINERS AND THE POLICE.—At the meeting of Warrenpoint Urban Council on Monday night, Mr. J. McGovern (Sinn Fein), having elicited the fact that the local police were supplied with gas free, gave notice to have this privilege withdrawn, remarking that the ratepayers had enough to pay for.

THE LATE MR. JOHN E. REDMOND.—The Redmond Memorial Committee in Wexford have arranged for the celebration of a Requiem Office and High Mass for the repose of the soul of the late Mr. John E. Redmond in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Wexford, on Monday next, at 11 o'clock.

GIFT FOR BELFAST HOSPITAL.—At a meeting of the Board of Management of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast, yesterday, a letter was read from Sir Robert Kennedy, Director-in-Chief for Ulster of the Ulster Joint V.A.D. Committee (British Red Cross Order of St. John), enclosing a cheque for £1,000, which, with the £9,000 already sent, makes a total of £10,000, to name a ward in the hospital.

FLAX-GROWERS' DEPUTATION IN LONDON.—A deputation from the Irish Flax-Growers' Association, consisting of Messrs. J. C. Nixon (Belfast), F. B. Small, J.P. (Moira), W. J. Fahy (Cork), J. W. Stewart (Coleraine), W. R. Todd (Benburb), and T. J. Reid (Ballina), arrived in London yesterday to secure, if possible, a hearing from the Prime Minister, and with the object of putting the case for flax decontrol before members of Parliament.

SEQUEL TO A FOX IN A TRAP.—Three young lads, William Greene, Andrew Greene, and Stephen Greene, whose ages ranged from 6 to 12 years, were summoned through their father, William Greene, with poaching on the Connolly Estate, near Celbridge. John Shaw, gamekeeper, said that he found the boys on the estate on Sunday morning setting a trap. Witness was on the watch owing to a fox having been caught in a trap. William Greene, the father of the boys, was fined £2, with the alternative of a month's imprisonment, and he said that he would accept the latter. Colonel Claude Cane, presiding, said that the boys were the terror of the neighbourhood.

GOREY TOWN COMMISSIONERS AND THE EASTER REBELLION.—At the meeting of the Gorey Town Commissioners on Tuesday night, the Chairman, Mr. John Byrne, proposed that the resolution of Tullamore Guardians of the 5th May, 1916, "Condemning the Easter Week rebellion, as being gravely detrimental to the political and industrial interests of Ireland, and calling upon all Nationalist Irishmen to support Mr. John Redmond's constitutional policy," be expunged from the books. The resolution was passed, and the Chairman then wrote across the resolution: "Rescinded unanimously by the Commissioners."

AGED FARMER'S EXCITING EXPERIENCE.—At Stranorlar Petty Sessions yesterday Neil and Francis Gallagher, brothers and farmers, were charged with the theft of £272 1/6 from James Curran (75), farmer. Curran deposed that he was awakened on the night of 22nd February. On going into the kitchen he was pulled down, and tied with a rope. The muzzle of a pistol was placed against his ear, and a man said: "Tell me where your money is or I will knock your brains out." He recognised this man by his voice as Francis Gallagher. He also recognised Neil Gallagher by his voice. His money was returned whilst he was from home last Monday, except a sum of £6 16/-. Prisoners were returned for trial.

CHURCH OF IRELAND CENTRAL EMERGENCY FUND.

A meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Church of Ireland Central Emergency Fund was held at 52 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, on Tuesday. There were present:—J. A. Maconchy, in the chair; Rev. E. H. Lewis Crosby, B.D.; J. W. Dane, D.L., and Canon H. K. Moore, D.D.

The programme for the conference on the 18th inst. was approved, copies of which are to be sent to each member summoned to the conference. An anonymous gift of War Savings Certificate, value for £86, was gratefully accepted by the Committee.

After transacting other business, the Committee adjourned to the 16th inst.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—There is, as your recent leading article points out, a good deal to be said against the latest Home Rule Bill, but there is also much to be said in its favour. It, of course, requires a good deal of amendment, but it can be made an excellent measure, and is surely preferable to the present system, which, although unfortunately necessary, as things now are in Ireland, could not possibly exist as a permanency. If the bill is amended to include the whole of Ulster, and if the Council were turned into a Senate for the whole of Ireland, on the lines of a partly nominated and partly elected body, it would add enormously to the value of the measure, and lessen in an equal degree the hostility of large and important divisions of opinion to its various proposals. I feel certain that the Government would not object to its radical amendment, provided that the essential features of the bill were preserved. It is manifest, for instance, that any attempt to force on Ireland at present either Dominion Home Rule or a Republic would at once cause a revolution.

It is said that Ulster would never consent to a Parliament for the Province. This is untrue. I believe that Ulster would prefer such a solution. Only yesterday I was speaking to one of the ablest, best known, and most useful public men in Ireland, and, although he hates the new Home Rule Bill, and considers the Union the only really effective method of governing Ireland, he would prefer a Parliament for the whole of Ulster rather than one for the six counties. Ulster has traditions and a history of its own, as well as distinct boundaries and institutions which it wants to preserve as a whole. Besides, the Unionist population are bound by the terms of their solemn Covenant, and could not in honour desert their co-religionists. Nor will they do so, if the Ulster Unionist Council represents the feelings, desires, and interests of the whole of the Protestant and loyal Roman Catholic inhabitants of Ulster.

Of course, all these matters are held over until Sir Edward Carson expresses his views and gives his considered advice. I have little doubt, however, that he will place no obstacle in the way of the union of Ulster, and in doing so he will give further evidence of his loyalty to principle, to his own pledged word and that of his people, and to the best interests of Ireland and the British Empire. Granted, then, that the immense probabilities are in favour of this solution, one of the chief obstacles to the bill falls to the ground. Once the uncertainties surrounding the present position were removed, Ulster would go ahead like wild-fire, would quickly increase her population, manufactories, shipping, and other business interests, and would set an example of success from the very first which the Southern Parliament would be sure to imitate.

It is supposed that the Southern Parliament would be handed over to the Sinn Feiners. Nothing is more unlikely. Once this bill becomes law the constitutional Nationalists will again raise their heads, and, in conjunction with the large and important Unionist element in the South, will probably send a large constitutional majority to the Southern Parliament. This will ensure steady and just government, and by slow degrees is bound to lead to union in the end. This is the conclusion that all lovers of Ireland hope and pray for, and in this much-abused bill lies the way to safety and the desired haven of rest and peace.—Yours, etc.,

EDWARD THOMPSON, F.R.C.S.I.

RAILWAY FARES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In regard to your leader on railway travelling, the public should press for two things particularly:—(1) The restoration to seven days as the time-limit during which the outward half of a return ticket should be available. This has been cut down to three days, a preposterously short time, for which no good reason except Government interference can be adduced.

(2) Return tickets should be again available for pre-war periods, and not the restricted times at present. These reforms do not depend upon engines and rolling-stock, but are rather common-sense matters, with which the directors of the various companies never would have interfered had they been let alone.—Yours, etc.,

"ONE OF THE PUBLIC."

Dublin, March 3rd, 1920.

NEW ISSUES.

RICHARD THOMAS AND CO., LTD.

This well-known firm of tinplate and steel manufacturers, which has an issued capital of £2,180,748, is making an issue of 1,500,000 6 p.c. (tax free up to 6s. in the £) Cumulative Preference shares, the return on which at the present rate of tax is equal to £8 11s. 5d. The directors and their friends hold all the Ordinary shares, and no debentures can be placed before the preference now offered without the consent of two-thirds of the holders. The firm has been established 35 years. It is the largest manufacturer of tinplates in Europe, and owns 14 tinplate factories in South Wales and elsewhere. The mills have a capacity of 4,500 tons per week, and the company also owns or controls important iron ore and coal companies, so that all its raw material is under its own hand. The assets are £5,495,939, and the average net profits for the four years ending September, 1919, cover the interest on the present issue more than 2½ times over. Good dividends have been paid on the Ordinary shares for every year since the company's incorporation. The shares are a choice industrial investment. The list of applications will close on the 10th inst. (Prospectus, page 8).

THE KENT PORTLAND CEMENT CO., LTD.

The Kent Portland Cement Company has a capital of £2,500,000 in £1 Ordinary shares, and is now making an offer of 750,000 at par, and 450,000 are being allocated as fully-paid to holders of the share capital of the Kent Portland Cement Works, Ltd., the vendors of the undertaking, with its extensive freehold and leasehold properties at Stone, Greenhithe, Kent, its new and important works, with railway and wharfage facilities already in a well-advanced state of construction. The directors of the company are of the opinion that the present is an exceptionally favourable time for engaging in the manufacture of cement. The demand for years will be insistent and difficult to meet. Enormous quantities will be required for reconstruction in the areas devastated during the war, while in this country it is difficult to estimate the quantity required in connection with housing schemes and the provision of buildings of all kinds to make up the accumulated deficiency of past years. It is estimated that the company will be in a position to earn substantial dividends on the capital as soon as the first unit is in operation. There is undoubtedly a strong demand for cement at remunerative prices, and, well-managed, the company has a wide field before it. The application list will close on or before the 10th inst. (Prospectus, page 9.)

EASTWOODS, LTD.

The London Joint City and Midland Bank and branches, including the Belfast Banking Company, will receive subscriptions for 260,000 of the 300,000 shares of £1 each, which form the capital of Eastwoods, Ltd., the remaining 40,000 being allotted fully paid to the vendor in part payment of the purchase price, £135,000 being the cash payment. The company will take over the brick-making and builders merchants' business of Eastwoods and Co., Ltd., and nine brickfields in the counties of Northampton, Bedfordshire, Essex, and Kent, from which an output of not less than 72,000,000 bricks in the current year is estimated. Amongst the various properties and assets of the company, which have been valued at £300,463, are 15 wharves round London, 42 sailing barges, and other assets. The materials and stock-in-trade, which includes 40,000,000 bricks ready for sale, will be taken over and paid for in cash at a valuation. The profits of the manufacturing output of 72,000,000 bricks for the present year are calculated to amount to over £40,000. When the works are producing to their fullest capacity on the same basis, the profits are expected to amount to over £70,000. To this is added the estimated profits resulting from the merchants and freight-carrying business amounting to another £22,500. The present issue will provide, after payment of the purchase price and preliminary expenses, a working capital of approximately £100,000. The profits are estimated, and if the estimates are realised, the returns will be considerable. The list of applications will close on or before March 15. (Prospectus, page 8).

WILL OF THE LATE REV. S. PRENTER, D.D.

The Rev. Samuel Prenter, M.A., D.D., LL.D., of 1 Sydenham road, Dundrum, Dublin, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland in 1904-5, Minister Emeritus of Ormond quay Presbyterian Church, Dublin, who died on January 1st, has left personal property of the value of £5,650 16/8. Probate is granted to the Rev. Robert Prenter, of St. Mark's Manse, Dundee, son, and George Burge Wilson, of Sydenham road, Dundrum, son-in-law. The testator gives £200 to his son Robert, £500 to his son Samuel, £100 to his sister, Mrs. M'Crea, and the residue to his daughters, Margaret and Edith.

BALLSBRIDGE BULL SALE.

HIGH PRICES FOR PREMIUM BULLS.

INCREASED AVERAGES.

At the Royal Dublin Society's Showyard, Ballsbridge, yesterday the sales of bulls were concluded. From the fact that the general average of the stock showed an improvement it is evident that breeders are beginning to realise that the better the cattle the better the prices. Messrs. John Thornton and Co. again disposed of the Shorthorns, and there was a great run on bulls with premiums and merit. Incidentally it may be mentioned that the first Tuesday and Wednesday in March have been fixed by the Royal Dublin Society as the dates of their annual Spring Show and Sale. In the second ring, Messrs. Gavin Low, Ltd., sold the Aberdeen Angus. Amongst the Shorthorns Mr. Wrench's reserve champion, The Last Baron, which he intends to retain as a stock bull, was passed through the ring at a reserve of 5,000 guineas, and thus remains in the possession of this enterprising and successful breeder. Mr. Marshall secured Miss Staple's well-bred Dunmore Sunbeam's Champion at 450 guineas. At 50 guineas less Mr. Moore, Donaghmore, became the owner of Mr. P. Browne's second prize February yearling Armistice. The champion Shorthorn, Mr. Wrench's Champion's First, by Red Baron Groat, last year's champion, which brought 1,700 guineas, was sold to one of the judges, Mr. R. H. Green, Ashford, Kent, for 1,300 guineas. Mr Marshall was also the buyer of Mr. Wrench's grand second prize March calf, Conquering Crocus, for which he paid 620 guineas. Miss Staple's Dunmore Franklin's Champion, first in the April Class, brought 400 guineas from Mr. J. Miles, Moy. The next best price was 730 guineas paid by Mr. H. J. C. Toler Aylward for Mr. Wrench's Patriotic Prince, second in his class, Mr. Barrington Jellett being the runner-up. For Aberdeen Angus the top price was 520 guineas, paid by Mr. Noble Johnston for Mr. R. C. Williams' Blackman, reserve for the championship. The best bid for the champion, Burgo of Coolcower, was 130 guineas, and he was withdrawn, his reserve being 400 guineas. Mr. F. J. Robbs' premier winner, Phalarian, was sold to Mr. J. Sidey for 300 guineas.

AVERAGE PRICES.

The following return shows the average prices per head as compared with last year, and also the total amount realised on the sales:—

Shorthorns—Average for	1920	£103
,, ,, ,,	1919	£77
Aberdeen-Angus ,, ,,	1920	£85
,, ,, ,,	1919	£56
Herefords ,, ,,	1920	£80
,, ,, ,,	1919	£69
Total sales in	1920	£41,426
,, ,, ,,	1919	£35,058

The result of the Society's show and sale is again a record. This is the first occasion on which such a remarkable average has been secured, and is a record for Ireland. Although record prices were not achieved for single animals, the average was much higher than at any previous show and sale of the Society, and reflects very great credit on the general all-round improvement in the breeding and preparation of stock for this important annual fixture.

Appended is a list of the chief prices:—

DUBLIN AND DISTRICT.

DEATH IN A RAILWAY CARRIAGE.—A woman, who, it is stated, is Julia Griffin, of Claremorris, Co. Mayo, was found in a collapsed condition in a compartment of a train which arrived at Broadstone Station, Dublin, yesterday from the West of Ireland. She subsequently died.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO MURDER.—In the Northern Police Court, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Lupton, Mathew Wiatt, 18 St. Benedict Gardens, was charged with attempting to murder his wife by putting salts of lemon into her tea, and was remanded for a week. It was stated that his wife had kept some of the tea which her husband gave to her, and that the police were having it analysed. Mr. P. O'Reilly (Messrs. Lidwell and O'Reilly, solicitors) appeared for the defendant.

INQUEST ON DUBLIN PLASTERER.—A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by a Dublin jury yesterday on the body of James O'Brien, a plasterer, of 16 Charlemont place, who became ill at his work, and was dead when brought to hospital.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS TO THE NORTH WALL.—Improvements have been, and are still being, made on the back road to the Port of Dublin. From Annesley Bridge Fairview, eastward along the Wharf road for fully a couple of miles, a splendid new concrete footpath has been constructed, and the paving with stone setts of the carriage way is also in progress at present. Many hundreds of shipyard workers, with employes of Messrs. Gouldings, the Merchants' Warehousing Co., and other concerns at the east end of the port use the Wharf road for direct access to their work.

LIVE STOCK FROM LAMBAY ISLAND.—Amongst the entries of shipping arriving at the Port of Dublin yesterday there was set forth the name of a vessel named the Shamrock, whose port of departure was given as Lambay. She was a sailing vessel, technically described as a "ketch," whose cargo was composed of pigs. Lambay is improving as a live stock raising and exporting island, and pork of tender age probably pays better than rabbits, of which the island is understood to have more than a few superfluous brace.

CHARGES AGAINST MOTOR CYCLIST.—In the Northern Police Court, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Lupton, K.C., Lieut. Cannon, of the Royal Air Force, was charged with having driven a motor bicycle without a light in Dorset street on the 15th October last, and also with careless driving on the same occasion. The evidence given was that Lieut. Cannon was cycling, without lights, at the rate of 20 to 25 miles an hour, and knocked down a gentleman, who was crossing Dorset street, injuring him. He was not traced until the 1st of January last. The defendant denied that he ever drove without lights, and said that he could not recall incidents of five months ago. The defendant was fined 20/- on the charge of driving without a light, and adjourned the second charge generally. Mr. Goode, solicitor for defendant, gave notice of appeal.

Thousands of Ladies keep a box of Martin's Pills in the house. Those who use them recommend them, hence their enormous sale. Price 5s., post free. Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Prior and Co., Chemists, Londonderry, sell them, or from Proprietors, Martin Chemist, Southampton.—(Advt.)

Two tramcars collided during a fog at Walthamstow yesterday. Both drivers were severely shaken, and one conductor slightly injured. Happily there were few passengers, and they were only shaken. The fronts of both cars were wrecked.

White's
is the most nutritious and economical food on earth.

WHITE'S WAFER OATMEAL is made from the best selected Irish Oats, which are admittedly the most deliciously flavoured in the world.

There is more energy and food value in a small plateful of WHITE'S WAFER OATMEAL than in all the rest of the breakfast.

Packed in air-tight, damp-proof packets, which retain the delightful flavour.

All Grocers. Order some to-day.

The Economical Car

The Maxwell is economical in first cost because of mass production, and economical in upkeep because it is built to last, is light on tyres and gives the maximum mileage per gallon of petrol used. 300,000 Maxwell owners confirm these facts.

The 1920 Maxwell
THE OWNER DRIVER'S CAR

contains the best steel that money can buy and has the combination of highly skilled labour and the most up-to-date machinery to build it. The improvements include amongst others a new electrical unit which reduces battery wear, a larger radiator which adds to the beauty of the car, and a stronger and better designed rear axle. May we send you details?

Nerves, Pain and Wasting.

Girl who had Suffered all her Life Cured by Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

Miss Amy Geddes, 130 Sibley Grove East Ham, London, E. 6, says :—"I had St. Vitus' Dance when I was only four, as the result of a fright, and from that time I suffered continuously. All through childhood I was tortured with nerves, and pains in my head that sometimes were simply agonising. I wasted away, too, till I was almost a living skeleton. I couldn't play like other children, and I never got any real rest because I simply couldn't sleep. I didn't eat well either, and everybody who knew me believed I was just wasting away. Mother took me to doctors and hospital, but it was no use. As I grew up I wanted to work like other girls but I couldn't. I was laughed at when I tried.

"I was nearly 15 when I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets and I only wish I had got them sooner. With the second box I felt better, and in a year I was a different girl altogether. Now at nineteen I think I am the biggest and the healthiest of the family. I go to work every day and feel simply splendid."

Miss Amy Geddes

IRISH HUNTER STUD BOOK.

A meeting of hunter breeders and owners was held at the Irish Farmers' Union, 37 Upper Fitzwilliam street, Dublin, on Tuesday. Mr. D. J. Cogan, who was appointed Chairman, pointed out that the Hunters' Improvement Society's Stud Book did not represent Irish breeders, as is proved by the fact that the number of Irish brood mares entered for that stud book total only about twenty-five per annum. Then, again, the London Society has annually invested about £7,000, and but a small portion came back to subsidise Irish shows. In order to place the Irish hunter in his proper position before the world, he moved:—"That the Irish Hunter Stud Book and Light Horse Breeding Society be and is hereby formed. That the objects of the Society are declared to be 'to found a stud book for Irish hunters and riding horses, and to promote the interests of breeders and owners of such horses by every means that may from time to time seem advisable.' That the annual subscription shall be £1, and that a subscription of £10 shall constitute life-membership."

Mr. T. Levins Moore, M.S.H., seconded, and the resolution was carried unanimously.

The following were elected members of the Committee, with power to add to their number:—Mr. D. J. Cogan (Chairman), Mr. G. Nigel E. Baring, M.F.H.; Mr. W. R Bell, Mr. A. Clarke, Major M. A Close, M.H.; Mr. M. Connolly, the Earl Fitzwilliam, M.F.H.; Mr. M. Geraghty, Mr. J. Gleeson, Major T. G. C. Gerrard, Mr. F. G. Hayes, Mr. W. J. Hopkins, Mr. W. S. Kingan, M.H.; Mr. J. A. Law, Mr. G. Lousada, M.F.H., Mr. J. G. B. Malcomson, Lieut.-Colonel R. D. P. Maxwell, D.S.O., M.H; Major J. A. Montgomery, M.H.; Mr. Levins Moore, M.S.H.; Captain E. C. Morel, M.F.H.; Mr. P. Neilon, Mr. A. C. O'Hara, General E. W. M. Powell, D.S.O., M.F.H.; Mr. J. F. Power, Mr. W. Richardson, Mr. J. K. Russell, M.F.H.; Captain J. Wynne-Smith, Dr. W. P. Tate, Mr. J. H. Valentine, Sir Hunt Walsh, Bart., and Major A. H. Watt.

Mr. H. R. Burgess was appointed Secretary.

It was decided, on the motion of Mr. Levins Moore, seconded by Mr. Connolly, to include a record of the Irish point-to-points in the annual stud book, as an appendix.

The next meeting will be held at 37 Upper Fitzwilliam street, Dublin, on 15th April, at 11 a.m.

LAW REPORTS.

BELFAST GENTLEMAN'S BEQUESTS.—In the Chancery Division yesterday, before the Master of the Rolls, in the matter of the will of the late Frederick Charles Courtney Stewart, who lived at Dunmurry, near Belfast, but who at the date of his death resided at St. Lawrence road, Dublin, Mr. Andrews, K.C. (instructed by Messrs. Carson and M'Dowell) applied for a determination of the court on certain bequests contained in the will of the testator. The deceased left very large sums to various charities, the gross value of his estate being £16,500. Out of eighteen different legacies there were six or seven which the executors could not pay except under the advice of the court. As regards these there were various rival claimants. The plaintiff, David Peter Gaussen, M.D., was sole executor of the will, which was dated 10th November, 1904. Mr. Stewart died on the 9th November, 1918. By his will he left a life interest in his property to his mother, who died in November, 1909. In the will there was a legacy of £3,000 to "the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," and the question for the court was—was the bequest void for uncertainty, or to whom was it payable? If the testator had not changed to Dublin the difficulty might not have arisen. Both the Dublin and the Belfast Societies were claimants for the £3,000. Mr. Porter (instructed by Mr. M. Turnbull) appeared for the Ulster Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which, he said, was the only society of the kind that the testator knew when he made his will. His mother had been a subscriber to the Society. Mr. Tobias (instructed by Mr. R. N. Potterton) appeared for the Dublin Society, and urged the claim of that institution on the ground that it was the Society; and that its activities extended all over Ireland. Mr. H. M. Thompson (instructed by Mr. R. A Howe) appeared for Mrs. Victoria Russell, sole next-of-kin of the testator, to maintain an intestacy in all those cases, if possible. The Master of the Rolls said that he had no doubt that the testator intended the bequest to the Ulster Society, and he decided accordingly. The next bequest was one of £750, which was left by the testator to "The Orphan Society in connection with the Protestant Episcopal Church in Ireland." Mr. Poole (instructed by Messrs. A. and J. Robinson) appeared on behalf of the Dublin Orphan Society, and Mr. Robb (instructed by Mr. McKinty) appeared for the Protestant Orphan Society for the Counties of Antrim and Down. The Master of the Rolls decided that the gift was intended for the Society for the Counties of Antrim and Down. A bequest of £750 to the "Seamen's Home, Corporation street, Belfast" was considered to be ambiguous. There was, it was explained, a "sailors'" home in Corporation street, Belfast, but not a "seamen's" home. The Master of the Rolls decided that the institution in Corporation street was entitled to the gift. The next question for the Court was—To what institution was a legacy of £500 bequeathed by the will to "the Home for the Blind, Great Victoria street, Belfast," payable? It was stated that there was now no home for the blind in Great Victoria street, but there was such a home in Claremont street, Cliftonville, Belfast. The Master of the Rolls decided that the latter was entitled to the legacy. With regard to a legacy of £500 to the "Hospital for Nervous Diseases, Great Victoria street, Belfast," Mr. Megaw (instructed by Messrs. Cleaver and Fulton) claimed that the Hospital for Diseases of the Nervous System, Claremont street, Belfast, was entitled to the bequest. It appeared that there was formerly a private hospital of the kind conducted by the late Dr. M'Cormac in Great Victoria street, but it was now discontinued, and the Claremont institution was the only one of the kind in Ulster. Mr. H. O. Holmes (instructed by Mr. W. C. Gage), for the Attorney-General, supported Mr. Megaw's contention. If the Court should hold that the legacy failed then it became part of the residue, and was devisible amongst the other charities. The Master of the Rolls held that the legacy failed, and therefore there was an intestacy as to this legacy, and it was now included in the residue to which Mrs. Russell was entitled. The last question was as to a legacy to the Ulster Hospital for diseases of the Eye and Ear, Great Victoria street, Belfast. It appeared that there was no such hospital in Great Victoria street, but that there is an hospital known as the Belfast Ophthalmic Hospital, and an institution in Clifton street called the "Benn Ulster Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital," both of which made a claim to the gift. The Master of the Rolls held that the Ophthalmic Hospital was entitled to the legacy.

EQUAL REPRESENTATION IN TYRONE.—In the King's Bench Division, Mr. Justice Ross, on the application of Mr. Carrigan, K.C., with whom was Mr. Murnaghan (instructed by Messrs. Shields and Murnaghan), on behalf of Charles Hunter, of Abbey street, Omagh, granted a conditional order of mandamus directing the Local Government board to revoke or vary an order of February 5th, dividing the County Tyrone into twenty electoral divisions, and to issue an order giving effect to the provisions of Section 1 of the Local Government Act, 1919, in order to give more equal representation upon the basis of population.

CHANGES OF VENUE FOR PRISONERS.—Mr. Justice Ross had before him several Crown applications regarding the trial of prisoners. In the case of the King v. Robert Smith (charged with unlawfully demanding money with menaces) an order was made changing the venue from the County to the City of Cork. Similar orders were made in the case of the King v. Cornelius Donovan, which arose out of the same circumstances; Joseph Brennan and another (charged with robbing John Coughlan); Owen Jackson and Edward Horgan (charged with robbery); Owen Jackson, Edward Horgan, and William Barry (raiding for arms). In the case of the King v. Denis McGrath, the venue was changed from Limerick to the City of Cork. In the case of Patrick Breen v. John Houlihan (charged with firing into a house), the venue was changed from Kerry to the City of Cork.

WHEAT-GROWING.

The Council of the Royal Agricultural Society meeting yesterday confirmed the resolution passed by the Emergency Committee. This expressed astonishment at the decision of the Government purporting to encourage the growing of wheat, and expressed the conviction that a continuance of the present conditions would lead to a great diminution in the food supply of the nation. It went on to declare that nothing less than the increase of prices indicated in Lord Lee's recent statement of the price for the 1920 wheat crop would arrest the decline in its cultivation.

KING BROS (CARRIERS) LTD. MANCHESTER RD. STOCKPORT

Only those who fit Dunlop tyres consistently can appreciate to the full the value of their service.

The following is an extract of a letter received from Messrs. King Bros. (Carriers) Ltd., Stockport—

"You may be interested to know that we have 9 5-ton Foden motors all running on your tyres.
We put a set of your tyres (160 × 850) on one of our machines in Feb. 1917, and they are still running. They have run close on 20,000 miles."

Messrs. King Bros. are amongst the many users of Dunlop solid rubber tyres who appreciate that it is the mileage over and above the generally accepted average that makes these tyres an asset to the carrier's business.

Bad Legs, Ulcers & Skin Troubles

Germolene—the Great Aseptic Remedy Draws Out all Wound Poisons and Heals Like a Charm.

Germolene is planned on the modern Aseptic system of treatment, and makes latest medical methods available in every home. The old antiseptic preparations are superseded by Germolene, which cures not merely by killing germs but by excluding germs, by cleansing the wound of all poisons and promoting natural healing. Germolene draws out wound poisons and impurities and keeps the ulcer or bad leg scientifically clean. The first dressing with Germolene allays pain and irritation, while its healing power is unprecedented.

The Salve That Soothes at a Touch.

One of the active principles in Germolene is the extract of a North American plant, long used by the native races as a remedy for snake bite and poisoned wounds, and combined with this are healing principles of proved efficacy.

Germolene is the proved home remedy for
Eczema, Piles, Skin Eruptions
Rashes, Itching, Pimples
Ulcers, Ring Worm, Chapped Hands
Open Wounds, Cuts & Burns, Chilblains

And all poisoned, itching, and inflamed surfaces. Prices, 1/3 & 3/- per tin.

From Chemists and Stores everywhere. Larger size the more economical. Ask always for Germolene and refuse imitations.—There is no substitute for Germolene.

ABRIDGED PROSPECTUS.

Objects.—This Company has been formed for the purposes mentioned in its Memorandum of Association, and particularly for the purpose of acquiring and extending the well-known business of Brick Manufacturers, Barge and Wharf Owners, and the old-established business of Builders' Merchants for many years past carried on by Messrs. Eastwood and Co., Ltd.

Assets to be Acquired.—The assets to be acquired consist of the following:—

(a) The freehold and leasehold Brickfields at:—Fletton, near Peterborough, 40 acres; Yaxley, near Peterborough, 31 acres; Woburn Sands, near Woburn Sands Station, Bedfordshire; 382 acres; Shoeburyness, Essex, 361 acres; Otterham and Rainham, Kent, 45½ acres; Tynham, Kent, 14 acres; Conyer, Kent, 90 acres; Halstow, near Newington, Kent, 73½ acres; Arlesley, Bedfordshire, 70 acres.

(b) The complete and up-to-date equipment of Kilns, Buildings, Plant and Machinery (including Tramways, Trucks and Railway Sidings, Wharves, and 76 Freehold Cottages) for the manufacture of High-class Building and Engineering Bricks, installed in these various Works.

(c) The Freeholds and Leases of the Wharves and Depots at Lambeth, Greenwich, Catford, Southend, Letchworth, Kent road, Wandsworth, Teddington, Isleworth, Mortlake, Kingsland road, Finchley, Winchmore Hill, Weybridge, and Wembley.

(d) The Barge Yard at Otterham and the Chalk Pit at Borden and the Springfield Estate at Sittingbourne.

(e) A fleet of forty-two Sailing Barges averaging approximately 90 tons each.

(f) Carts, Horses, Lorries, fixtures, fittings and goodwill.

(g) The benefit of all existing contracts.

Valuation.—The freehold and leasehold property to be acquired by the Company, with the Plant, Machinery, Wharves, Barges, etc., has been valued by Messrs. Horace Boot and Partners, of 7 Victoria street, Westminster, at the sum of £300,463. Nothing is included in this figure for goodwill, the value of which is considerable. The Company will start under highly efficient expert management.

Purchase Price.—The price to be paid by the Company for all the above properties and assets, including goodwill, is £175,000, to be paid or satisfied as to £135,000 in cash and, as to the balance by the allotment to the Vendor of 40,000 shares in the Company credited as fully paid. Of the cash consideration, £127,000 is payable to Sir Arthur Whinney under Contract No. 1.

The materials and stock-in-trade, which includes over 40,000,000 bricks ready for sale, is to be taken over—and paid for in cash—at a valuation, the price for the bricks being fixed at the mean between the actual cost and the minimum selling price as fixed by the Pressed Brick and Stock Brick Associations—an immediate trading profit is thus assured to the Company.

Working Capital.—After payment of the purchase price and the expenses of this issue, including underwriting, the proceeds will leave ample working capital of £93,000.

Output.—It is common knowledge that the provision of housing accommodation is one of the most serious problems confronting the country at the present moment. The demand for bricks and building materials for both public and private account is enormous, and must necessarily continue to be so for years to come.

During the war the manufacture of bricks ceased in consequence of the impossibility of obtaining labour, and operations were confined to the sale of stocks in hand. Since the armistice, labour has again become available, manufacture has recommenced, and the majority of the Brickfields above referred to are now producing. The Company is in short a going concern with a ready-made business, which under proper and reliable management in the future is destined to prove of a steadily progressive and lucrative character. Arrangements have been made which should ensure an output of 72,000,000 bricks this year. The total capacity for producion is approximately 100,000,000 per annum, but it is proposed to increase this to 125,000,000 per annum, which can be effected with small capital outlay, which the present issue will provide.

The nature of the raw material available is such as will enable the Company to manufacture bricks, etc., of first class quality, including "Flettons," "Stocks," etc., and their brands have a well-merited reputation in the trade for excellence of material and manufacture.

Profits.—Large contracts and orders for current delivery at remunerative prices have already been received, and as the Company takes over the benefit of all such contracts, profits will immediately accrue.

On an output of 72,000,000 bricks for this year, the profit (based on present selling prices and costs) of 11/6 per thousand will amount to £41,400. When producing 125,000,000 bricks, the profit, on the same basis, will be £71,875.

In addition it is estimated that the Merchants' business (based on the percentage of profits earned during the last 12 months) should show a profit of at least £15,000 per annum, and profits of £7,500 per annum are estimated to be derived from Barge freights. These departments of the business are capable of almost unlimited extension.

The total of these figures—calculated on the increased production—gives an annual estimated gross profit of £94,375, and on this basis, after making ample provision for depreciation, etc., there will be available a sum estimated as sufficient to allow of the payments of dividends at the rate of 10 to 15 per cent. per annum, with the prospect of larger dividends ahead.

Report.—The following is a copy of the Report of Messrs. Horace Boot and Partners:—

Westminster Chambers, 7 Victoria street, S.W., and at Newcastle-on-Tyne.
December 2nd, 1919.

To the Directors of Messrs. Eastwoods Limited.

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with your instructions, dated November 18th, 1919, we have pleasure in reporting on the properties owned by Messrs. Eastwood and Co., Ltd., as follows:—

GENERAL.—The business carried on by Messrs. Eastwood and Co., Ltd., is an extensive one and covers the supply of bricks and all building materials for a large area. The sites of the various clay-lands and works have been well chosen, adjoining either main lines of railways or rivers, and in some cases both, with railway sidings leading to the works. In our opinion, now that the war is over, the business should prove a very profitable one. We have carefully inspected and examined the various Works enumerated on the next page, and have made separate individual Reports on each one, this being a brief summary of those Reports. The principal assets of the Company are:—1. Well equipped Brickworks at: Fletton (near Peterborough); Yaxley (near Peterborough); Arlesley (Bedfordshire); Woburn (Bedfordshire); Shoeburyness (Essex); Otterham (Kent); Halstow (Kent); Conyer (Kent); Tynham (Kent). 2. Fifteen Wharfs and Depots in and around London (one at Southend); several of these Wharfs have good river frontages with facilities for loading and unloading the Company's Barges. 3. Forty-two Sailing Barges, the average deadweight of each being 90 tons. 4. A Barge Building and Repairing Yard at Otterham, fully equipped. 5. A Chalk Pit at Borden. 6. Building Estate at Sittingbourne. 7. The Company own a large number of horses and carts at the various Depots.

OUTPUT.—We estimate the output of the foregoing Works to be not less than 72,000,000 bricks for 1920, and with a comparatively small additional expenditure 125,000,000 bricks could be produced.

MANUFACTURES OF THE COMPANY.—These are Pressed Bricks, Gault Bricks, Wire Cuts, Stocks, etc., etc.

CLAYLANDS.—The Company own valuable claylands at Fletton, Yaxley and Woburn ("Fletton" Clay). At Arlesley—gault, capable of making the finest Gault Bricks. In Essex and in Kent—the well known brick earth from which the famous London Stocks, both hand and machine-moulded bricks are made. We have given special consideration to the possibilities of exhausting the clay if the output were trebled, and we can with confidence say that there is no fear of this occurring.

TRANSPORT.—The Company are in the fortunate position of owning a large fleet of good sailing barges, a number of horses and carts, and several wharfs (leasehold and freehold), with excellent accommodation for berthing vessels as well as possessing railway sidings.

AREA OF SUPPLY.—The Company can supply bricks at a reasonable rate of carriage over a large area of England, owing to the situation of their works and the means of transport possessed. Even if keen competitive times come again, the Company should be able to supply bricks at a profit when other works might have to shut down. The Company has a large number of customers on its books and is a going concern with great possibilities for future development.

SPECIAL PLANT.—Special mention may be made of the elaborate Plant and Works at Conyer and Halstow, which have a capacity of 25,000,000 bricks per annum, with arrangements for largely increasing this production. These are the only two Plants operating in England under the German patents and which have special drying chambers and tunnel kilns to enable bricks to be made and burned in about seven days.

CONDITION OF PLANT AND MACHINERY.—The continuous kilns (of which the Company possess many), the buildings, plant and machinery, have all been maintained in good condition during the war.

PROFITS.—After going carefully into the costs at each of the Works and the selling price of the bricks produced, we are of the opinion that an average profit of not less than 11s. 6d. per 1,000 bricks should be easily obtained. We are aware that at several of the Works the profit is considerably higher, and consider that when all the Works are making up to their full output the average profit should exceed this amount. In addition to the before-mentioned estimated profit on bricks, a large profit should also accrue from their Merchants' business and from the working of the Company's barges.

FUTURE PRODUCTION.—The situation of the Works and the fact of there being plenty of clay, renders it an easy matter to largely increase the production, and provided the Company is well managed and engineered, it should have a brilliant future.

WORKING CAPITAL.—We understand that it is your intention to provide the Company with a large working capital, and we strongly advise this course. By judicious expenditure on the improvement of Plant and Machinery at several of the Works, considerable savings can be effected.

VALUATION.—In our opinion as a going concern, a fair valuation of the whole of the above works, Claylands (468 acres freehold), Railway Sidings, 76 Cottages, Merchants' Business, Wharfs, London Properties, exclusive of "Goodwill" (which is considerable), is £300,463 (Three Hundred Thousand Four Hundred and Sixty-three Pounds).

We are, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servants,
HORACE BOOT AND PARTNERS.

The Company is one of the largest of its kind in the United Kingdom, and is now a going concern.

The assets to be purchased for £175,000 are valued on a conservative basis at	£300,463
The proceeds of this issue after deducting purchase price and all expenses will produce approximately	93,000
Showing assets of	£393,463

exclusive of goodwill, and without taking into account the considerable profits to be derived from the stock-in-trade to be taken over at a valuation.

The preliminary expenses are estimated at £12,500.

The minimum subscription on which the Directors may proceed to allotment is seven shares, but as the whole of the issue has been underwritten, the Directors will proceed to allotment on the closing of the lists.

Application will be made in due course to the London Stock Exchange for a settlement and quotation.

A brokerage of 3d. per share will be paid by the Company on all allotments made to the public in respect of applications bearing the stamp of a Broker or Banker.

Copies of the full Prospectus (upon the terms of which alone applications will be received) and Forms of Application can be obtained from the Bankers, Solicitors and Brokers to the Company, or at the Registered Office.

Dated 2nd March, 1920.

FINANCIAL NEWS

DUBLIN STOCK EXCHANGE.

WEAKNESS CONTINUED, BUT UNDERTONE HARDENING. DUNLOPS DEPRESSED.

There was a continuance of uncertainty on the Stock Exchange yesterday, but while there were many further evidences of weakness, at times supporting orders were large enough to turn the market, so that on balance the general situation was easier and less disturbing. The Funds once more established fresh records, the Funding 4 p.c. Loan falling 1 to 69, or 11 points under issue level. Both Consols and War Loan Fours and Fives also further receded. Banks improved where changes are shown. Guinness opened sellers at a fresh fall, but later rallied a little. Dundalk Steam nominally closed materially lower on realisation offers. Marconis were stagnant. In Home Rails the actual dealing in Dublin and Kingstown Stock at par is a feature, and a low point record that was not considered likely. Dunlop Rubber Ord. further slumped sharply, as the shares further gave way ⅞ to 11 3/16, and the new Ord. marked an actually higher price proportionately, 7½ for the £4 paid share, a decline of 1 on the day. Parent Tyres were without feature or alteration. Drapery shares were firm, except Pim Bros. Pref., which fell away 1/16 further. Textiles all gave way in sympathy with surroundings. Tobacco and Oils after early weakness became settled, and in the case of Shells prices began to mend in a confident way.

The Funds were still under sale pressure from the other side. Consols fell ¼ to 48¾, War Loan 5 p.c. 1/16 to 1/16, ditto 4 p.c. ½, and Funding 4 p.c. 1. India Stocks were idle.

In Corporation issues, Bray Township 3½ p.c. rallied 2½ to 58½.

Banks were better. Munster and Leinsters rose ⅛ to 7¼, and Nationals 1/16 to 18 11/16; while Bank Stock repeated 202.

In Breweries, etc., Dublin Distillers Pref. rose ⅛ to 5¾; but Guinness Ord. fell ⅛ to 33⅝, after opening at 33½, and the Pref. 1/16 to 10¼.

In Steam, Dundalks were called 2½ lower at 29-30 nominally.

Home Rails were under the pressure of some little forced selling, and as buyers were few, lower prices had to be accepted to do business. Great Northern fell 1/16, the Pref. 1 to 62, the Debs. 1 to 70, Midland Great Western 13/16 to 28, Dublin and South-Eastern Pref. ⅛ to 49½, and Dublin and Kingstown Leased Line realised 100, or 20 points under previous business done level, and compared with 100 to 105 called the previous day.

In Trams, Provincial Debs. fell ¼ to 8¼. The Ord. remain at 18s.

Parent Tyre Shares show no change at last prices. Dunlop Rubber Ord. fell ⅞ to 11 3/16, and the New Ord., £4 paid, 1 to 7½.

Gas and Bakery Shares show no change.

The only change in Drapery Shares was a fall of 6s. 3d. to 87s. 6d. in Pim Bros. Pref. Shares.

In Manufacturing Shares, Textiles were weaker. Bleachers fell 9d. to 51s. 9d., Dyers 1s. to 61s., Calicos 9d. to 39s. 39s. 3d., and Coats Ord. 3d. to 66s. 9d.

In Miscellaneous securities Irish Civil Service rose ½ to 22½; others show no change. Trading, etc. Shares were neglected.

As regards other business done, Imperial Tobacco eased 3d. more to 68s. 9d. 68s. 6d. Kern River Oil repeated 35s., but Mexican Eagle Oil fell ¼ to 11, and Scottish American 1s. 3d. to 38s. 38s. 3d. Shells opened ⅝ lower at 10⅝, but good buying soon rallied the price to 10 11/16, ¾, 13/16.

BETTER STOCKS.

MARKETS MORE CHEERFUL AND WAR LOAN RECOVERY.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

A slight rally in the British Funds created a good impression in almost every section of the Stock markets, but the better tone was not accompanied by any expansion in the volume of business. A widespread feeling of relief was expressed at British Government Securities having apparently touched bottom. If the improvement which took place in the 5 p.c. War Loan and kindred issues can be maintained it will go a long way towards restoring public confidence, although, in view of the drastic taxation proposals that are being mooted, the Stock markets can hardly be expected to develop any pronounced optimism until the Budget has told its story. In the meantime, qualified consolation can be found in other directions. The success of the Exchequer Bond issue is helpful, while the report that the limits to which bankers had decided to curtail loans for speculative purposes has now been reached encourages the hope that the heavy liquidation in the more speculative sections is nearing an end. Rather more animation was noticeable in the market for Home Rails, the recent drop in prices attracting a few buyers, particularly of the heavy descriptions. Grand Trunks were frankly unhappy, while several Foreign Railway Debs. were lower. Foreign Bonds were again irregular. Heavy declines occurred in Christiania, Copenhagen, Danish, and Swedish Bonds, but Belgian Threes rose sharply in connection with the new loan issue. In other sections a pronounced rally took place in Oil Shares, and Nitrate Shares were also better. The general trend of Industrial Securities was towards a lower level, Dunlops being again sold, while Shipping Shares were weaker. South African Gold Shares displayed a fair amount of confidence, but did not maintain the best prices at the close.

LONDON STOCKS BETTER.

The Stock Exchange had a rather checkered session, but conditions on the whole showed improvement, and, after a good deal of irregularity within moderate limits, quotations in many directions were disposed to brace up towards the finish, the threatened transport strike not being generally known during the market hours. As regards gilt-edged issues, War Fives took a final turn for the better, but gilt-edged issues as a whole remained unsteady. In the gilt-edged section, War Fives, after being lower, rallied, and closed with a net gain of ⅛ at 87 7/16. The 4½ p.c. Loan did not vary, but the 3½ p.c. Loan at 83½ was ½ down, and Consols rose ¼ to 49¼. Miscellaneous gilt-edged issues were irregular, but a downward tendency predominated. The Funding Loan and Victory Bonds both improved.

Changes:—Rises—Consols, ¼ to 49¼; Funding Loan, ¼ to 69¾; Victory Bonds, ⅝ to 78¼; 5 p.c. War Loan, ⅛ to 87 7/16. Falls—3½ p.c. War Loan, ¼ to 83½; 2¾ p.c. Irish Land, ¼ to 49¼; India 3½ p.c., ½ to 55.

FOREIGN BONDS STEADY.—In the foreign market French Loans were inclined to mend, though the Fives concluded without net variation at 53. The less stable condition of the New York exchange reacted helpfully upon Japanese issues, which showed a rallying tendency, the 4½ p.c. making good a point of their overnight setback at 102. Russian Bonds preserved their firmness, and Egyptians, though quiet, had a steadier tone.

HOME RAILS STEADY.—In the Home Railway department the opening was dull and hesitating, but the recovery in some gilt-edged issues acted as something of a stimulus in the afternoon, and the news of the threatened transport strike was known too late to hurt sentiment. Among trunk and trade stocks there were occasional net gains of ½ after early declines.

CANADIANS BETTER AND MEXICANS DULL.—Canadian Pacifics were steadier in tone and rose 2, but Grand Trunk Stocks showed heaviness, the company's revenue statement for January showing a net decrease of £20,000. Mexican Rails were inclined to weaken, the 1st Pref. being finally down at 52. Argentine Rails were on the firm side, especially towards the finish, but quotable gains were few. Brazilian Rails held at overnight levels.

BUSINESS SLIGHTLY LARGER IN INDUSTRIALS.

DUNLOPS AGAIN ON OFFER—PROFIT-TAKING IN MARSDENS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

There was a better feeling all round the Miscellaneous and Industrial market yesterday. No specially cheerful features developed, and, on the whole, lists made up irregularly. But there was an increase in fresh business and better public interest. The evidence so far produced before the Commission on War Profits has been sufficient to indicate the extreme difficulty of administering the levy. The talk has consequently veered round to a more hopeful view of the situation. Selling from Ireland, attributed to the restriction of loan accounts by the banks, was supposed to be the cause of further liquidation in Dunlops. The shares fell at one time below the price at which they eventually closed, but the recent decline was further accentuated. There is still talk of another bonus issue. Courtaulds were better, meeting with fresh support after the dulness of the preceding day. The rest of the Textile section showed a general decline in prices, business in the shares being almost restricted to selling orders. In the Iron and Steel section rises and falls were fairly evenly divided, and business was larger as compared with the preceding day. Guest Keens and Sheltons were firm spots, and Irvines were also bid to a higher level. Ropners, among Shipbuilding issues, were in good demand, finishing better, but Northumberland Shipbuilding were slightly easier. Stores were again consigned to the background, though Paquins showed improvement and Doeuillets kept the price. Chas Marsden and Sons Ord. were subjected to a little profit-taking, no official information being received yet with regard to pending developments indicated by the recent rise in the shares. Wallpapers Def. were good among Miscellaneous descriptions. Nitrates were again fairly active, substantial gains being recorded in Pan de Azucars, Lautaros, and Alianzas.

After their recent activity, Ebbw Vales came in for some profit-taking sales, and were consequently inclined to ease in price. The shares found fairly good support, however, and finished evenly divided. Guest Keens at 42s. 3d. showed improvement, and Sheltons were a bright spot at 24s. bid. Gloucester Waggons were flat at 74s. 6d. Vickers were easier for choice at 34s. 6d. Business in the Nitrate section yesterday resulted in a predominance of rises. Several shares exhibited substantial improvements, Pan de Azucars, for instance, leading with another gain of ½ to 19½, and Lautaros increasing to the same extent to 16½. A generally weaker tone prevailed among Textile Shares, most of which declined in the absence of support. Courtaulds were an exception, hardening 1/16 after the recent period of dulness. Amalgamated Cottons lost ⅛ at 5, Calicos were 1/16 lower at 38s. 6d., and Cottons showed the same loss at 2 1/16. There was a noticeable lack of support in the Banking section, where the majority of movements were adverse to holders. In spite of rumours circulated a little while ago, that a new bonus issue was pending, Dunlops drooped still further yesterday, finishing ½ lower at 11 x.d. Selling was reported from Ireland, via Glasgow. As is well known, Belfast orders find their quickest route to London by way of telephone to Glasgow, and the selling from Scotland yesterday was attributed to offering from Belfast. British Aluminium at 2 1/16 were better on the new issue announcement, and Roneo improved 1/16 to 2¼. Pullman Car, on the other hand, eased 1/16 to 2 11/16. Among Meat issues, Eastmans were the turn better at 22s., but Lyons Ord. hardened to 5⅝. Van Den Berghs were not so good at 3¼. Stores were featureless. Paquins were in request, again improving to 22s., and Doeuillets kept up at 19s. 6d. Wall Paper Def. at 20s. 6d. showed a slight increase. The Shipping section bore rather a woebegone appearance, holders of the P. and O. Def. having to face a further decline of 15 points in the Stock to 590. Royal Mails also receded 5 to 200. Cunards were steady, closing unchanged at 2¼, but Court Lines lost 1s. at 46s., and Cairn Lines eased 1/16 to 2 1/16. Anglo-European Steamship Prefs. held the price at 19s. 6d., but the Ord. sagged to 8s. 6d. In the Insurance section declines predominated. Business in Canadian American Securities was restricted, but Brazilian Traction benefited by attention, rising ¼ to 52¼, and Canadian General Electric put on 1 at 110½. Dominion Steel Pref. were 2½ down at 91, and Rio Trams also came on offer down to 82½. Among Electric Lighting Stocks, Westminster were ⅛ better at 5⅝ ex-div., and in the Tramway group Anglo-Argentine 5 p.c. Deb. stiffened to 6¼.

LITTLE BUSINESS IN MINES.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

As in other departments of the House, a slightly better tendency was noticeable in Mines yesterday, in respect of which the recovery in Government Stocks acted as a kind of tonic. It cannot be said, however, that there was any great volume of business, for where the public had not been selling previously there was no rush to buy at the lower levels. The result was that at the close there was no appreciable improvement in prices, though the tone was undoubtedly better. Paris sent over a fair number of buying orders; but in the Kaffir market generally the public still require a lead, and, with professionals inclined to await the result of the impending elections in the Union, shares did not in every case close at the best. Leading issues, such as Rand Mines, Randfontein, and Modder "B," enjoyed a small recovery; but Central Mining, C.M.S., and "Johnnies," and one or two others had a slight set-back. No notice whatever was taken of the gold premium, though it is still maintained at a high level. To some extent the market is expecting rather less favourable results from the mines for the past month. Some spirited offering of Chartered had a bad effect upon the price, which relapsed to par, and this depressing influence spread to other Rhodesians, which dealers were not slow to quote lower. As regards Diamonds, De Beers issues stood out prominently, and, although business was not brisk, the buying was of a distinctly good character. Notwithstanding a slight set-back in the price of the metal, Tin shares again presented a firm front, with Nigerians principally favoured. Anglo-Continental provided one of the best spots, and the Bauchi issues also enjoyed a greater degree of popularity. There was a fair turnover in Kaduna, but a little profit-taking left them slightly easier. Among the Eastern shares, Kinta provided a feature, with a sharp spurt, but in Malayan Tin profit-taking was indulged in, with the result that the price reacted. Scarcely any business was done in West African descriptions. The announcement of the passing of the North Broken Hill quarterly dividend directed renewed attention to the labour troubles in the district, the result being that "Barriers" had a slight reaction. Activity continued in the Hampton group, and although at the close shares were down fresh buyers came forward. Copper shares were uninteresting, and Arizona eased slightly. Elsewhere Burma Corporation continued on the down grade, and Colombian Mining were also lower. Mexico Mines lost part of their recent advance, and Santa Gertrudis eased a trifle.

RUBBER SHARES IMPROVE SLIGHTLY.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The tone of the Rubber share market continued dull throughout the day, but a certain amount of yesterday's dulness disappeared and a slightly better tendency developed during the afternoon. There was some evidence of investment demand as a result of the lower prices, but in spite of this numerous declines of a trifling order were noticeable throughout the list. Rubber itself was unchanged at 2s. 7¼d. The Seremban Company in a notice to the shareholders announces a reconstruction of capital—two shares of the new concern are offered in exchange for every one share held in the existing company. There was no change in the quotation. Anglo-Dutch were dull at 53s. 3d., and Java Investment fell 9d. to 45s. Bidor and Bajoe Kidoel were 1/16 lower at 4⅛ and 71s. 3d. respectively. Damansara were offered at 5½, but Escot were strong with a rise of 1s. 3d. to 11s. 3d. Hidden Streams were 1/16 harder at 76s. 3d., but Java United were 9d. down at 45s. 9d. Johore Rubber Lands advanced 1s. to 46s. 3d. while Jugra Land and Carey improved to 25s. bid. Java Plantations were weak at 2⅛ offered. Kajang at 57s. 6d. and Kapar Para at 4½ were each 1/16 lower, while Sembilan advanced a similar amount to 3½. Sialang and Tali Ayer were each 1/16 lower at 98s. 9d. and 43s. 9d. respectively, while Raub were as much as ⅛ down at 2⅛. Merlimau were offered at 7s. 3d. on the company's denial regarding the recent rumours of acquisition. United Serdang were a shade harder, while Telogoredjo showed a loss of 2s. 6d. at 73s. 9d. Business was very slack in the Borneo section. Manchester N.B. advanced 1/16 to 43s. 9d., but Membakut were dull at 31s. 3d. Otherwise there were no movements worth recording.

SHARP RALLY IN LEADING OIL SHARES.

SHELLS, EAGLES, AND BURMAHS ARE ALL HIGHER.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

In common with other sections of the Stock Exchange, the Oil Share market had a decidedly more cheerful appearance yesterday. At the close on Tuesday the market certainly had an oversold appearance, and the rally was, therefore, not surprising. In fact, the shakeout of weak holders has apparently benefited the market to a considerable extent. Business could not be described as of an active character, but prices responded readily to the renewed demand, and on balance showed an appreciable recovery. The leaders opened firm at well above the overnight levels, became dull, and then about midday went ahead, finishing almost at the top. Thus Shells, Royal Dutch, Mexican Eagles, and Burmahs were all well up on the day. A feature among Trinidad issues was the renewed strength of Centrals, which fully recovered Tuesday's loss, other members of this group remaining steady. Among Russians, North Caucasians added to the improvement, and Ural Caspians also moved up. British Burmahs came into request and moved up smartly, but Assam Oils were a dull market. Anglo-Egyptian B improved on the increased weekly output and the re-entry of the Gemsah field into the producing list. Gemsah Oil Reefs, however, further weakened. English Oilfields were firm, Tuesday's advance being maintained. Closing prices:

A NATIONAL KEY INDUSTRY.

FELLOWS MAGNETO CO., LTD.

OFFER FOR SALE OF 250,000 ORDINARY SHARES OF 10/- EACH AT 18/6 PER SHARE.

(A large number of these shares are already reserved in response to applications received by the Company.)

Previous Dividends on the Ordinary Shares:

1917	15%
1918	24%

The following COMMENT ON NEW ISSUES was published in the Financial Times of February 21st, 1920:—

FELLOWS MAGNETO.

The growth of the Fellows Magneto Company, Ltd., since its formation in 1916 has been very rapid and the latest increase in its capital is justified by the fact that while the company in its inception was accorded official support and received substantial financial assistance from the Government, all Government loans have now been paid off and no Debentures or mortgages are outstanding. The authorised capital is £500,000, of which £225,500 has been issued, divided into £190,000 in Eight per Cent. Cumulative Participating Preferred shares of £1 each and £37,500 in Ordinary shares of 10s. each. The Preferred shares, in addition to their fixed dividend, are entitled to 20 per cent. of the surplus profits available for dividend, the Ordinary taking the remaining 80 per cent. The present issue consists of an offer of 250,000 Ordinary shares at the price of 18s. 6d. per share, these having been purchased by Mr. H. M. Alleyn, who agrees to pay all brokerage and underwriting fees, at 17s. 6d. per share. The net profits for 1917 amounted to £8,500, and for 1918 to £14,100, the dividend on the Ordinary shares for the latter year being 24 per cent. In a letter from the Chairman, which constitutes the bulk of the prospectus, it is stated that it is expected the company will be able to pay equally good dividends for 1919. At the recent meeting, at which the increase in capital was sanctioned, the Chairman said:—

"Though the history of the company shows a remarkable and rapid expansion of capital, yet no increase in the capital of the company has been recommended by your directors until orders in hand and profits to meet the dividends on such increased capital have, in the opinion of your directors, been assured. In asking you to authorise the increase of the company's capital by the creation of 500,000 Ordinary shares of 10s. each, ranking pari passu with those on which the company has already paid dividends of 15 per cent. for 1917 and 24 per cent. for 1918, your directors have every confidence that in the future the profits will amply justify this increase of capital."

So far the company has certainly justified the confidence reposed in it, and the new shares seem a promising lock-up investment.

The above is reprinted by kind permission of the "Financial Times."

Applications for shares should be made without delay through any recognised Stockbroker, or direct to the Secretary, FELLOWS MAGNETO CO., LTD., 21 St. James' street, London, S.W.1, from whom particulars of the "Offer for Sale" may be obtained.

At 18/6 per share the Ordinary Shares of the Company yield over 12½ %, and offer the prospect of considerable capital appreciation, and increased annual returns.

RICHARD THOMAS & CO.

LIMITED.

(Incorporated under the Companies Acts, 1862 to 1883).

TINPLATE AND STEEL MANUFACTURERS.

SHARE CAPITAL.

	Authorised.	Already issued.	This issue.
6 Per Cent. (free of Income Tax up to 6/- in the £) Cumulative Preference Shares of £1 each	£4,000,000	£1,080,474	£1,500,000
Ordinary Shares of £1 each	£5,000,000	£2,180,745	—

THE ORDINARY SHARES ARE HELD BY THE DIRECTORS AND THEIR FRIENDS.

ISSUE OF 1,500,000 6% Cumulative Preference Shares of £1 each at par,

(Free of Income Tax up to 6s. in the £.)

The yield on these Shares, calculating Income Tax at the present rate of 6/- in the £1, is equivalent to £8 11/5 per cent., less tax. Holders of these Shares who are liable for Income Tax at a rate of less than 6/- in the £ can reclaim the balance due to them from the Inland Revenue authorities.

These Shares are preferential as to capital, and entitle the holders to a fixed Cumulative Preferential dividend of 6 per cent. per annum (free of Income Tax up to 6/- in the £), but confer no further right to participate in either assets or profits.

The Articles of Association of the Company are in course of being altered so as to provide that no Debentures or Debenture Stock, except such as may be required to secure overdrafts or temporary loans made by bankers, and no shares or stock ranking in priority to the Preference Share Capital can be created or issued without the consent of the holders of two-thirds thereof.

Dividends on these shares will be payable half-yearly, on 1st April and 1st October of each year, the first dividend, calculated from the date of allotment to 30th September, being payable on 1st October next.

The following information is summarised from the letter of the Chairman and Deputy Chairman, to which applicants are referred for full particulars:—

The Company, which has been in existence for 35 years, is the largest manufacturer of tinplates in Europe. It is practically self-contained, from raw material to finished product. It owns 14 tinplate factories, situated in South Wales and elsewhere, working 114 mills with a capacity of over 4,500 tons per week, and two steel works at Llanelly and Swansea, capable of producing 6,500 tons of steel bars per week.

Through its holding of the entire share capital of the Redburn Hill Iron and Coal Company, Limited, the Company owns iron ore mines estimated to contain 19,000,000 tons of iron ore, and modern blast furnaces, and is completing steel furnaces and cogging and finishing mills, with a capacity of between 4,000 and 5,000 tons per week, and an extensive battery of coke ovens and bye-products plant of the most modern type. The new works, on which over £3,000,000 has been expended, are nearing completion, and should be one of the most economical steel plants in Europe.

The Preference Shares are a first claim on the net assets and profits of the Company, and holders of these Shares have, in terms of the Articles mentioned above, the control of the issue of prior charges. Net assets of the Company, excluding goodwill, but including the net proceeds of this issue, amount to £5,495,939, which is sufficient to cover the Preference Shares issued and now being issued more than twice over.

The average net profits of the Company for the four years ending 30th September, 1919, cover the dividend requirements of the Preference Share Capital, including the present issue, more than two and one-half times. The expenditure of over £3,000,000 on the extension and development of the Redburn Company is not yet productive, but the Directors are of opinion that when these works are completed the profit from them alone will be more than twice the dividend requirements of the Preference Share Capital, including this issue.

The Company has paid substantial dividends on its Ordinary Share Capital every year since incorporation in 1884, after making liberal allowances for depreciation. The dividend for the last two years has been at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum.

The proceeds of this issue will be used for paying off loans incurred for the extensions and developments at Redburn, for the completion of the works there, and for other revenue-producing objects.

MESSRS. HIGGINSON AND CO., 80 Lombard Street, London, E.C.3, AND MESSRS. M. SAMUEL AND CO., LIMITED, 25/27 Bishopsgate, London, E.C.2,

Are authorised by the Company to offer the above Shares for subscription at par.

THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS PAYABLE AS FOLLOWS:—

ON APPLICATION	£0 2 6 per share.
ON ALLOTMENT	£0 17 6
	£1 0 0

Applications on the terms of the full prospectus may be made on the form below, or that accompanying the prospectus, and sent to Messrs. Higginson and Co., or Messrs. M. Samuel and Co., Ltd., together with a remittance for the amount payable on application.

If no allotment is made the deposit will be returned in full, and where the number of shares allotted is less than the number applied for, the balance of the deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on allotment. The final instalment if in arrear will carry interest at 8 per cent., and failure to pay it when due will render the previous payment liable to forfeiture, and the allotment liable to cancellation.

Messrs. M. Samuel and Co., Ltd., and Messrs. Higginson and Co., for a commission of 5 per cent., have undertaken to guarantee the subscription of the whole of this issue, and to pay all the expenses of the issue, other than brokerage and fees, to the Company's Auditors and Solicitors, the Company paying an additional £3,000 towards the advertising expenses.

A brokerage of 3d. per share will be paid by the Company on all shares allotted in respect of applications bearing the stamp of any broker, banker, or approved agent.

Prospectuses and Forms of Applications can be obtained from Messrs. M. Samuel and Co., Ltd., Messrs. Higginson and Co., from the Company's Bankers, from the Brokers to the issue, and at the Registered Office and London Office of the Company.

AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE.

The following is a copy of a certificate which has been given by the Company's Auditors, showing the assets behind the Preference Shares and the profits available for dividend:—

11 Ironmonger Lane, London, E.C. 2, and 3 Dock Chambers, Bute Street, Cardiff.
26th February, 1920.

To the Directors of MESSRS. RICHARD THOMAS and COMPANY, LTD.

Gentlemen,—We certify that the assets and liabilities of Richard Thomas and Company, Limited, as appearing in the books of the Company at the 30th September, 1919, were as follows:—

Freehold and Leasehold, Works, Land, Cottages, and fixed and loose Machinery and Plant, less Depreciation	£2,050,644 0 8
Stock of finished goods, goods in process of manufacture, materials and stores	316,904 1 7
Sundry Debtors, Debit Balances, Bills Receivable, and Cash at Bankers and in hand	2,035,245 18 4
Investments and Loans at Interest (under cost)	1,578,434 13 4	£5,981,228 18 3
Less:—
Due to Bankers on Loan Account and Interest accrued thereon..	£506,901 7 1
Sundry Creditors and Credit Balances (including provision for Excess Profits Duty and Income Tax)	1,378,387 18 2	1,885,289 5 1
		£4,095,939 13 2

We further certify that the net earnings for the four years ended 30th September, 1919, including dividends on investments and the earnings of the Cwmfelin Steel and Tinplate Co., Ltd., and Aber Tinplate Works, Ltd., amalgamated with your Company as from 30th September, 1917, after providing for Depreciation, Excess Profits Duty, Munitions Levy, and Income Tax in respect of such period were as follows:—

Year ending 30th September, 1916............	£317,963
Year ending 30th September, 1917............	410,839
Year ending 30th September, 1918............	442,158
Year ending 30th September, 1919............	392,499

Prior to 30th September, 1917, the accounts of your Company and those of the Cwmfelin and Aber Companies ended at different dates. We have apportioned the profits of the respective Companies in order to arrive at the profits for the two years ended that date.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed.) W. B. PEAT and CO., Chartered Accountants.

ASSETS.

As will be seen from the Auditors' Certificate, the net Assets amount to	£4,095,939
Add net proceeds of this Issue, say, ...	£1,400,000
	£5,495,939

The Preference Share Capital issued, and now being issued, is, therefore, covered more than twice, without taking into account Goodwill and Trade Marks, which, though not included, are of great value.

EARNINGS.

The foregoing table of net earnings shows that for the four years to 30th September last the average sum available for dividend on the Preference Share Capital issued, and now being issued, is sufficient to pay such dividend, which amounts to £154,828 per annum, more than two and one-half times.

ABRIDGED PROSPECTUS.

The Company has been formed for the objects mentioned in the Memorandum of Association, and primarily to acquire the whole interest in KENT PORTLAND CEMENT WORKS LIMITED, which Company has extensive freehold and leasehold properties at Stone, Greenhithe, Kent, where its new and important Cement Works, with railway and wharfage facilities, are already in a well advanced state of construction.

PROPERTY AND OUTPUT.

The Works at Stone, which form the chief factor in the Undertaking, will consist of three units of rotary plant, comprising six kilns, for the manufacture of Portland Cement. The railway sidings, bridges, locomotive shed, and other equipment, are already finished, and the present issue more than provides for the cost of the completion of the first unit, which it is expected will be in operation during September of this year. The cost of the completion of the second and third units will be provided for by the issue in due course of the unissued capital. The sidings, bridges, shed and equipment above referred to will be available for the second and third units also, without extra outlay.

The output of each unit, working full time, is estimated to be not less than 150,000 tons of Cement per annum, the three completed units giving a total output of not less than 450,000 tons of cement per annum when working full time. The Directors propose to proceed with the erection of the second and third units as quickly as circumstances permit, so that the Works may reach the maximum output at the earliest possible date.

The construction of the works is being carried out by Messrs. P. & W. Anderson, Limited, of Glasgow and London, the machinery being supplied by Messrs. F. L. Smidth & Co., of London and Copenhagen, who have a worldwide reputation for the efficiency of their plant.

There are, at Stone, about 72 acres of freehold land, cottages, and other buildings, and a valuable mineral lease for 99 years of about 432 acres of adjoining land, from which the supply of chalk, and also clay, will be obtained. Part of the freehold (about 46 acres) gives direct access from the chalk and other deposits to the River Thames, some 900 yards distant, to which it has a frontage of about 1,150 feet. The property is intersected by the North Kent line of the S. E. & C. Railway, which is connected with the Works and an admirable system of sidings. By the terms of the lease the right is secured to work the chalk, clay, sand and gravel deposits upon a most favourable royalty basis. Apart from the essential materials for cement-making available on the estate, the large deposits of gravel, flints, and sand should be a source of substantial income supplementary to the income from the Cement Works. The royalties payable under the lease for chalk and clay are together only 6d. per ton of Cement manufactured, and on gravel and sand 2d. per cubic yard. These royalties are believed to be about the lowest in the United Kingdom.

The work upon the site at Stone was commenced in the early Spring of last year, and the Auditors of the Company have given the following Certificate:—

32, Poultry, E.C., 25th February, 1920.

To the Chairman,
THE KENT PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY, LTD.

DEAR SIR,—We have examined the Books of the Kent Portland Cement Works, Limited, and certify that the total expenditure as shown therein up to January 31st, 1920, on the land, plant, machinery, works, and construction, at Stone amounts to £529,973 16s. 0d.

Yours faithfully,
(Signed) RICHARD RABBIDGE & SONS.

CEMENT: DEMAND AND DEFICIENCY OF SUPPLY.

The Directors are of opinion that the present is an exceptionally favourable time for engaging in the manufacture of Cement. Those best qualified to judge hold the conviction that the demand for many years will be insistent, and difficult to meet. Enormous quantities of Cement will be required for reconstruction in the areas devastated during the war, while in this country it is difficult to estimate the quantity required in connection with Housing Schemes and the provision of buildings of all kinds to make up the accumulated deficiency of past years, without taking into account the new industrial developments of the future, both here and abroad.

Owing to the conditions prevailing on the Continent, and more particularly in Germany, greatly restricting the export of Cement to certain markets supplied in part, prior to the war, by Foreign manufacturers, British producers are now placed in a pre-eminent position. The situation of the Company's Works, with plant and facilities unsurpassed elsewhere, may be considered as unique. There is but a very limited area with the necessary chalk and other deposits, adjacent, suitable for the erection of Cement Works, available in the Thames district, which is without question the best centre. It is therefore extremely improbable that any fresh undertaking on a large scale can be inaugurated in the district, and the Company will, when its programme of construction is complete, own one of the largest self-contained Cement Works in Europe. Being an independent undertaking the Company will offer a manifest advantage to all users of cement.

The Company is fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. S. G. Robinson as Managing Director, and his long association with the British Cement Trade warrants the confidence of the Board that the interests of the Company will be furthered and safeguarded in the most practical and efficient manner. Mr. Robinson has addressed the following letter to the Board:—

London, February 2nd, 1920.

The Chairman,
THE KENT PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY, LIMITED.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to give you the following salient facts relative to the Portland Cement Industry in England and elsewhere which have a bearing on the inauguration of the New Works of the Company at Stone, on the River Thames.

The output of cement in what is known as the Thames and Medway district is about two-thirds of the whole output in England, and all the Works in this district lie on the water-side. Practically the whole of the export trade in Cement from England is done from this district, and as cement is almost the only heavy cargo produced in the London manufacturing area almost every steamer loading there takes some cement on board, and ship-owners have quoted very low rates of freight to assist the export of this cargo. Before the war about 700,000 tons per annum were exported, but during the war export was for a time prohibited and is still only about 50 per cent. of pre-war tonnage. The export of cement from Germany and Belgium has of course been suspended during the 5½ years since August, 1914, and as each of these countries exported about 1,000,000 tons per annum the deficiency of supply overseas to countries served by England, Germany and Belgium is very great. Some of the North German exporting factories in the past used English coal, but the shortage and high price of this will have a serious effect on their future output and cost of manufacture. These, and the Belgium factories also, were in pre-war days granted low railway freights to the Coast, but it is to be presumed that this assistance will not be available for a long time. It will thus be seen that the Thames-Medway district has unusual opportunities in the future compared with the past, and that there is great leeway to be made up in the export market.

The position of the home market is very similar, as since 1915, i.e., in 1916-7-8-9, the total output from English Works has decreased for various reasons to about 60 per cent. of pre-war figures, i.e., in the four years by about five million tons, and during these years the actual output was almost entirely used for war building purposes. I therefore calculate that the total "deficiency of supply" due to the war for normal purposes in the Home market and in those overseas markets previously supplied from England, Germany and Belgium, amounts to about 20 million tons. Taking this fact into consideration, and allowing for natural growth in the use of this invaluable building material, it is reasonable to conclude that there must be an enormous demand for many years. It is calculated, for instance, that each small house requires 7.75 tons of cement, and as 800,000 houses are urgently required these alone will consume six million tons.

In addition to its valuable site the mechanical equipment of the Company's new factory must be taken into consideration. This is of the highest quality, especially from the labour-saving standpoint, as the Rotary Kilns and other machinery units will be among the largest in the world. I calculate that as compared with the average of the older factories in the same district the saving effected in cost of labour and other economies due to fine power plant and excellent lay-out of the Works will amount to at least 6s. per ton of cement produced.

I think therefore, taking the above facts into consideration, the future value and prosperity of the Company's factory should be very great.

Yours very faithfully,
S. G. ROBINSON, Managing Director.

PROFITS.

The Directors, after consultation with their expert advisers, are of opinion that, while it is difficult to set a limit upon the potential results to the Shareholders, the Company will be in a position to earn substantial dividends on the issued capital as soon as the first unit is in operation, and that as soon as the further two units are completed, the ratio of the net profits will be very largely increased.

The Directors hope to be able to formulate a scheme whereby the Employees of the Company will participate in some equitable manner in the results of the successful working of the Company's business, which may prove mutually advantageous to the Proprietors and the Employees.

The Company will acquire from the Vendor Company (Kent Portland Cement Works, Ltd., whose registered office is at 2/3 West Street, Finsbury Circus, London, E.C.) the whole of its undertaking business and assets.

The consideration payable by the Company for the purchase (nothing being payable by the Company for goodwill) is the allotment by the Company of 450,000 fully paid Shares of £1 each to the existing holders of the issued share capital of the Vendor Company and the discharge in due course by the Company of the liabilities of the Vendor Company which (apart from the Debenture debt of the Vendor Company of £350,000) amount approximately to £17,000, of which £3,700 is payable to Ernest Henry Colyer and Frederick William Hunter both of Shortlands, and Mary Anne Lansdell of Blackheath, as consideration for the sale by them of land and buildings at Stone. The before mentioned debenture debt of the Vendor Company will be discharged out of the proceeds of the issue of shares now offered for subscription.

The whole of the shares now offered for subscription have been underwritten by Commercial Bank of London, Limited, in consideration of (A) an underwriting commission of 3 per cent. and an overriding commission of 1 per cent. on the nominal amount of such shares, which commissions are payable by the Company and (B) the option of subscribing at par for a quarter of the remaining unissued 1,300,000 shares as and when the Company may decide to issue the same. Such Bank has entered into various agreements with other parties for sub-underwriting amongst such parties being Mr. H. Houlder, a Director of the Company, who has underwritten 100,000 Shares.

OPTION FOR SHAREHOLDERS.

Holders of shares in the Company also have the option of subscribing at par for three-quarters of the unissued 1,300,000 shares in the Company's capital as and when the Company may decide to issue the same as follows:—The holders of the 750,000 shares now offered for subscription are entitled to participate in such option pro rata in proportion to their holdings to the extent of one-half of the shares so decided to be issued and the holders of the 450,000 fully paid Vendors' Shares are entitled to participate in such option pro rata in proportion to their holdings to the extent of one-quarter of the shares so decided to be issued.

The minimum subscription upon which the Company may proceed to allotment is fixed by the Articles of Association at £7, but as the whole of the shares now offered for subscription have been underwritten, the Directors will proceed to allotment on the closing of the lists.

The preliminary expenses are payable by the Company, and (exclusive of underwriting and overriding Commissions, brokerage, ad valorem duty on the sale to the Company and the £7,500 payable as a fee for negotiating the sale to the Commercial Bank of London, Limited), are estimated at £22,000. The Company will pay a brokerage of 3d. per share on all allotments made to the public on applications bearing the stamp of a broker banker or other authorised agent.

Applications for shares should be made on the accompanying form and sent to the Company's Bankers, Manchester & Liverpool District Banking Co., Ltd., 75 Cornhill, London, E.C., Head Office and Branches, and Commercial Bank of London, Limited, 6 Austin Friars, E.C. 2, together with a remittance for the amount payable on application.

Where no allotment is made, the application money will be returned in full, and where the number of shares allotted is less than the number applied for, the balance of the application money will be applied towards the amount payable on allotment and any residue will be refunded. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render any previous payment liable to forfeiture and the allotment to be cancelled.

Copies of the full Prospectus (upon which all applications on the forms hereunder are based) and forms of application can be obtained from the Bankers, Solicitors and Brokers of the Company, or at the Company's Registered Office.

Dated 4th March, 1920.

This Form may be used and sent to the Bankers of the Company, Manchester & Liverpool District Banking Company, Limited, 75 Cornhill, London, E.C. 3, Head Office, Manchester, and Branches; or Commercial Bank of London, Limited, 6 Austin Friars, London, E.C. 2.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Bank Rate (changed Nov. 6) .... 6 p.c.

There was no material change in the Money market conditions. The undertone remained rather unsettled in sympathy with the foreign exchanges, but there was little talk of a possible rise in the Bank rate to-day. Money for loaning purposes was in good supply. Call money did not range over 4½ p.c., and balances offered down to 2½ p.c. in the afternoon. There was a quiet demand for fixtures at 4½ p.c. Movements in calls and dividend payments were unimportant, totalling under a quarter of a million. There was not a great deal doing in discounts, and rates were hardly so firm owing to the limited amount of paper available. Two months' drafts were taken at 5 15/16 p.c., three months' at 5⅞ to 5 15/16 p.c., and six months' at 5 15/16 to 6 p.c.

CLAUDIUS ASH, SONS, AND CO.—Interim dividend of 5 p.c., less tax. It is proposed that the capital be increased from £1,000,000 to £1,500,000 by the creation of 500,000 additional Ord. Shares of £1 each, to rank equally with the Ord. Shares already issued.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

To those who have been on the look-out for something of a slump in the Oil market, the present flatness is not particularly astonishing. At the same time it is, undoubtedly, disappointing to the many whose expectation had been fixed on oil prices mounting without a check. The report of the Sub-Committee on the Petrol Commission says, bluntly, that too high prices are being charged at the present time for the spirit. On fears that something may be done to ensure a more reasonable price for petrol, share prices have had a sharp shake out. In addition to the outlook for oil prices, there is, of course, the further factor of financial accommodation having been curtailed—in some cases refused altogether—which has led to shares being sold perforce by purchasers unable to finance the heavy shares from their own resources.

A Manchester Correspondent reports as follows in regard to the combination of Lancashire textile companies which has been formed under the title of Crosses and Winkworth Consolidated, Ltd., and of which Messrs. Sperling are shortly to issue a prospectus:—It is reported that Mr. E. Challinor, of Southport, and Mr. H. P. Kearton, of Bury, are concerned in the purchase of the cotton mills of Crosses and Winkworth, Bolton. The new company, which is being formed under the title of Crosses and Winkworth Consolidated Mills, Ltd., will also absorb Ward and Walker. This concern was formed in December last, being an amalgamation of J. and W. Ward, Ltd., and Walker and Brown, Ltd., of Bolton. The firm of Lord, Hampson, and Lord, of Nelson Mills, Bolton, will be included in the combine. Messrs. Challinor and Kearton have purchased the mills of Ainsworth Brothers and Co., Ltd., Great Lever, and W. and C. Ainsworth, Ltd., Wellington New Mills, Great Lever. These firms will be part of the combine, and the amalgamated firms will control about 800,000 spindles.

The Law Debenture Corporation has intimated to the proprietors that the closing of the list of proxies shows that, while the support received from the Ordinary and Preference shareholders and the Debenture stockholders is adequate to the adoption of the scheme of capital arrangement, the assent of the necessary majority of Founders' shareholders has not been obtained. The scheme cannot become operative unless all classes of security holders concur, and, in these circumstances, while regretting that the endeavour to place the capital upon a more satisfactory footing has failed, the Board has no alternative but to withdraw the scheme. The various meetings convened for to-day will, therefore, not be held.

The transfer books of Parker's Burslem Brewery 4 per cent. Debenture Stock and the 4½ per cent. Debenture Stock will be closed from 11th to 25th inst., both days inclusive.

COMING PROSPECTUS.

The Var Oil and Coal Co., Ltd.—We shall publish to-morrow the prospectus of the above company, which has been formed to acquire extensive proven oil shale and coal deposits in France. The capital of the company is £750,000, and an offer is being made of 600,000 shares at par. There is no underwriting, but a large part of the issue has been subscribed for by the directors and their friends. The Board of the company includes some of the best known names in mining, coal, and shipping.

OVER-SUBSCRIBED.

George Clare and Co., Ltd., announce that, owing to heavy over-subscription, the list of applications for shares of the Western Counties Shipping Co., Ltd., was closed at 11 a.m. yesterday (Wednesday). Applications from the country received by first post to-day will be considered. The prospectus appeared in the Irish Times on Tuesday last.

British Cellulose and Chemical Manufacturing (Patent) Co., Ltd.—Messrs. Dunn, Fisher and Co. announce that the issue having been over-applied for, the list is closed. Country applications arriving by first post to-day (Thursday) will be considered. The prospectus was advertised in the Irish Times on Tuesday last.

HENRY STREET WAREHOUSE COMPANY.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the Henry Street Warehouse Co., Ltd., was held yesterday at the offices of the company, Henry street, Dublin, Mr. George Birney, Chairman, presiding.

The report for the year ended the 31st January last showed that the trading profit for that period was £9,460 13s. 10d. The directors proposed to allocate the balance of £10,488 15s. as follows:—Transfer to reserve, £5,500; to pay dividend at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, less income tax, £1,260; to carry forward to next account, £3,728 15s.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, said that the satisfactory result of the year's trading had been obtained, not by an increased rush of profit, but by a greater turnover and a large increase in the number of customers. Another reason was the good services rendered by their buyers and employés. The debts were all good, and there was a very substantial reserve. Apart from their shares capital, their total liabilities were under £9,000, whereas their assets were over £66,000. Their expenses had increased considerably, mainly in salaries and bonuses to the staff; but he considered that their position was such that they might look forward to continued prosperity.

Mr. T. J. Geary seconded the motion, which was supported by Messrs. Maguire and Murray and Dr. Caleb Powell, and passed unanimously.

On the motion of Dr. Powell, seconded by Mr. Charles Murray, it was resolved to increase the fees of the directors from £450 to £700 a year, and to give them a bonus of 200 guineas.

Mr. T. J. Geary, retiring director, was re-elected, and Messrs. Craig, Gardner and Co. were re-elected auditors.

A resolution of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. M. J. O'Lehane, General Secretary Irish Drapers' Assistants' Association, was passed.

A vote of thanks having been passed to the Chairman, directors, and staff, the meeting concluded.

YAM SENG RUBBER COMPANY.

CAPITAL DOUBLED.

The annual meeting of the Yam Seng Rubber Company, Ltd., was held yesterday at the Stock Exchange Buildings, Dublin, Dr. H. W. Chambre Leech presiding. The other directors present were Messrs. Edward Dillon, R. W. Booth, and A. W. Orr.

The annual report stated that the profit for the year amounted to £11,155 9s.; the balance from last account was £5,765 17s. 11d.; the bonuses forfeited from previous year amounted to £100 8s., and the excess profits duty refunded was £997 2s., making a total of £18,018 16s. 11d., which the directors recommended to be allocated as follows:—To payment of dividends on the Preference Shares at 5 per cent. (less income tax), £3 12s. 1d.; Ordinary Shares at 25 per cent. (free of tax), £10,475 6s. 8d.; balance to next account, £7,541 18s. 2d.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, said that, although they averaged 2½d. per lb. less for their rubber than they did on the previous year, the increased output of 97,111lb. more than counterbalanced the loss. At the end of the year they had ninety coolies less than the year before, and they could have profitably employed one hundred more. Although the health of the labour force had been good during the year, an epidemic of cholera in Madras had seriously interfered with recruiting, and, in common with the rest of the world, they were suffering from the exchange question. Formerly the Straits Settlement dollar was worth nearly two rupees; now the rupee was worth more than the dollar. Consequently the coolies could remit only about half as many rupees to their families in India as they used to do. The result of this was that the Federated Malay States had ceased to be, at any rate for the present, the El Dorado they were. Had they had their full staff of tappers the crop would have been materially increased. The shareholders would probably want to know why the directors were carrying nothing to reserve this year. The reason was that the present reserve was ample for all their wants—viz., to erect a new factory, buildings, instal a water scheme, and bring all immature rubber into bearing. The directors proposed capitalising reserves by distributing a bonus share for each existing share, fully paid and free of cost. This would increase the issued capital to £83,900, which was more in consonance with their actual position, as the actual cost of the estate stood at £74,315 19s. 6d. With a capital of £83,900, the estate costs £49 2s. 1d. per acre, which would compare very favourably with most other well-known rubber companies. They had under consideration the acquiring of another 150 acres of jungle adjoining the older part of the estate.

Mr. Dillon seconded the motion, which was unanimously adopted.

Dividends as recommended in the report were adopted; the retiring directors, Dr. Leech and Mr. Booth, were re-elected; and the auditors, Messrs. Stokes Bros. and Pim, were reappointed. A cordial vote of thanks was passed to the directors and staff, who were congratulated upon the thriving condition of the company.

DOUBLING THE CAPITAL.

At an extraordinary general meeting subsequently held the capital was increased to £85,000 by the creation of 400,000 Ordinary Shares of 2s. each, ranking for dividend and in all other respects pari passu with the existing Ordinary Shares.

MARKET REPORTS.

CATTLE. — WAKEFIELD, Wednesday.—Very small show of cattle at 65/- to 75/- per cwt. live weight. Sheep also scarce at 9/- to 9/6 per stone dead weight. Milch beasts, £35 to £60 each; stores, £25 to £38. Fat beasts, 120; sheep, 41.

GLASGOW, Wednesday.—Scotch cattle of excellent quality, and numbers larger than last week. Quality of Irish cattle not quite so good, and few on market. Sheep in good supply, and some very fine lots forward. In the dead meat section there was a fairly good supply of home meat.

GRAIN.—GLASGOW, Wednesday.—Wheat controlled at fixed prices. Flour—G.R., 44/3; foreign, 46/3 per sack. Maize steady at late rates. Barley quieter, and rather lower. Oats easy. Beans dull. Peas unaltered. Oatmeal very quiet.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES (THE BALTIC), Wednesday.—WHEAT—Allocations comprised a cargo Australian afloat Hull at 61/- per 480lbs. MAIZE nominal. BARLEY dull; Californian afloat 116/- per 448lbs., Canada Western No. 4 February-March 81/-, March-April 80/-. OATS dull; Argentine 42lbs. January-February sellers 60/-, March-April 60/3 per 320lbs.

MARK LANE, Wednesday.—WHEAT—Steady demand; whites delivered up to 76/6, reds 76/6; foreign grades good demand; No. 1 Northern Manitoba 63/6 ex ship, No. 2 62/6 ex ship, No. 3 61/6 ex ship, Australian 67/4½, No. 2 Red Winter 61/6 ex ship. FLOUR—Steady trade; Canadian 46/3 ex store, Minneapolis 46/3 ex store, Iron Duke 46/3 ex store, Australian 46/3 ex store, English G.R. 44/3 ex mills. BARLEY dull; native 95/- to 120/-, Californian 117/- landed, American 82/6 to 83/- landed. OATS quiet; native 63/- to 67/-, Irish 59/- landed, Plate 60/- landed, American white clipped 60/- landed. MAIZE firmly held; few offers; mixed American nominal; Plate 85/- landed.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday.—C.i.f. parcels of WHEAT were not offered. MAIZE was firm for River Plate, with 65/- per qr. still bidding for Government owned in any position, while free parcels May-June shipment offered at 75/- delivered terms, with American mixed shipping or shipped quoted 91/- per qr. c.i.f. basis. MAIZE—Spot parcels still scarce, but American mixed x.g. again offered at 20/3 per 100 lbs. No. 4 Canadian Western BARLEY February-March quoted 80/3 per qr.

PROVISIONS.—DUBLIN POTATO, Wednesday.—Practically no change in values. Only a retail sale for city consumption.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday.—The usual cable advices from Chicago are not to hand owing to delay on the wires, and little alteration can be reported in the BACON situation here. There is a little more inquiry reported in some quarters for fresh parcels of American Wiltshires, the limited supplies of high-class cures forcing buyers on to these, but not much actual increase in business has so far taken place. HAMS firm for short cut, the limited offerings being only sufficient to satisfy a small proportion of the orders on hand, while long cut move but moderately into consumption. Canadian bacon very scarce, while the limited offerings of Irish and Danish continue to be eagerly competed for. EGGS steady for Irish at 32/6 to 33/6, with American 15/- to 17/-, and Egyptian 21/3 per 120.

JAMES J. HALPIN, Wholesale Bacon Merchant, 18-19 Thomas st., Dublin. Telegrams—"Middles." 'Phone 1716. Specialising in O'Mara's, Ltd., products—(Advt.)

DUBLIN VEGETABLE AND FRUIT, Wednesday.—Market gave a fair quantity of cabbage of poor quality and plentiful offering of Swede turnips, but other vegetables in light supply. Sales very moderately supported. Savoy cabbage, 10/- to 15/-, to 26/- to 30/-, and 40/- per load; Yorks, 10/- to 18/-, 30/-, 36/6, and 42/- per load; rhubarb, 2/- to 3/6 and 4/- per dozen bundles; carrots, 1/4 to 1/9 ditto; broccoli, 3/- to 3/4, 4/-, and extras, 5/- per dozen; Swede turnips, 2/2 to 2/8 per cwt.; thyme, 3d. to 6d. and 9d. per bunch. Irish apples still coming forward in liberal quantity; barrels averaged 18/- to 25/- at sales, and kegs, 9/- to 10/-.

DUBLIN FISH, Wednesday.—Fair supplies of country and local trawl and hook fish to hand this morning, also 125 boxes mixed stuff from a steamer. There were 15 packages salmon and 4 chests lobsters also forward. Demand was slow, and prices all round easier, except for large country soles, which were realised to better advantage, viz., 30/- to 50/- per 9 pairs; first quality steamers' averaged 25/- to 35/- per 8 pairs. The average range of values was as follows:—Salmon, 2/10 per lb., turbot, 3/- to 20/- each; brill, 1/6 to 5/- and 6/- each; lobsters, firsts, 20/- to 25/-; seconds, 10/- to 15/-, and small, 8/- to 9/- per 13; large soles, 30/- to 50/-; medium, 15/- to 20/-, and slips, 8/- to 10/- per 9 pairs; large plaice, 4/- to 5/- per 4; medium, 3/- to 4/- per 8. Box fish—Plaice, 40/- to 60/- per half-box; cod, 25/- to 40/-; pollock, 15/- to 17/-; whiting, 10/- to 30/-; congers, 20/- to 40/-; ling, 10/- to 20/-; ray, 10/- to 20/- per half-box.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Wednesday.—Supply fair; moderate demand. Salmon, 3/- to 3/4; salmon trout, 2/6 to 3/-; soles, 1/2 to 1/9; slips, 1/- to 1/6; red mullet, 2/6 per lb.; live eels, 40/-; dead, 20/- per draft; turbot, 11/- to 12/-; brill, 9/- to 10/-; plaice, 7/- to 10/-; halibut, 14/- to 20/-; lemon soles, 15/-; cod, 3/- to 4/-; hake, 6/- to 9/-; haddocks, 2/6 to 5/6 per stone.

BUTTER.—CORK, Wednesday.—Firsts, 304/-; fresh butter, 304/- per cwt.

PRODUCE.—LONDON, Wednesday.—SUGAR—Market unchanged, with only small sales in free parcels. COFFEE—Spot steady, with fair inquiries. Futures steady; March quoted 127/-, May sold 125/9, July quoted 125/6, September 122/9, December sold 118/9 cwt. TEA—In auction some 15,000 packages Indian met a good demand with regard to the finer qualities, but common and thin liquoring grades ruled unsettled and easy in value. Pekoe sold 1/2 to 1/7½, broken ditto 1/4 to 1/9, orange 1/2½ to 2/1½, broken ditto 1/7 to 2/5, Souchong 1/4 to 1/9 per lb. in bond. RICE—Allocations continue below requirements. BRAN remains dull. THE BRITISH MOTOR SPIRIT COMPANY, LIMITED.

The following circular, dated March 3, 1920, has been issued to the shareholders by the Chairman, Mr. A. Armitage:—

Since addressing you at our general meeting on the 12th January last, I now have the pleasure to report to you the following progress:—

Arrangements have been completed for the distribution of the promised bonus of 2¼ new shares for one in the original capital of £50,000.

Shareholders will receive details from the Secretary by post in the course of the next few days.

INCREASE OF CAPITAL.

Following the policy outlined, the capital of the company has been increased to £1,000,000, and arrangements are now complete for the offer on Monday next, the 8th March, of 681,250 shares.

The entire issue has been underwritten, and a considerable amount of this underwriting has been taken firm. The interest has been such that I anticipate a very cordial reception to our prospectus next week.

Shareholders in the original £50,000 capital will be entitled, in addition to the bonus mentioned above, to a preferential allotment of two shares for one in the new issue.

OUR OIL PRODUCTION.

We have employed Mr. Campbell M. Hunter, the well-known oil expert, to report on the new properties, and we have also had the pipe line runs checked by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse, and Co. Mr. Campbell Hunter's report states that the production from six wells on our property of over 2,900 acres at the date we took over was 1,050 barrels a day, and these figures have been checked by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse, and Co. The present output is being sold at $3 to $3.25 a barrel.

We have made arrangements to commence the further active development of our producing acreage, and I shall hope in the next few months to be able to inform you of very interesting developments.

REFINERY.

Colonel Sam Robertson, who was one of the leading engineers in railway construction of the American Expeditionary Force in France, is in charge of the rapid construction of the Louisiana refinery, in which we have a very large interest. This refinery is being erected at Shreveport, in the centre of the Louisiana oilfields. Contracts have been arranged for the deliveries of the equipment, and my cabled information is that we shall commence refining operations this summer. I anticipate further large profits from our holdings in this refinery.

CHAIRMAN TO VISIT THE PROPERTIES.

In my next report I shall be able to speak from actual experience, as I have arranged to sail for America on the 31st inst., in order to personally inspect the properties themselves, and to meet the management and drilling personnel in Okmulgee and Shreveport.

We are moving our offices in London to more commodious premises at 50 Pall Mall, but, in the meantime, pending necessary structural alterations, the new issue will be made from 15A Pall Mall, where advance prospectuses will be available for shareholders on application to the Secretary.

ADELAIDE ROAD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The annual meeting of the Congregation was held on Tuesday, and was largely attended. Rev. R. K. Hanna presided, and the various reports of Church work showed a prosperous year. The income amounted to £2,800, an increase of almost £300 on that for former year. The contributions to missions exceeded £700, to Sustentation Fund £216, to hospitals £105, to the Old Age Fund £57, to Augmentation Fund £90, and to other funds there had been generous responses. The report of the committee showed a balance of £298, and proposed that the church debt should be reduced by £268, leaving it at £200. This report also recommended that the minister's salary should be increased by £100 (making the third increase in three years). The adoption of the reports was moved by Mr. R. D. Megaw, seconded by Mr. J. C. Anderson, J.P., and passed unanimously.

Rev. H. P. Glenn, B.A., the Moderator-Designate, was present, and in a happy speech congratulated the minister and congregation on the results of the past year. He spoke of his interest in this church, in which he had been reared. He thought, however, that on the standard of their giving to other objects, they should contribute £300 to the Sustentation Fund.

Reference was made to the heavy loss the church had suffered during the year through death. Mr. George Bingham and Mr. William Hogg, members of session; Mr. R. W. Pringle, B.L., a member of the committee; Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Ellerker, daughters of former elders, were specially mentioned. A reference was also made to the death of Professor Alex. Macalister, M.D., F.R.S., who had been an elder and superintendent of the Sabbath School previous to his removal to Cambridge, and whose son, Professor R. A. Stewart Macalister, D.Litt., is a member of the present session.

Six new names were added as trustees for the church property to those at present acting (J. C. Anderson and Thomas Brown)—T. M. Batchen, John Gibson, William Hewat, R. D. Megaw, Seton Pringle, A. J. Wallace.

T. D. THOMAS.

"After serving in France I went out East where I contracted Malarial Fever. I left the Army weighing 9 stone 1lb. I am a miner and got work at the pit, but in 10 weeks I only did 22 turns and then I was ordered 12 weeks laying up. I tried everything to get rid of Malaria, but failed. I took Phosferine about 10 weeks ago for the first time, and I have not had Malaria since. I now weigh 10 stone 9lbs. I will recommend Phosferine to all I know who are suffering with Malarial Fever."

22, St. Mary Street, Newport, Mon.

This skilled miner declares that nothing can compare with Phosferine for giving the speedy and lasting relief he experienced in Malarial disorder. Phosferine from the very start re-energized his nerve organisms, and enabled his system to establish that reserve of vital force which makes him equal to all his former activities.

SALES BY PRIVATE TREATY.

FOR SALE.

CABRA CASTLE, THURLES, CO. TIPPERARY.

A COMFORTABLE AND PICTURESQUE RESIDENCE, WITH 144 ACRES OF PRIME LAND.

TO BE SOLD BY PRIVATE TREATY,

CABRA CASTLE,

A DESIRABLE AND SPACIOUS RESIDENCE, PLEASANTLY SITUATED ON THE SUIR, TWO MILES DISTANT FROM THURLES, A FIRST-CLASS MARKET TOWN, ON THE G.S. & W. RAILWAY,

WITH ABOUT 144 ACRES (STATUTE) OF EXCELLENT PASTURE AND TILLAGE LAND UPON WHICH IT STANDS.

DWELLINGHOUSE.

THE DWELLINGHOUSE, a modern building, erected near an ancient Castle of the Butler family, overlooks a large, well-timbered lawn, through which the River Suir flows, and has adjoining Pleasure Grounds and Tennis Court. Beside the Pleasure Grounds is a good Orchard, of about an acre and a-half, and also a well-planted Fruit and Vegetable Garden, of an acre, enclosed by high walls.

The House, in good repair, consists of three floors, and contains Drawingroom, Diningroom, nine Bedrooms, Dressingroom and Lavatory; Pantry, Store Room, Cellar, Kitchen, Scullery, &c. At the immediate rear, in a well-enclosed Yard, forming a large quadrangle, are Stabling (seven loose boxes), Coach House, Harness Room, Boys' Rooms, Corn Loft, Coal House, &c.

FARM YARDS.

THE FARM YARDS comprise: Boiler and Cow Houses, Barn, Sheds, Hay Barn, twenty Loose Boxes, and Workman's Cottage.

THE LANDS.

THE LANDS lie between the Yellow Road and Cabra Road (on which latter are the main entrance and gate lodge) and the roads with the river enclose them, for the most part. The FARM is in pasture, with the exception of a tillage field of about eight acres, is conveniently-divided, well-fenced, and abundantly-watered by the Suir, a mile stretch of which runs through the Lands, affording good Fishing. Upwards of two acres are under ozier beds. Rows of fine Beeches and White Thorn hedges afford adequate shelter to cattle in summer and winter.

An agreement for the purchase of this Holding under the Land Purchase Acts has been filed, and the half-yearly interest payable in lieu of rent is £39 7s. 6d.

This Holding affords ample accommodation without any outlay for a Training Establishment, a Stud Farm, or general farm purposes.

Offers will be received by the undersigned up to the 13th March, 1920.

THURSDAY, 11th MARCH, At One o'Clock, on the Premises, HIGHLY IMPORTANT SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION OF VALUABLE FREEHOLD FARM, WITH GENTLEMAN'S RESIDENCE THEREON, KNOWN AS DRUMDERG,

The Property of Wm. West-Hurst, Esq., Dublin.

This valuable Residential Farm contains 90 acres, statute or thereabouts, held in fee-simple, free of rent for ever, is situate, about two miles from Lisbellaw (G.N.R. Station), on leading road to Tempo. The Land is all of the very best; rich, deep, dry upland, well suited for either tillage or grass, is in prime condition, well laid out, fenced, sheltered, timbered, has a river boundary, and about five acres of splendid turbary within the ambit. The dwelling, surrounded by fine old trees, is situate on a pleasing eminence on the centre of the farm, approached by good avenue, with gate lodge at entrance, is a commodious two-storey residence, containing 11 rooms. The out-offices are excellent, all two-storey, lofted and slated, form two large enclosed yards, and comprise 24 cow byre, four horse stable, two loose houses, coach-house, garage, harness room, young cattle houses, turf house, boiling house, piggeries, fowl house, etc. The hay shed is 10ft. x 30ft.

The above, owing to freedom from rent, quality of land and buildings, conveniences, and location, forms one of the most desirable residential properties in Fermanagh, that part of the land for tillage this season is all ploughed.

For full particulars and Conditions of Sale apply to
